O'Connor Family Holds Reunion

Reunion Is Held At Archie O'Connor Home At Aloha June 5

Forty-One Members Of The Family Are Present

A happy family reunion of the nine children of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Connor of Beaverton was held at the Archie O'Connor home at Aloha, Oregon on Sunday, June 5th. Forty-one members of the family were present at the dinner which was served on the lawn. It was the first time in twenty-one years that all the children were together.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Connor, Beaverton; the parents; Mr. and Mrs. Elvin O'Connor and four children and John D. O'Connor, Osborne, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Omer Conway and three sons, Paradise, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Archie O'Connor and seven children and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pierce and daughter, Aloha; Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Connor, Vernonia; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn O'Connor and five children and Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson and three daughters, Portland, and Paul O'Connor, Beaverton. Mrs. Paul O'Connor was unable to attend on account of illness.

The Kansas families returned to their homes on the following Monday after a week's visit. Two sons Elvin and John had last visited their parents fifteen years ago. Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor have lived in the Beaverton and Aloha community for twenty-one years having moved here from Osborne, Kansas.

Other guests at the dinner and reunion were Harold Kramer of Bloom, Oregon and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conway and son who are located in or near Portland.

GROWERS TO HOLD MEET WEDNESDAY

Potato growers of Washington County, as well as those growers from other points of Western Oregon, are invited to present their views concerning the application of the Potato Marketing Agreement to the Western Oregon crop at a hearing next Wednesday, June 22. This hearing will be held in the Marine Room of the Multnomah Hotel in Portland, next Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

The proposed marketing agreement applies only to potatoes in interstate shipment. Most of the local crop, says County Agent Cyrus, goes only into consumption within the state. Prior to the last few years, there has always been some movement of both seed and consumption stock out of this territory into California. During the last few years, most of this has dropped off so that there is a relatively small amount of locally grown potatoes, most of which is seed moving out of this state.

The proposed agreement will prohibit the interstate shipment of cull potatoes; and upon the recommendation of an Area Committee, could possibly limit the quantity of certain other low grades or small sizes that go into interstate shipment. Some of the local growers are of the opinion that the agreement might place an undesirable restriction upon the movement of some certified seed.

MANY VISITORS ARE AT IMLAH HOME

Mr. and Mrs. John Imlah entertained as their guests on Wednesday of last week, Mrs. Imlah's sister, Mrs. Walter Olinger and two sons, Bobby and Billy of Toledo and Mrs. Gerald Wood and son Glen and daughter Joan of Portland. Mrs. Olinger was in Portland to attend the Rose Festival.

An election was held and the following officers installed: President, Mrs. Lyle Taylor; Vice President, Mrs. A. C. Bollier; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. Ardan Hays. RECOMMENDATIONS FOR REGULATING

Concrete recommendations for regulation of outdoor advertising and preservation of scenic beauty along highways have been worked out by the advisory committee on roadside protection of the Oregon state planning board. It was announced here this week by Ormond R. Bean, chairman of the state planning board. The recommendations, together with considerable data, have just been published as a planning board report entitled "Program for Protection of Oregon Roadways."

Several months have been spent in the tentative investigation and study by the committee which is headed by Robert W. Sawyer of Bend. The committee includes J. J. Cauffied, Ray Conway, Mrs. J. W. Powler, Mrs. Jesse M. Honeyman, Mrs. John L. Karnopp, Mrs. Frank B. Kistner, George H. Otten, Jamieson Parker A. L. Beck, Mrs. A. E. Rocky and John Yeon.

The committee suggests three legislative measures for adoption as soon as possible:

1. A bill prohibiting signs near danger points of highways and signs creating hazards wherever located.
2. A bill prohibiting all unauthorized "snipe" signs.
3. A bill prohibiting all roadside advertising signs in "non-commercial areas."

Adoption of an amendment to the state constitution as a basis for the enactment of legislation to regulate and control all other types of roadside advertising, as well as signs, is recommended. "Setback" regulations should also be adopted for all structures on property adjoining the right-of-way intended for service or use of the public, the report says.

As part of its program, the committee vigorously recommends that a continuing program of education should be undertaken to bring to the people a constant realization of the values of the beauty of Oregon.

Price Discrimination Law Now In Effect

Anti-Price Discrimination Act Has Been In Effect Since May 21

New Law Also Applies To Service Trades

It is now illegal to sell merchandise in Oregon for less than cost, or to discriminate in price between customers for merchandise of like grade and quality, we are reminded by information received from the Oregon Business and Investors Inc. office in Portland, Oregon's anti-price discrimination act went into effect May 21, after being held up almost a year by a referendum action, which referendum is now squashed.

