New Treatment Brightens Living Room, Adds Comfort

A few simple changes in the lighting transformed this living room from a dingy cubby-hole to the cheerful effect you see here.

By Jean Prentice

THE problem of making a small living room more roomy and livable has perplexed many a homemaker, particularly those just entering the business of housekeeping on a limited budget.

Yet it can easily be done, and I'm glad to tell you about one case that recently came to my attention. The room was a veritable cubby-hole at the outset, but a change of lighting fixtures and re-arrangement of furniture transformed its entire appearance.

It was obvious at the outset that the lighting then being used just wasn't enough to reveal the room's interest or to make it livable at night. The selection of the lamps shown in the picture was dictated by the need for light both at the desk and davenport and the general space limitations involved. There seemed no other good solution for the desk, decoratively, than the inconspicuous small shelf with a luminescent bracket attached underneath. One more wall lamp would have been too many!

Due to an 11-foot ceiling, fairly dark-toned tan paper, and a decorative restriction to small lamps, the room required additional room lighting. This was obtained simply by removing the amber, flame-shaped bulbs from the old three-socket cluster ceiling fixture, and replacing them with the new 60-watt silvered-bowl variety. The fixture was further modernized by attaching 7-inch inverted cones to the new bulbs. (Not shown in illustration.) A real improvement resulted.

The lighting units at either end of the divan use 100-watt bulbs, and are of the pin-it-up type that simply hooks onto a push-pin inserted in the wall. Under the shade is a translucent plastic bowl which provides light in both upward and downward directions. These take up no floor space, and do an efficient lighting job. A bookcase, with a small radio and potted plants atop it, occupies the space at the left of the divan that a floor lamp would ordinarily fill. The bridge lamp behind the easy chair at right has a brown 12-inch white-lined shade equipped with a 100-watt bulb.

The transformation involved no lighting or decoration compromises, and was made at negligible cost. And the eyes that live here have a constant treat in the generous and soft lighting they have to see by, as well as in the highlighted emphasis on color and decorative detail they have to look at.

for the past two weeks suffering from injuries to her back which she received in an accident some time ago.

Mrs. Mike Pienovi was operated on last Friday to remove a growth from her nasal passage. Several pieces of bone were removed. She was at St. Vincent's hospital but has returned home.

Mrs. Samuel B. Lawrence of Raleigh will be hostess at her home on Scholls Ferry road on July 30th for the Past Master's club of Beaver chapter No. 196 Pot luck luncheon will be served in the gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Cheek and family of Calgary, Canada visited in Portland and Whitford last week. Mr. Cheek, who is a nephew of Mrs. H. F. Ellander of Progress, lived in that neighborhood several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Rickey of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma are visiting at the home of Mrs. Rose Jordan on Denney road. Mrs. Rickey is a sister of Mrs. Jordan. Mr. Rickey is the chief of the Forestry service in Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Scott and daughters Margaret and Marjorie left Sunday morning by auto for a several weeks trip. Mr. Scott going as far as Caldwell, Idaho and Mrs. Scott and the girls to Evanston, Wyoming to visit relatives.

Mrs. M. C. McKercher prepared a surprise birthday dinner for Mrs. J. W. Huson at the Huson home Monday evening. Guests were Mr. A. Teeling of Portland, George McKercher, Shirley Carr, Mrs. Huson and family and Mrs. McKercher.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning 'Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas floats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.
Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT SALEM

The ninth annual County School Superintendents' Conference is scheduled to meet in Salem on July 19 and 20 to discuss problems pertinent to educational progress in Oregon. The conference for this year is devoted largely to reports of special study committees on problems in county supervision and administration of schools.

Committee reports to be presented at the conference this year are ones on Transportation Problems, Records for the County Superintendent's Office, Instruction for the Handicapped, County Diagnostic Tests and Remedial Outcomes, and Selection and Placement of Teachers. Each committee presents its recommendations at the conference for discussion and final adoption.

The conference is held under the joint auspices of Dr. C. A. Howard, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the County Superintendents' Association. The association officers this year are: President, Mrs. Beatrice Williams of Curry County; Vice-President, E. A. Sayre of Union County; Secretary-Treasurer, H. Condit of Columbia County.

Old Oregon Trail Pageant Scheduled

Six attractive Eugene girls, dressed in the pioneer styles of frontier days, are shown here with an old-fashioned covered wagon, one of the many hundreds of authentic relics which will be publicly displayed during the Oregon Trail Pageant celebration in Eugene, July 22, 23, and 24. The quaint costumes worn by the maids are the vogue in Lane county as the entire citizenry makes ready for the fourth celebration in honor of our Western forefathers who settled in the Oregon country. The pageant is held in Eugene every three years and is internationally famous.
