DAIRY RANCH SEES ACTION

As is off the way among dairy farmers, so on this ranch all turn out at 5:30 of a morning. Father and mother as well as son and daughter in high and two youngsters of the grades. With thirty-odd cows waiting, you see the mother and two older ones at the milking and stripping; the meantime the smaller pair carry the pails to the cooling room while the head of the family handles the milking machine and what not. So the scene up to the breakfast hour.

Now comes the invitation to join them for the Sunday dinner. The table smiled under canned pork brought out and roasted. Mashed taters and pork gravy plenty; delicious home-canned corn and other tasty trimmings. Then peaches from a jar and two kinds of cake. One turned out by the high school boy and had frosting to boot. Such a creation as made the guest glad of a second slice. Then with no show but as a matter of course, the Bible was opened and one of the youngsters read a Psalm. It was her turn. Yes—You have guessed it. The head of this vigorous family as well as his wife's people were born across the water. Hollanders, they were and the old country custom still holds. The man confesses his wonder at the heartless way in this America where men high-hat the church and cold-shoulder the Bible out of their lives.

However, not all of our people scorn the Holy Word. There was the millionaire lumberman up in Tacoma who supported the Gospel in China while giving freely to religious work in this country and keeping a Bible man back and forth in his own logging camps. This lumberman being a man of conviction, we asked him where he came into his faith—"Back in the old home beside the Mississippi," he said—"There in the old kitchen by morning opened the Book and led us in family worship."

Said our Lord—"Behold I stand at the door and knock." Open to Him and He will come in and sup with you. But you must first count Him as the Saviour who died for your sins and on that ground, ask and receive forgiveness. Yes, the Lord Jesus Christ SAVES-KEEPS-SATISFIES the weary heart and the lonesome life.

The Anne Ellis Club, a group composed of thirty-three past matrons of the O. E. S., who live in Portland and vicinity. The luncheon was held at the home of Mrs. Berry Lewis of Portland.

Mr. H. A. West expects to be in the East for three weeks attending the mid-winter rally of the Gideon's Association, of which he is national vice-president.

The Raleigh district is growing very rapidly and has become very popular with people whose businesses are in the city. Recently Mr. Patton opened up a large acreage, which has practically all been sold, and upon which some beautiful homes are being erected. L. W. Hobbs has a new home there. The Ellis brothers are building new houses, side by side. One family have moved into their completed home, and the other house is about ready for occupancy. Goard's have built a new home and Schaub's expect to build in the spring. Polshaws have been living in their new home about three months. Westernoffs are building a beautiful new home, which is almost completed.

There is also a great deal of remodeling being done. Mr. and Mrs. Hermanson have had their house raised and are having a cement basement built.

The eighth grade boys have started a district paper for which they write news items and solicit advertising. Fred Zwahlen provided them with a mimeograph, which they hope to purchase with proceeds from their paper.

The Andrew Widling family moved to Portland Monday. Millers will occupy the former Widling house.
