"THAT SAVING GRACE"

There is a lot of bitterness in the country just now. Many men have soured on their leaders and hard feelings prevail.

There is something greater than being a Republican or a Democrat, a Drty Dealer or a New Dealer, and that is being a good American citizen.

There is something greater than politics and that's being patriotic. Parties run their course. Isms soon pass as somebody cooks up a new fad or freak to fool the people.

Old Marse Henry Watterson was wont to refer to "that saving grace of common sense in the American people." That may save us.

INSURANCE THAT FITS

Life insurance is a necessity for the foresighted man or woman—but this doesn't mean that every life insurance policy is good for every buyer.

Buy life insurance that fits—even as you do when you purchase a pair of shoes or a suit. John Jones' needs and problems may be entirely different from those of Bill Smith who lives next door. And the policy that fits John to a "T" might be entirely wrong for Bill.

In recent years the qualifications of life insurance agents have risen greatly. Today's average agent is far better fitted to advise policies that meet your needs and ambitions. Don't buy any policy without serious consideration and the advise of a trustworthy agent who has studied life insurance exhaustively.

EXPERIMENTING

It is a little funny how some merchants go on experimenting with new-fangled schemes.

Of course, big business men who can afford it are always trying out new ideas, but it is wiser for the little fellow to follow the beaten path—the way that is well proved.

I saw a merchant the other day frothing at the mouth about throwing away some of his money on advertising. He had just been gypped on another scheme.

Stick to your editor and home town newspaper and, in the long run, you'll be better satisfied with your advertising results.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Just suppose it should be announced from Washington that the next session of Congress would devote itself to studying way and means to reduce the present extravagant cost of government;

That it would adjust, reduce or eliminate special, punitive or class taxation that now hampers or discourages business — such as the capital gains and losses clause and the tax on corporation surpluses;

That is would adopt a strong and definite policy that would protect the rights of the worker, as well as the rights of the factory owner and the public;

That it would use all powers of the government to see that workmen or employes, union or non-union, were protected on their jobs and operations, and that infringers on their rights would suffer the full penalties if law;

That it would study the rail transportation system from the standpoint of encouraging, rather than hamstringing the American railroads, as is now being done insidiously by those who would socialize the carriers under government ownership.

Just suppose our government would announce such a program instead of coming forth with new and untried experiments threatening to property rights, personal liberties, investments and employment.

Do you think business would pick up in this country, money start to flow into new enterprises, and new jobs be created?

Think it over.

Here's Hollywood

Screen Stars At Home

Fay Wray's present home is the two story white colonial at Malibu Beach which was built by Richard Barthlemess at the height of his career. It's a half hour drive from Columbia Studios where she has just finished "Park Avenue Dame," but she told me that the long drive is a relaxation for her. That's because she leaves the beach at 6:30 a.m., which is before the business traffic jams the boulevards, and because the stillness of the morning is so refreshing.

With her writer husband J. Monk Saunders, the actress delights in surf fishing, which means casting with a heavy pole from the beach into the tumbling surf. There's quite a few fish and a lot of fun to be gotten that way. Not being a strong syimmer, Miss Wray uses the beach for long walks, for sun baths on her second story sun porch, and as a delightful place for beach parties. These, usually of eight couples, are held on her huge screened porch which is barely out of reach of the roaring breakers at high tide.

Dick Cromwell, as yet only a young bachelor, lives alone in a Spanish stucco atop the hills which half encircle Hollywood. There he builds garden walls, fower beds, and spends many hours reading for his chief recreations. A hobby which has won him quite a bit of fame is oil painting. Some of his work has won exhibition awards. He also likes to make plaster masks of his screen friends, from which he then carves wood block likenesses to decorate his plainly arranged little house.

Sylvia Sidney, who spends half her time in New York City, lives with her mother there. She told me an interesting incident about how much she is still mothered. Recently she was due to take a five-thirty train for Hollywood. At four o'clock her mother began shouting to her, to the maid and to the chauffeur to hurry. Protesting that there was plenty of time, the actress said that nevertheless her mother hustled them all off, arriving at the station forty minutes too early.

"She still thinks I'm just her little girl," the actress concluded. In Hollywood Miss Sidney lives in an apartment surrounded by books, many of them Russion works which she reads constantly.

Veteran Jack Holt and his handsome son Tim are other screen bachelors, living alone with a man cook and a man housekeeper in their modest but roomy Santa Monica Canyon bungalow. Buried in native oaks and sycamores, the ranch includes also a stable for their excellent polo ponies, which father and son play together consantly. Both being outdoor men they have three dogs, racks of guns and fishing tackle, and are expert target shots as well as all around athletes.

Young Holt's first important screen appearance is in "Stella Dallas." He's the handsome boy who wins lovey Ann Shirey.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SCHOOL DAYS ARE HERE

The many school activities offer countless opportunities for snapping pictures that you will enjoy in years to come.

IF there was ever a snapshooter's paradise, it's school for those who attend it. It may be a one-room school or it may be a great university. Wherever, whatever it may be, it's crammed with unbeatable picture possibilities.

Yet we might as well face the fact of the matter—few snapshooters make the most of school's snapshooting opportunities.

Perhaps they are dazzled by the very wealth of the material at hand. More likely, they assume that somebody else is going to take the pictures. And that's a fatal mistake. For nobody else can see things as you see them. And it's what you see that means most to you—and to the folks at home, now or years from now.

