Many Pupils Have Perfect Record

2 STUDENTS MOVE

Third, Sixth, And Eighth Grades Earn Half Holidays

During the past month the grade school had an attendance of 98 per cent, with 234 students neither absent nor tardy. Five parents visited the school and six new students enrolled during the past month.

The grade school cafeteria will open this Thursday.

Last week four 4-H clubs were organized, two of which were "Clothing Problems," one "Sewing 1," and a "Handicraft" club. The leaders are Miss Wagner, Miss Lite, Miss Schrader, and Mr. Phelps.

The first grade has completed their Pre-Primer and are eagerly starting to read the Basic Reader. An Indian project in which language and art are correlated is holding the interest of this group.

An arithmetic drill is being conducted in the second grade. They are also making a border which depicts the story of Thanksgiving in black and white. A wigwam large enough for any member of the class has been made.

The third grade is making very attractive posters dealing with the various types of homes in different lands. Thanksgiving turkeys are being completed in order to make a border in the room. Last week all the members of the class who had obeyed all the rules of a conduct chart were given a free period and and the use of the cabinet of stamps. The third grade has a total of twenty perfect days which entitles them to a half-holiday.

The fifth grade has completed a Thanksgiving border. It is a free-hand cutting in black, white and grey, showing the Pilgrims on their way to church.

Irene Bigelow and Junior Roberts of the sixth grade have moved to Portland. Both sides in the spelling contest are even. The captains are Marjorie Bozick and Janet Ackerman. The losing side will treat the winners with a Christmas party.

The sixth grade also has 20 perfect days and so they are entitled to a half holiday.

Last Friday, the seventh grade grammar club, "The Happy-Go-Luckies" held its first meeting. The meeting was called to order by the president, Louis Wilson. After the business meeting was adjourned, the entertainment committee took charge. A program had been planned by the committee. It consisted of: a story by Louise Howard; a poem by Lucille Kepler; a pantomime by George DesBrisay, Virginia Drissian and John Bezich; a poem by Thelma Cullen.

The eighth grade pupils have completed a drawing of the tooth. The eighth grade is another room which may have a half holiday because it also as twenty perfect days.

NEW MEMBERS WELCOMED TO CLUB

Mrs. George Blasser was hostess with a luncheon and cards at the home of Mrs. Wood, for the "500" club, Friday. A special welcome was extended to the new members, Mrs. Jay Gibson, and Mrs. Ruby Jannsen. Visiting guests were; Mrs. F. H. Schoene and Mrs. J. Scott. Mrs. E. E. Stipe held the high score and Mrs. Gertrude McCormic, low.

IN APPRECIATION

To the many who loyally gave me their suport and to all who saw fit to give me their vote in the late election, I wish to offer my gratitude and appreciation. I wish to assure them, and everyone in Washington county that I will do my best to so conduct the office of assessor that they will have no regrets.

—J. E. Carpenter.

Miss Helen Jones has moved from her home on Watson street to Portland.

CONTEST TO BE GIVEN IN HIGH SCHOOLS

Nearly $1400 in prize money will be paid to high school students of the nation in the 8th annual essay contest of the Gorgas Memorial Institute this year, according to information received by Mrs. Sadie Orr Dunbar executive secretary of the Oegon Tuberculosis Association, who is also a director of the Gorgas Institute.

The memorial is intended to perpetuate the memory of Dr. W. Gorgas, credited with wiping out yellow fever in the vicinity of Havana, Cuba and in the Panama Canal zone.

The subject for this year will be, "The Importance of Mosquito Control and the Gorgas Memorial". The first national prize will be $500 in cash plus $200 travel allowance to Washington D. C. to receive the prize. Second prize is $150 and the third prize, $50. The winner in each state will receive $10. Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Doherty donated the prize money.

The contest is open to seniors, and juiors i high school, according to Admiral Cary T. Grayson, national director of the institute.

The essays should show "an accurate knowledge of the methods of mosquito control, the diseases transmitted by them, and the importance of the Gorgas memorial in relation to research on these subjects," according to the announcement.