This new law applies also to service trades, we are informed, such as laundries, dry cleaning and processing personal property such as drying prunes or hops.

The Oregon anti-price discrimination act is similar to the Federal Robinson-Patman law which was passed to give protection to independent merchants against secret rebates and price concessions sometimes given to larger distributors of merchandise.

It is interesting to note that there is no method set up in the law whereby it will be enforced except as each trade group sets up a policy or enforcement committee similar to the enforcement committees set up under the old NRA procedure. Already in Portland, we learn, retail grocers, building material dealers and other trade groups are setting up such committees to police the enforce-

Josephine Bullis

STATE WINNER IN RECENT CONTEST

Here is Miss Josephine Bullis of Medford, who has just won the title of state champion for Oregon in the third National Meat Poster Contest for high school students, according to an announcement made by a committee of prominent artists meeting in Chicago.

As an award for this accomplishment, Miss Bullis, who is a high school senior, receives a cash prize from the National Live Stock and Meat Board, sponsor of the contest. A total of 13,774 students from 866 high schools of 48 states participated in this event.

Her winning poster stressed the importance of meat from the standpoint of its food value. According to the judges, it was very well executed and carried out the rules of effective design and striking color.

GRANGE ESSAY CONTEST BEING HELD

Members of subordinate granges throughout the state will compete in the 1938 traffic safety essay contest being sponsored currently by the Oregon State Grange and the safety division of the department of state, according to Secretary of State Earl Snell.

Three cash awards and an additional trophy for the first prize winner have been made available by Snell. Announcements of the contest were mailed to grangers throughout the state this week.

"With increasing travel upon our highways, it is important that everyone become more careful in his driving," said Ray W. Gill, state grange master, in commenting on the contest, "I urge all grange members who are entitled to do so to submit essays in this competition. I also suggest that completed essays be read at grange meetings."

Mrs. G. W. Thiessen of Milwaukie, lecturer for the state grange, will be in charge of the contest and all entries must be mailed to her not later than midnight, August 10, 1938. Gill and Mrs. Thiessen will select three judges for the competition.

Secretary Snell expressed the hope that grange members will not only take this opportunity to express their views on the traffic safety question but will also join actively in the movement to make Oregon the safest state in the union from the standpoint of highway travel.

ment of the new Oregon law. The Federal Robinson-Patman law is enforced by the Federal Trade Commission, but no such enforcement agency is provided for the Oregon law.

The new Oregon law regulating prices that can be charged for merchandise or "service trade" output, provides that an offender can be put in jail and fined if he cannot justify his prices against a charge of discrimination. Triple damages are also provided for, and buyers can be equally guilty with sellers of merchandise if prices charged or accepted tend to create a monopoly or discriminate.

While the new Oregon law was passed by the 1937 legislature for the purpose of protecting grocers and druggists in particular, against "loss leader" competition actually the law affects all commerce within the state and each business transaction must be examined carefully.

Happenings In Co. Court This Week

Doctor Held For Grand Jury Investigation Following Arraignment

Jack Estabrook Faces Retrial On Bombing Charge

Dr. LeRoy E. Smith was placed in county jail last week on a charge of threatening to commit a felony after having been arrested by Deputy Sheriffs R. H. Busch and Ben Cornelius.

Smith was bound over to the grand jury for hearing on the charge. The complainant was Dr. C. T. Smith of Hillsboro, brother of the jailed man who sought police aid when his brother, recently arrived from California, appeared and made threats against his life over difficulties involved in distribution of a family estate. County Judge Donald T. Templeton ordered him held for grand jury investigation following an arraignment in his court.

Eugene Parkins of Forest Grove reported his car prowled Monday night while it was parked at the Archie Nichol farm on Forest Grove route 1. Listed as missing were $21 in cash, roller skates and skate shoes valued at $25, a wrist watch and flashlight, with the total value placed at $52.

Lawrence Francis Berry, 22 was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Busch Tuesday and jailed on a drunk in a public place charge.

Retrial of Jack W. Estabrook charged with bombing of the William Fugoy store at Rock Creek on Decoration day of 1935 will get under way Monday morning, according to the Hillsboro circuit court calendar.

First trial of Estabrook began here May 16 and ended in a deadlock the following week when the jury failed to agree. A new jury panel will probably be drawn some time this week for the new trial starting Monday.

