

THE BEAVERTON REVIEW

Entered as second-class mail matter December 8, 1923, at the postoffice at Beaverton, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

ISSUED EVERY FRIDAY AT BEAVERTON, OREGON

J. H. Hulett Editor

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

Per year (in advance) . . . $1.00
Not in advance . . . . . 1.50

Typographical Error

The typographical error is a slipper thing and you can hunt till you are dizzy, but it somehow will get by. Till the forms are off the presses it is strange how still it keeps. It shrinks down into a corner and it never stirs or peeps. That typographical error, too small for human eyes, . . .

DAD'S STORY

I did not have much love for my work in the Income Tax Division. I had less for the tasks assigned me in the Third Auditor's Office. True, in my mind's eye I could see about all the transactions actually being done as they were reported by the Disbursing Agents, as those who spend the Government's money are called.

A Mr. Brown had just preceded me in being transferred from the Income Tax Division to the Auditor's office. His daily greeting each morning was, "Well, boys, two plus two are still four, this morning."

Background and foreground should be given careful consideration in taking pictures of animals and fowl at a zoo. In other words, try to get environment in your pictures—natural settings. Don't just walk up to quently. Then the matter of computation. We went carefully over each figure, number, or amount concerning money, which was the commodity in which we were interested. We worked in co-operation with four others when it came to checking for accuracy. The clerk, the stenographer, the section head, the Chief of Division, and the Auditor.

When the orderly showed up I went through the checks and found there in what were supposed to be cancelled checks several hundred dollars of checks endorsed in blank and negotiable. Well, I'll admit that the thought came to me that I should put those checks in my pocket, take them home with me and the next day cash them at some corner one at a time, endorsing some fictitious name, and there would not be a soul who could ever trace those checks to me. But then the thought came, that man who had drawn those checks would have to make their amount good. Why should I injure him? He never did anything to me.

I reported the checks to the section head, who conferred with the assistant chief of the division. He called the office of the Comptroller of the Treasurer, who sent a messenger after them. They were cancelled and sent then to the Disbursing Agent in California. They eventually landed back among the quarter's cancelled checks.

People marvel at the extreme accuracy of the Government auditors. Were you to work there for awhile you would understand. In that office there were five who went over all accounts. First there was the clerk who did the actual work of digging out every transaction that had been reported. He first looked up "authorities" for making the expenditure. If it was a plain open and shut case he passed on the authority for making or charging up the expenditure.

In case he was not sure, he went to one of the head clerks, so called, though they were only clerks who had had more experience in such matters. They might decide the case between themselves or they might appeal to the head of the section. The head of the section was, in our case, Mr. Hawley. The three of us went into a huddle and in case we were undecided, we appealed to the Chief of the Division, and he often referred the matter to the Indian Bureau where they went over it. These Indian Bureau officials often came to the Third Auditor's office, though in doing so they had more than a mile to come.

First, there was the authority for making the transaction. And we were each of us held responsible so far as the authority went; we interpreted the transaction as one having proper authority or one which did not have proper authority. Sometimes the Disbursing Agent would apply to the Indian Bureau and get proper authority when our office had disallowed some expenditure. That was done frequently.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD
SPRINGTIME IN THE ZOO

Get environment in your zoo pictures. It adds much to their interest.

WHAT is it we always look forward to seeing in the spring? A teacher asked her class of eight-year-olds. "The animals in the zoo," piped up Mickey. Mickey might have added "and snapshooters," for there are in this world a few people who park their cameras on the closet shelf at the first sign of winter and, like the bear in the zoo, it hibernates until the arrival of spring.

If you own one of these hibernating cameras you had better get it out, dust it off, carefully clean the lens, load it up with film and be on hand at your nearest zoo when the keeper lets his animal family out of the indoor winter quarters to the outdoor cages. There's a real chance for some great pictures and a great chance for some real pictures.

There's one great advantage in taking animal pictures at the zoo in early spring. The foliage on the trees is not as heavy as it becomes later in the summer so your light is much better.

Background and foreground should be given careful consideration in taking pictures of animals and fowl at a zoo. In other words, try to get environment in your pictures—natural settings. Don't just walk up to quently. Then the matter of computation. We went carefully over each figure, number, or amount concerning money, which was the commodity in which we were interested. We worked in co-operation with four others when it came to checking for accuracy. The clerk, the stenographer, the section head, the Chief of Division, and the Auditor.