The deadline for the contest is January 15. Additional information on the contest may be obtained from the Gorgas Memorial Institute, Washington D. C.

4-H DAIRY CLUBS AID TO THE COMMUNITY

A splendid record of improvement as well as a definite influence on the agriculture of the community is reported by L. E. Reynolds, leader of the Orenco-Schiite 4-H Dairy Club in his report of the club's activities for 1936. Mr. Reynold's writes, "This completes the fifth year of this club's activities and all of the animals owned by the club members are now purebreds. This condition applies to the families of these members, for the whole community has improved the quality of their dairy animals due to the club's activities."

It has ayways been a policy of this department, states Francis, to have the 4-H projects in direct line with the agricultural program of the county and its respective communities. The progress report of this one club is indicative of what 4-H club work can accomplish.

Similar records of improvement have been cited from time to time in connection with sheep, hog, corn, and potato projects, all of which are playing important parts in both the 4-H club program and the agricultural program of the county.

MEN NEEDED TO SERVE IN ARMY

Major H. D. Babnall, the Army Recruiting Officer, 323 New Post Office Building, Portland, announced that a small additional quota has been received for Hawaiian service

Vacancies are open for choice of either the Infantry or Medical Department.

The tour of duty in the Hawaiian Islands is for two years. The applicant enlists for 3 years, spends the first two years of his enlistment in Hawaii and then is returned to the United States to serve his final year before discharge, according to Major Bagnall.

Major Bagnall states that applications must be made at either the main office or one of the sub-stations prior to 4:00 p.m. November 14th in order to be accepted on this quota and, the the quota will automatically be closed on that date and hour.

Applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 35; without dependents; in good physical condition and must furnish references from reputable well known citizens as to their character and standing in the community in which they live. Men with police records will not be accepted for enlistment in the United States Army.

Eligible young men desirous of availing themselves of this opportunity to visit this land of eternal sunshine with all expenses paid should contact the nearest Army Recruiting Office without delay. The Portland Recruiting Office is in 323 New Post Office Building.

4-H CLUBBERS HONORED AT LUNCHEON

The Hillsboro Chamber of Commerce is entertaining at its regular luncheon Monday, Nov 16, Clayton Nyburg, Joe Berger and Donal McIntosh three Washington county 4-H club members who have brought considerable honor to the county as a result of their 4-H work. O. M. Plummer manager of the Pacific Livestock Exposition will be the speaker.

Clayton Nyburg who was named as one of the outstanding 4-H boys in Oregon for 1936 has an outstanding record of achievement and leadership. Joe Berger and Donal McIntosh of the Hazeldale 4-H clubs were members of the northwest champion agricultural demonstration team and brought to Oregon for the fourth consecutive time the Plummer trophy.

4-H club work, according to L. E. Francis, assistant county agent, who is in charge of the program, is playing a vital role in Washington county's rural communities. The business men of the county have been very active in their support of the program which would be of interest to the businessmen.

Dressed Turkey Grades Set

Washington county turkey raisers will be interested in the tentative U. S. standards and grades for dressed turkeys. These tentative new grades have been recently compiled by the bureau of agricultural economics United States Department of Agriculture and are now being used in the Federal and Federal-State turkey grading work.

All birds are classified as follows: Young Hens—Female birds usually less than 1 year old, well-meated with flexible breast bone; Young Toms—Male birds usually less than 1 year old, soft meated with flexible breast bone; Old Hens—Mature female birds more than one year old, with toughened flesh and hardened breast bone; Old Toms—Mature male birds more than 1 year old, with toughened flesh and hardened breast bone.

