Things Worth Owning:

First-class bed.
Comfortable chair.
Sharp razor.
Good pipe.
Comfortable shoes.
New-model automobile.
Accurate watch.
Electric clock.
Adequate refrigerator.
Good reading lamp.
Modern radio.
Small library of good books.
Typewriter in good condition.
Ample supply of clothes.
Electric fan.

The foregoing items are a better investment than any stock or bond listed on the exchange. They pay dividends out of all proportion to their cost. Anyone who chooses to go without these common essentials of pleasant living in order to "save" money is making a mistake. A comfortable bed is worth more than $4 a year, which is all that a safe hundred-dollar bond yields.

FOUR SETS BROTHERS JOIN ARMY

Major H. D. Bagnall, the Army Recruitnig Officer in Portland announced today the enlistment of the fourth set of brothers through his office during the past 30 days.

The new soldiers are Francis L. and Ray D. Redding, sons of Mr. Loranze Redding of Prineville, Oregon, who were enlisted November 20th. These brothers were forwarded to Portland for enlistment by the Sub-Station Commander at Bend, Oregon. Sergeant Sam Gimpelson.

The Allbright brothers from Merford and the Istad brothers from Astoria all elected to serve with the Infantry in Hawaii; the Keene brothers from Portland selected the 6th Engineers at Fort Lewis, Washington while the Redding brothers elected to serve with the famous 7th regiment of Infantry, stationed at Vancouver Barracks, Washington.

A fifth set, the Hogan brothers, are awaiting receipt of character references and the usual confidential reports at Vancouver Barracks will very likely be enlisted within the next few days, Major Bagnall said.

In the opinion of the Major, the enlistment of five sets of brothers through one district during a period of 30 days is quite unusual and is believed to be an unprecedented record.

Us: "Ask me any question and I'll give you a joke for an answer."

High School Notes

To arouse enthusiasm for the Banks-Beaverton football game was the purpose of the student body meeting last Thursday. The song leader and yell leaders led the students in several songs and yells.

Beaverton won the football game with Banks by a score of 18 to 0. The entire second team had an opportunity to meet the Banks regulars during the battle.

Many noble schemes for advertising the coming game with Tigard on Thanksgiving day were discussed by the student council. The team expects to clear their debt with the gate receipts this year. A group of students are going to whitewash footprints on the streets.

TWENTY-THREE AT TEND BIBLE CLASS

Twenty-three young people were present at the Saturday evening Bible Class at the R. B. McMinn home. After a round of choruses Mr. W. E. Garnett continued the study from the 21st chapter Matthew. Sunday evening the young people were in charge of the services at the Fairvale Community church with Bob Denney as the speaker. Arnold Garnett, Bill Schmilt and Harold Mayer of Portland gave several vocal selections and Curtis Gumm gave a saxaphone solo. Charles West also assisted in the service.

Jack Thorne of the local bank is spending Thanksgiving with his parents in Salem.

Right Out Of The Air

By R F SERVICE

Sedley Brown and Allie Lowe Miles, conductors of the "Husbands and Wives" program, are engaged in a search for the "Happiest" and "Unhappiest" couples in the country. One couple was entered for the "Happiest" nomination without knowing it themselves. They were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Johnstown, Pa., a blind couple who were on the program. Mrs. Brown's statement, "They say that love is blind, but we who are blind know it isn't so," put them in the running.

 Virginia Sims has been picked as "Miss Radio of 1937" by Nils T. Granlund, showman and famous authority on feminine beauty. This is an annual selection based on comeliness of face and figure. Last year's winners were Harriet Hilliard, Helen Marshall and Dorothy Lamour, all New York studio stars, but the current crown goes to Chicago's Miss Sims who is featured with Kay Kyser's band on the Football Revue heard over Columbia every Saturday night

Virginia Sims

 Most famous baby of the year is David Ozzie Nelson, whose mother is Harriet Hilliard, lovely blond singer of radio and the screen, and whose father is the orchestra maestro, Ozzie Nelson. David Ozzie is the reason that Harriet has been away so long from her regular Sunday night spot with Ozzie and Bob Ripley.

Ozzie Nelson

 Harry Von Zell, one of radio's outstanding announcers, is reaching his peak in "Voice Impersonations" on the Stoopnagle and Budd Sunday shows over NBC. On a recent broadcast Von Zell did nine different voices.

 Opera stars who have sung with Vincent Lopez' orchestra in the Saturday night Speedshow, express amazement that a popular band could play such unusual accompaniments. "I don't care whether it's swing, symphony or opera, a good musician can play it," says Lopez.

 Graham McNamee is back as straight man and Don Voorhees is back as the band leader for Ed Wynn on his Saturday night NBC programs, which gives Wynn the same setup as he had when he first started on radio several years ago. McNamee is considered the best straight man in radio, not only by Wynn but by every other comedian with whom he has worked.

Graham McNamee

 Listeners who hear Agnes Moorehead, comedienne heard Sundays over CBS with Phil Baker often picture her as being a termagant. The accompanying photograph will show that this talented young actress is far from that. She had extensive stage training before she entered radio years ago. In addition to the role with Baker, where she is called upon to play as many as ten different women each broadcast, she is also heard in several straight dramatic roles on both networks.

Agnes Moorehead

 "News of Youth," heard Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays over CBS, is a program that while intended for children, is attracting a large adult audience. Peter Dixon, who writes and produces the program, believes that youngsters like to hear about both children and adults who have done unusual things. Therefore, he is featuring them in his interviews.

Peter Dixon

 Charles Martin, who presents the "Three Minute Thrills" on the Tuesday night Leo Reisman program over NBC, believes in "making them up." One week he has a famous prize fighter on his program, and the next week a ra[illegible]an.
