ATTENTION VOTERS

If I am wrong, show me where—

1st—Only the tee-totaler is fit to handle the tools of our day. For this is a machine age and the tools are engines of death when they run wild. How shall we keep going the stream-lined trains and all the rest of these new wonders, if state promoted liquor is to turn our High and College men into drunken sots? Where the men to work out the new formulas in the laboratories; where the army of experts to build up and keep running a world of complicated processes. If human life is to be shunted into the asylums and penitentiaries by the drink route?

2—State liquor aims to make a record. Each month larger and larger sales and out of what? Out of the first-time drinkers at one end of the line and the broken and besotted at the other end. And with more and more cash going to the state for drink, what of our business men? For your dollar cannot buy drink and also buy from the butcher, the baker, and the candle-stick maker. Every dollar spent for state liquor is a dollar lost to legitimate trade. And yet after the state has robbed the merchant, it turns around and taxes him to keep up the jails and pens where lie the victims.

3—The folly of it. We High-school them and College them. We train them and give them a job. Then put the stuff before them and finally kick them out as unfit. For office and mill and mine must have sober men.

And now to the man who is trying to quit and finds himself already in the coils—yes, great God has a life for you, but you will let his plan lapse. Even this—"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." Believe on his blood as washing your life page clean of sin-guilt. Then open the door. Let him in to become life to you. Mighty; strong; wise; eternal.
