

The Cook's Nook

"Toppers" Will High Hat Your Very Best Dishes For Garnish!

Top it off with a tip-top topping, and be top of the list of cooks! Sounds like whimsy but it's fact, and refers to the top of your dishes—your cakes and pies and puddings and salad. Appearance isn't everything, says your maternal grandmother, but fine feathers make fine birds say your paternal ancestor. Besides, it's the top you are first.

Toppings range from sauce and the whipped cream variations to the garnish. What better garnish than fruit, with an occasional how to nutmeats or cocoanut, perhaps? It looks prettiest, tastes best. Of course, use the fruit inside your dish—and let that fruit often be bananas; they do "cut up" in a topping way! You can flute them simply by running the prongs of a fork down peeled bananas lengthwise, then slicing them crosswise into golden discs or "on the bias" for petal-like pieces. They will whip into a cream of their own or into whipped cream or mayonnaise—these are impractical, but not half so important as their own mellow goodness when it's inside the dish.

Then there's the glistening orange, and the grapefruit our Florida cooks use so much skill; ever try citrus slices on top and inside shortcake and pie as well as salad? Turn to Arabia and the dusky date pops up to be sliced or "chunked". Grapes and cranberries and rose apples lend the ruddy tones for salads.

Sun Flower Cake

1 1/2 cups flour
2 tps. baking powder
1/4 tsp. soda
1/4 tsp. salt
3/4 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup orange juice and grated rind of 1/2 orange

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Cream butter; add sugar slowly; then beaten eggs and orange rind. Add dry ingredients alternately with orange juice. Bake in 2 layers in moderate oven (375° F.) about 30 minutes. Spread orange filling between layers. Frost with Orange Frosting. Decorate with orange sections.

Black and White Shortcakes

Individual devil's food and banana shortcakes will make a party dessert in a jiffy if you use the packaged devil's food mix, based on the 200-year old Washington family recipe for "Black Cake". Add 3/4 cup of water to the contents of the package, mix and bake in greased muffin tin, in moderate oven (350° F.) about 20 minutes. Split each cake into half to form two layers. Spread bottom layer with whipped cream and cover with sliced ripe bananas. Place second layer of cake on top, and spread with whipped cream. Slice banana on top of cream, and put additional slices of the fruit on plate in a ring around the cake.

Orange Charlotte

1 tbsp. gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
1 cup sugar
2 tps. lemon juice
Lady fingers
3 1/2 cups whipped cream
1 cup orange juice and pulp
Salt

Soak gelatin in cold water about five minutes; dissolve in boiling water. Add sugar; when dissolved add lemon juice. Cool slightly and add orange juice and pulp. When mixture begins to stiffen, beat with wire whisk until light; fold in whipped cream, and beat thoroughly. Turn into mold lined with lady fingers. Unmold, garnish with orange segments.

Fudge Frosting Is Tops

2 cups sugar
2 sqs. unsweetened chocolate
2/3 cup milk
2 tps. butter
2 tps. white corn syrup
1 tsp. vanilla

Heat sugar, chocolate, cut in pieces, and cold milk. Stir constantly, until mixture is smoothly blended. Add syrup and cook until thermometer registers 234° F. (or until a little tested in cold water forms soft ball). Remove from fire; add butter and vanilla but do not stir in. Cool until lukewarm (110° F.). Beat until properly consistency to spread on cake.

Hints for Motorists

Director, School of Automobiles, International Correspondence Schools

THE following method usually works when a wheel you want to remove sticks so badly that the ordinary wheel-pulling methods fail. Jack up the corresponding wheel on the opposite side of the car. Unscrew the hub nut of the wheel you want to remove so as to bring the nut flush with the threaded end of the axle. Then strike the axle end a number of sharp blows with a heavy hammer. The combined pressure and jarring will almost always do the trick.

To straighten out dents in the body that can't easily be gotten at from inside, remove the enamel from the damaged area, sandpaper, and apply a light coating of solder. Bend a strong wire at right angles and solder one side of the angle to the center of the dent. Form the free end of the wire into a hook and insert a bar to act as a handle or lever. Pulling on this or using it as a lever will usually pull out the dent. Touch up with enamel after soldering with a blowtorch.