The question, then, is how to make the most of school's picture possibilities. A little planning will do the trick.

First, about the right camera for school. Any camera will do, providing it is clean and in good order and uses a size of film that is easily available anywhere. If yours has a fast lens and a fast shutter, you'll have an advantage in taking shots at sporting events, but such a camera is not at all essential. With a little care you can make even the simplest box camera turn out entirely satisfactory pictures.

Then, how can snapshooting be planned? All of it, of course, cannot be planned, but many of the most important shots can be. Why not work out a scenario, Hollywood fashion?

First of all, whether school's just around the corner or a thousand miles away, you'll want a few good shots of home. Then a view or two taken on the way to school. Maybe those views seem commonplace now, but wait a few years.

At school, of course, there are the obvious shots of the buildings, the grounds, new classmates, teachers, old friends, sports, picnics, class ceremonies, and so on. It's a good idea to take them so as to form a kind of continued story. Then, when they are mounted in your album, the pictorial story will flow along evenly.

A really good collection of school pictures is hard to find, as any school year-book editor will tell you. Yet there's nothing much easier to take; and few snapshots increase in value, year after year, as surely as those taken at school.

Football

The football season is worry time for most parents. Perhaps most of our fears are groundless, particularly in the case of the senior high school boy. But for the younger boy in the grades and junior high school, football becomes a hazard.

Most leaders in athletics and physical education believe that the boy should not play the real game until he is in the senior school. And then only when he is in the best condition as shown by a physician's examination. Every candidate for any school athletic team should be thoroughly examined before being allowed to join the squad.

As a part of the examination some schools are demanding a tuberculin test and an X-ray of the chest. This practice will become general in time for all students. To the parent of a player, the football season is the ideal time to put the health rules into practice. At this time, the boy will do anything under the guise of training.

The coach and the trainer have a real educational opportunity. Let football be the vehicle for valuable lessons in nutrition, the correct diet, the value of milk, sleep, bathing, and the like. The boy will feel the good effects, so utilize his interest in an effort to have him carry over the health practices when the season is ended.

What's New in Radio?

By J. F. Witkowski
Principal, School of Radio, International Correspondence Schools; Associate Member, Institute of Radio Engineers

THE police department of Evanston, Illinois, has acquired an ambulance equipped with a two-way, short-wave radio for use in accident cases. The radio makes it possible to send on ahead to the doctors at the hospital a description of the patient's injuries, enabling them to make any special arrangements. Physicians at the hospital can transmit to the ambulance instructions for any special first-aid treatment that may be required.

* * *

Plans are being made to employ the radio in the study of meteorological conditions in the hurricane belt of the Caribbean. To obtain data on atmospheric pressure, humidity and temperature in the storm area, observation instruments and small radio transmitters will be hung from balloons to be released in the patch of the storm. The balloons will be capable of reaching a height 15 miles above the earth.

A pocket radio with a loud speaker has been invented by a Danish engineer. The set is small enough to be carried in a man's pocket or a woman's handbag, and is said to be capable of picking up any European station. Commercial production of the miniature radio has been started at Copenhagen.

Washington county Christian Endeavor union will hold its annual Pre-convention rally on Friday evening, October 1 at the Gaston Congregational church.

Props All Knocked Out

Just to give a background to the Good News, set this down —IF YOU PLAY WITH SIN, YOU DANCE WITH DEATH. It means all of us for—"All have sinned."

Now for a brighter picture to stand out against the breakup. Paint the shrub that grows in the desert ground where all else dies. Let the prophet Isaiah say it for he speaks of Christ as that shrub — Christ shall grow up before God as a tender plant and as a root out of pointed to Christ who would come into this old world to walk sinless where evil laid its blight and curse on all living. Now add—HE WHO KNEW NO SIN WAS BORN INTO TH'S WORLD TO BECOME SIN FOR US.

Next a Gospelette to outline God's intent toward all who lay hold on Christ's death to clear them. All these go on their way rejoicing. They believe God that they have eternal life. The Lord made love to you to build you up into the likeness of his Son. Right then when you receive Christ as Saviour the new life sets in. The change has begun. Righteousness takes root. Bible and prayer; trials and blessings are the appointed means. So you become like Christ. He that hath begun a good work in you will go on performing it in preparation for the day when Christ will come to take you unto Himself.

And lastly a Gospelette as to how Christ satisfies his own. S.K. and S. remember. SAVES, KEEPS, SATISFIES. Christ never deserts his own. He may take away all the props and let you sink down to utter helplessness to leave you stranded on Himself. Glorious hour! Then you cry out and learn his power as you never could have known it.—"Helpless I cried to the Lord and he heard me. Light out of darkness he gave."

Now listen to the much persecuted prophet Jeremiah who speaks out of the Old Testament. You see him let down into the dungeon to sink in the mire; left to die of hunger. The Suffering Prophet they call him. And through this man God says, "Call upon me and I will answer thee and show thee great and mighty things that thou knowest not." Jer. 33:3.

ARE YOU ONLY A THREE-QUARTER WIFE?

MEN, because they are men, can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is all love and kindness three weeks in a month and a hell cat the rest of the time.

No matter how your back aches—how your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.