The market grades for all of the above classifications are U. S. Prime or Grade A., U. S Choice or Grade B. U. S. Commercial or Grade C. Specifications for these grades are as follows:

U. S. Prime or Grade A. Soft meated bird with entire carcass well covered with fat. Must be well bled, well dressed, with breast practically free of pinfeathers and only few scattered pinfeathers over rest of carcass. Crop must be empty. Only very slight flesh or skin bruises, abrasions, or discolorations permitted of such defects. Slightly dented, with breast practically free breast bones permitted, but no crooked breast that would interfere with the slicing of the meat, or other deformities allowed. Broken wings above the wing tips or broken legs not permitted. A dislocated leg or wing permitted if only slightly bruised. Birds with crops properly removed and sewed up may be included in this grade. Must be dry picked or semi-scalded and must be dry packed. Due allowance is made for fleshing conditions characteristic of age and sex.

U. S. Choice or Grade B. Bird with fairly well-fleshed breast, and with carcass fairly well covered with fat. Must be fairly well bled and dressed, and may show scattered pinfeathers over the entire carcass. Crops must be practically free of feed. Slight flesh or skin bruises permitted, but not more than three such defects on any bird. Slight skin abrasions or discolorations permitted. Abrasions or tears over three inches in diameter not allowed, unless properly sewn up. Dislocated or slightly crooked breast bones or other slight deformities permitted. One broken wing or one broken leg permitted if bone does not protrude through the flesh and if not showing excessive bruise or blood clot. Due allowance made for fleshing conditions characteristic of age and sex.

U. S. Commercial or Grade C. Bird which may be poorly fleshed and with carcass poorly covered with fat. May show evidence of poor bleeding and have numerous pinfeathers over the entire carcass. Skin abrasions and discoloration permitted. Hunch back or other deformities allowed if birds are fairly well fleshed Birds badly bruised so as to make any appreciable part of the carcass inedible not permitted. Birds showing emaciation or external evidence of disease or other condition which would render them unwholesome or unfit for human food not permitted. Due allowance is made for fleshing conditions characteristic of age and sex.

ST. MARYS WINS IN FOOTBALL GAME

Playing to a capacity crowd on Armistice Day, St. Marys football eleven, led by their triple threat back, Ernest Stassens battled the Lebanon high Lions to a scoreless tie.

Outweighed twenty pounds to the man St. Marys forward wall played its best game of the year. Led by De Pein, center, they held their heavier opponents to three first downs and 118 yards, while the Saints amassed ten first downs and 198 yards through scrimmage.

Three times the Saints launched at the goal line, only to be beaten back. By end runs and line smashes the Saints reached the four yard line on their first drive. Here the Lions dug in and held them for downs. The Saints second drive ended on the nine yard line, when a fifteen yard penalty was called for holding.

The final drive made by the Saints was in the third quarter. Completing three passes they brought the ball to the twenty yard line:. The Lions from Lebanon again dug in and held them. On the last down the Saints through a long pass which was grounded over the goal line.

The fourth quarter found the Saints on the defensive. Lebanon was trying desperately to score. McGowan of Lebanon on a reverse skirted left end for forty yards. Then a long pass brought them to the thirty yard line. Here the Saints braced and held them for downs.

Ernie Stassen, St. Marys back, standing on his own twenty, booted the pigskin on an end over end punt that caught the Lebanon safety unawares The ball rolled out in the coffin corner on the two yard line. It was a beautiful piece of punting by Stassens, who played a bang-up game all day. Undaunted however the Lions threw two passes and made a long run to the two yard line. Only two minutes remained only two yards to go. Here St. Marys line rose to a grand defense and held. Four times they hurled Lebanon's thrusts back. On the last attempt McGowan of Lebanon fumbled and in a mad scramble for the ball, Webb of St. Marys fell on the pigskin over the goal line.

Here the ball game ended. The fans were rushing about wildly The tumult was great as few realized what had happened. Everyone thought the Lions had scored, and great was their disappointment when they saw Webb come up with the ball.

Great credit belongs to De Pein, Reynolds, and Nyssen who played fine defensive games. Webb and Stassens played the best game of their career.

St. Marys will wind up the season on Thanksgiving when they meet Toledo High. The game will be played at St. Marys starting at 2 p.m.