Ideas Are Life Blood of Business

EMPLOYERS want real men—men with sound ideas who have enough confidence in their worth to present them, and who are able to defend them if the occasion arises. Neither the "smart guy" nor the "shrinking violet" can look forward to much in the present-day business world.

Bluff has proved so costly that employers have been forced to learn to detect it no matter how well it is camouflaged. The shy and shrinking employee may have an idea worth a fortune to his employer, but it is absolutely valueless if he keeps it so well hidden that no one ever knows about it.

Ideas are the life blood of business and if you can provide them your future is assured. They must, however, not only be born in your own mind. They must be carefully worked out, firmly grounded in every detail, and presented so clearly and convincingly that their value will be apparent.

It is in this last respect that many men fall down. An idea good in itself may die still-born because its presentation leaves an impression of flashiness and insincerity. Similarly the too-modest man may ruin the chances for a good idea by failing to bring out its true value, by depreciating it ever while he presents it to his employer.

The solution is by self-analysis to acquire that thorough knowledge of your strong and weak points which in itself gives confidence without over-confidence and is conducted in a way which is neither over-estimating or under-estimating it.

Sisters Reunited After 30 Years

Mrs. Jane Wilks and her sister, Mrs. G. Mitchell, shown above left to right, were reunited after being separated for 30 years. Mrs. Wilks lives in South Africa and was visiting another sister in Montreal. She wrote to "The Personal Column of the Air" and asked that her message be broadcast. It was. Then Mrs. Mitchell heard the program and called another sister and old misunderstandings were cleared up, a reunion occurred, and Mrs. Wilks will sail back to South Africa completely happy.

Loser Eats Nine Elephants Daily

Ed East bet Ralph Dumke, his partner on a CBS radio program on action. East lost. Result: three times a day he has to eat three elephants for one year. East weighed 245 when he started "paying" and he weighs 261—and the gelatine elephants are still coming.

Right Out Of The Air

By R. F. SERVICE

Helen Hayes is especially fond of green. Frequently the bonnets, suits and shoes which she wears to her "Bambi" broadcasts are so shaded. Green was the favorite color of Queen Victoria, whom Miss Hayes is bringing back to real life during the current theatrical season.

...That pig named Wafford that Governor James M. Furell of Arkansas sent Bob Burns in Hollywood has been causing trouble. Bob chained it in the back yard but it got away and rooted up a neighbor's flower bed. Bing Crosby, Bob's partner in the Thursday night Music Hall show, also got one. Both pigs are in the movies now.

Vincent Lopez

...Vincent Lopez, band leader of the "Speedshow," has started a song writing contest for college students. Winning songs will be played on the air and Lopez has already made arrangements with publishers to bring out worthy tunes when they are prize winners or not.

Harriet Hilliard

...Harriet Hilliard is back on the air singing with Husband Ozzie Nelson's orchestra in the Ripley programs. She'll be off to Hollywood again within a few weeks but until then listeners will hear the girl who first rose to fame via the airlines and later made a hit in the movies.

Ed Wynn

...Ed Wynn was born Edwin Leopold. He got his stage name by splitting Edwin, substituting a "y" for the "i" and adding an extra "n."

...That Edgar Guest program, "Welcome Valley," which is heard over the NBC blue network Tuesday

...nights, varies the form of its serial. Recently it had a murder mystery. Then it took one of the characters and got her into a star's role in a stage play.

...Eddie East and Ralph Dumke, the gelatine twins heard over CBS three mornings a week, offer housewives plenty of laughs in the morning, chiefly by joking about topical subjects. They recently devoted their programs to a "timid husbands' club" but gave the club a rest when the fall mail got too heavy to handle.

...A commentator like the "Speedshow's" Floyd Gibbons must know all kinds of people. A recent caller at his office was a woman he has often met in various parts of the world—an international spy on a vacation from spying!

...Joan Blondell and Dick Powell, when co-starred in the Radio Theatre program recently, gave the program its third husband - and-wife co-starring team. Previously featured together in the Radio Theatre were Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone and Al Jolson and Ruby Keeler.

...Jack Benny is an honorary member of the city of his home town, Waukegan, Ill. The city fathers regard him as the community's Number One "Am-bassador of Good Will." Benny is proudly exhibiting proof: a handsome certificate.

...Fred Astaire takes very seriously. He often spends an entire day at home plugging over two songs—until he gets just the right punch into their rendition.
