To Spike Tooth Wild Meadows

Lakeview—Robert L. Weir of Crooked Creek and W. W. Vaughn superintendent of the Chewaucan Land and Cattle company, will try tearing up their wild hay meadows with a heavily constructed spike tooth harrow, following word received by County Agent Victor Johnson that such practice has resulted in increased yields of wild hay for ranchers of Carbon county, Wyoming. Mr. Weir has already purchased such a harrow and plans to use it this spring.

PROMINENT CITIZEN CALLED EARLY

Seattle. Selling that, he came to Portland and offered his services to the Oregon-Washington Railway and Transportation Co. That was in 1920.

In 1924 he purchased the bankrupt stock of the firm of Schultz Brothers at Forest Grove. Almost immediately after the bids were opened he was made an attractive offer for his purchase but he declined and spent some years in that city. He sold out there at about the time of the big Florida boom and left for the sunny south. Not liking conditions there and also on account of his son's health, he sold out his investments there and started back for the Pacific coast.

At Los Angeles he bought a grocery and stayed for a short time, but in less than a year from the time he left he was back in Oregon.

His next move was to purchase the Cady building in Beaverton. He then purchased the Beaverton Market & Grocery from Howard Morrison and his continued that business until his death.

Since coming to Beaverton he has taken an active part in the affairs of the community and to mention all his public relationships would take more space than we have. He was always on the budget committee of the school district, and also of the city. He served one term as councilman and in 1934 he was selected a member of the Board of Directors of the United Grocers. At the time of his death he was Vice-President of that organization. Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Congregational church here with interment in Crescent Grove.

Near surviving relatives include his wife, Louise C., his son, Maurice, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Manning, all of Beaverton; three sisters, Mrs. W. F. Mann, Mrs. F. H. Penline and Mrs. Roy Clark, all of Portland; and one brother, Norman, of Clatskanie, Ore.

The heartfelt sympathy of the whole community goes out to the bereaved family, who have lost a husband, a son, a father, and a brother, in the passing of this man.