When the orderly showed up I went through the checks and found there in what were supposed to be cancelled checks several hundred dollars of checks endorsed in blank and negotiable. Well, I'll admit that the thought came to me that I should put those checks in my pocket, take them home with me and the next day cash them at some corner one at a time, endorsing some fictitious name, and there would not be a soul who could ever trace those checks to me. But then the thought came, that man who had drawn those checks would have to make their amount good. Why should I injure him? He never did anything to me.

I reported the checks to the section head, who conferred with the assistant chief of the division. He called the office of the Comptroller of the Treasurer, who sent a messenger after them. They were cancelled and sent then to the Disbursing Agent in California. They eventually landed back among the quarter's cancelled checks.

People marvel at the extreme accuracy of the Government auditors. Were you to work there for awhile you would understand. In that office there were five who went over all accounts. First there was the clerk who did the actual work of digging out every transaction that had been reported. He first looked up "authorities" for making the expenditure. If it was a plain open and shut case he passed on the authority for making or charging up the expenditure.

In case he was not sure, he went to one of the head clerks, so called, though they were only clerks who had had more experience in such matters. They might decide the case between themselves or they might appeal to the head of the section. The head of the section was, in our case, Mr. Hawley. The three of us went into a huddle and in case we were undecided, we appealed to the Chief of the Division, and he often referred the matter to the Indian Bureau where they went over it. These Indian Bureau officials often came to the Third Auditor's office, though in doing so they had more than a mile to come.

First, there was the authority for making the transaction. And we were each of us held responsible so far as the authority went; we interpreted the transaction as one having proper authority or one which did not have proper authority. Sometimes the Disbursing Agent would apply to the Indian Bureau and get proper authority when our office had disallowed some expenditure. That was done frequently.

over huggles with the idea, I suppose of teaching them to jump fences. I had about a mile to walk to the parking car line and sometimes the car would be late. In that case I had to call the office and have a messenger (at the door) tap and or I would have to go to the office of the Chief Clerk, Willmet, for an excuse before I drove us

We finally gave up our Virginia home, and took a transfer to the Indian Service, being assigned to Taholah, across the continent was some jump, and to pay our tickets took just about all I had. The wife stopped in Michigan for a time and I went on. There was no housekeeper at that school, so I could hold the job down alone. We stored our furniture in Baccroft, Virginia, and after I had been at Taholah some two or three months the wife and furniture came on. When I left Taholah I sold the furniture for just about what the freight across the continent cost me.

When we decided to take a job again in the Indian Service there were several places we could go. One clerk in Wyoming wanted to trade jobs with me. Two day schools were also without teachers. It was on the advice of Oscar Price then Third Auditor, that I came to the Pacific Coast. It was in 1915 and he had taken a trip to San Francisco Fair, and was full of enthusiasm for the beauties of the Oregon country. Of course I was not going to Oregon, but to somewhat the same climate.

At Taholah I found a Superintendent by the name of Garber. His uncle was in Washington and seemed not at all a bad sort of fellow, but Emory was quite different from his uncle.

LOCAL NEWS

Rabbit hay—Straw—Feeder—Peat litter—Washeo Seed & Feed Co.—adv

Robert Myers, Roberta McCluskey, Lorraine Denney, Maxine and David Cady are recovering from the measles.

The Junior Oddfellows of Portland will put on a degree and grill at the Tigard I.O.O.F. hall Saturday evening, February 22. All Oddfellows are invited to attend.

The Washington County Three Link Association put on a program consisting of a playlet, musical, and other numbers, at the I.O.O.F. home in Portland, Sunday, February 16. There was a large attendance present.

J. H. Hulett and his sisters-in-law, Mrs. Eva Broadway, Mrs. Emma Drake, and Mrs. Bell Mills visited over the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelley at Nelscott. The ocean was calm, and the weather on the beach warm.

Miss Marian Hagg and Miss Roberta Whatley, students of Beaverton high school, will be given an audition over the Washington County Amateurs' program, which is being sponsored by American Legion Post No. 6, through KGW. The program will be given in the near future.

The Misses Marian Boyson, Ethel

DOG LICENSE NOTICE

The license fees for licenseable dogs over the age of eight months and for such dogs owned or kept within the State of Oregon over 30 days for the year 1936 are: Male Dog . . . . . $1.09
Female Dog . . . . . $1.59
Spayed Female Dog . . . . . $1.09
After March 1st, 1936, the license fee is $1.09 more for failure to procure license for the dogs above stated.

Also, after March 1st, 1936, the fee is $1.09 more for failure to procure licenses for licenseable dogs becoming over 3 months of age after March 1st, 1936, and for dogs over eight months old owned or kept within the State of Oregon over 30 days after March 1st 1936.

