VENERABLE BELL TO BE SALVAGED AFTER SILENCE

This article was taken from a paper in Astoria:
The Shively school bell, which hung in the school tower since 1881, and tolled several generations of Astorians to school, will be preserved for posterity.
The school board recently had the worn out school torn down but had obtained permission from Clatsop County court to preserve the old bell in the court house museum, as a permanent exhibit.
C. J. Shively of Beaverton is a direct descendant of the Shively's who settled in Astoria in the pioneer days.