Indicted by the grand jury March 17 along with Estabrook were Melvin Bozarth, Leon V. Wallingford, Jack Minsky and James Scott. During the past week in Portland, with the development of the hotel workers' strike, Estabrook has once again appeared in the labor union news, making new pronouncements on the union conditions and situation of the strike.

Gordon Jennings indicted on four counts of giving alcoholic liquor to minors and on one count of contributory to the delinquency of a minor was sentenced to six months on both charges by Judge R. Frank Peters Friday, with terms to run concurrently.

Monte Edward Long, arrested last week on a drunken driving charge, waived grand jury indictment and time for sentencing last Friday and was sentenced to serve 90 days in the county jail.

Leonard Chandler 29, and Donald White, 20, arrested at Rippling Waters Saturday night on charges of drunkenness in a public place were each fined $10 and costs in Hillsboro justice court this week.

RAIN VISITS COUNTY DURING PAST WEEK

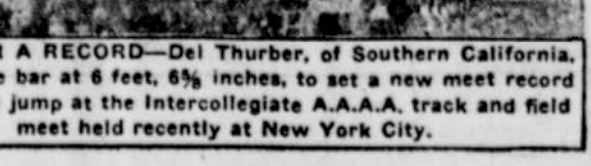

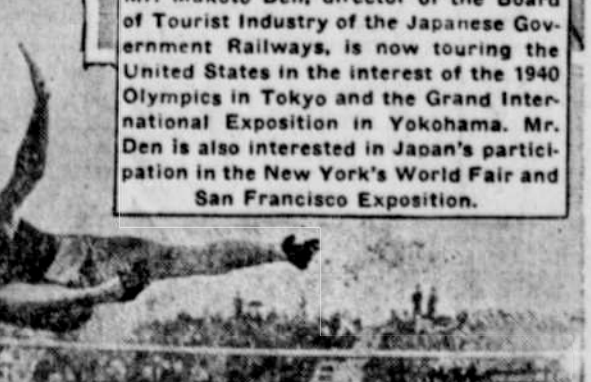

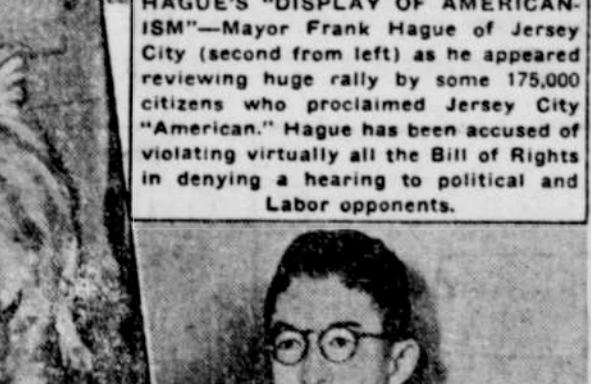

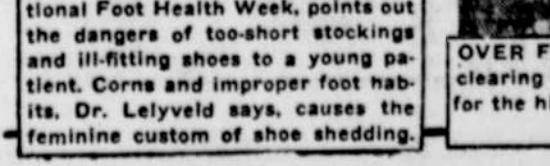

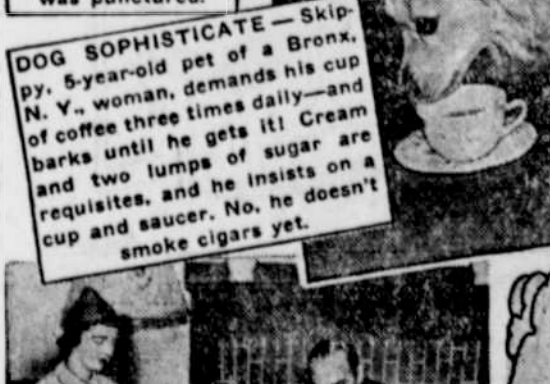

Welcome clouds unleashed a brief shower over Hillsboro and surrounding territory Wednesday afternoon, giving the first appreciable or measurable rainfall in more than a month for the relief of parched gardens, drying cannery peas and strawberry fields.

Slight mists were noted Monday in certain sections, but not in sufficient amounts to be of aid, although the accompanying cooler weather brought better growing conditions for county crops. Hot weather of the previous week was followed by moderate temperatures. Friday's 81 degrees being the high mark for the week as compared to a 91 reached on June 6. Although there was some hay cut and in various stages of harvest throughout the county, the light rains were believed to have done no damage.

Mrs. W. C. McKell, Mrs. Ruby Boyd and Mrs. Doy Gray were guests of Mrs. Walter Scott at the Rotary club luncheon and card party in Portland Monday.