Licenses may be ordered by mail. State the name and address of the person to whom the license is to be issued, and the sex of the dog.

Fees are payable to: EDW. C. LUCE, County Clerk, Hillsboro, Oregon.

Published by order of the County Court of Washington County, Oregon. adv c9-11

Hunt in the West, Katherine Fisher, Marian Metzer and Katherine Denney of Beaverton and Miss Phyllis Ferguson of Oswego were guests at the home of Mrs. P. P. Fors (Faith Burk), a former teacher in the local high school, at the home of Mrs. Ferguson, Miss Ferguson is a member of the West Linn High school debate team.

Summons in the County Court of the State of Oregon (by Washington County) against the Plaintiff, vs. Defendant, D. Hanson, Defendant.

TO HANNAH D. HANSON: You are hereby notified, by summons, and answer the complaint filed against you, in the above entitled cause on or before the 7th day of March, 1936, said date being after four weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, the date of the first publication thereof being February 7th, 1936, and the date of the last publication thereof being March 6th, 1936; and if you fail so to appear, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in his complaint, to-wit: For a decree dissolving the marriage and marriage contract existing between you and the plaintiff, upon the grounds of adultery.

This Summons is served upon you by publication thereof in the Beaverton Review a legal newspaper published in Washington County, Oregon, pursuant to order of the Honorable R. Frank Peters, Judge of the above entitled Court, made, rendered and dated February 1st, 1936. Hagley & Hare, Attorneys for Plaintiff, Resident Attorneys, State of Oregon, Post Office Address, First National Bank Bldg., Hillsboro, Oregon. adv c10-11

SALES Ford SERVICE

Goodrich Tires Battery Service Accessories Greasing Auto Truck, and Tractor Repairing

BOB JOHNSTON

Texaco Fire Chief Phone 0103 Products Beaverton, Ore

The Oregonian

Great Newspaper of the Northwest ARTHUR MULHOLLAND Auto Route and Agency Beaverton Oregon

For information regarding service or subscriptions: Phone Beaverton 7303 Residence and office: Corner, Second and Hall

Business Places To Patronize IN BEAVERTON!

STUDIO BARBER SHOP FIRST CLASS WORK AT REASONABLE PRICES E. D. Van METER, Prop.

W. E. PEGG UNDERTAKER AND EMBALMER Grange Building - - - - - Beaverton

Alt Heidelberg Beer On Draught Try us for Chicken Dinners and Barbecue Sandwiches FREE DANCING OLD HEIDELBERG PARK

BEAVERTON LUMBER COMPANY Estimates Gladly Furnished Phone Beaverton 6202

NOTICE TO CREDITORS In the County Court of the State of Oregon for Washington County. In the Matter of the Estate of Gladys L. Fleming, Deceased. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Justus L. Fleming, has been by the county court of the State of Oregon, for Washington county, duly appointed administrator of the estate of Gladys L. Fleming, deceased, and has duly qualified as such administrator. All persons having claims against said estate are required to present proper vouchers, at my residence, Beaverton, Oregon, Route 2, at the office of the undersigned, in Hillsboro, Oregon, within six months from date hereof.

Dated and first published, January 24, 1936. Date of last publication, February 21, 1936.

Justus L. Fleming, Administrator of the Estate of Gladys L. Fleming, Deceased. M. B. Dump, residence and address, Hillsboro, Oregon, Attorney for said Estate and Administrator. adv c 8-12

The Review can do That printing for you.

Rev. I. N. Demy says: I have found nothing in the past 20 years that can take the place of Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills. They are a sure relief for my headache.

Sufferers from Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Backache, Sciatica, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Neuritis, Muscular Pains, Periodic Pains, write that they have used Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills with better results than they had even hoped for.

Countless American housewives would no more think of keeping house without Dr. Miles Anti-Pain Pills than without flour or sugar. Keep a package in your medicine cabinet and save yourself needless suffering. At Drug Stores—25c and $1.00

DR. MILES' ANTI-PAIN PILLS

Beaverton Barber Shop

C. J. STEVENS, PROPRIETOR -SATISFACTION GUARANTEED-

OPTOMETRY Glasses, Fitted or Repaired Our Specialty DR. A. E. WILSON Beaverton Oregon

Signal Batteries Lee Tires & Tubes Competitive Prices Alexander's Super Service Station SIGNAL GAS AND OILS A-1 Lubrication, $8.50 Sterling and Pennzoll Beaverton, Ore.

E. L. HOWARD Agent For THE OREGON JOURNAL Phone Beaverton 0618

AFTER THE HONEYMOON

By Geoff Hayes