FOR ANTIQUES IN A SHOPPE WE OFTEN PAY CASH

BUT ANTIQUES ON THE HIGHWAY CAUSE MANY A CRASH!

—National Safety Council

While motorists are inclined to laugh at the sight of a jittering, dilapidated "antique" on the highway, piloted by a care-free youth, there is nothing humorous in the fact that many mechanically deficient automobiles are being operated over the roads of this state and nation today.

The very fact that a car is old does not mean that it is a menace on the highway, Secretary of State Snell points out. Many

SUMMONS

In The WEEK'S NEWS

DEFIANT CZECH MINISTER—Vladimir Hruban, the Czech Minister to the United States who has refused to turn his legation over to the Germans despite their annexation of his country, is greeted by Madame Hruban as he returns from a visit to Chicago, where he joined his voice in protest.

TWEED FOR SPRING—Anne Shirley wears this loosely woven coat dress of black and beige tweed, lightly flecked with red and green threads. Tucks at neck and waist guarantee that new panel fullness in front. Around Anne's neck is a string of fire-crackers — wooden ones for safety's sake.

HIS FEET HEADED FOR SUPREME COURT BENCH—William O. Douglas, 40-year-old chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission who was nominated by President Roosevelt as an Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, puts his feet up on his desk as he smiles his happiness over the great honor.

SECOND FRAME FOR EXTRA STRENGTH—The new Plymouth Convertible Sedan recently announced, features a second frame for extra strength and rigidity. It also features improved arms that fold inward to simplify raising or lowering the top. Only the convertible models by Chrysler this year are on the 1939 DeLuxe Plymouth chassis.

an old car, kept in first-class shape by a careful owner, is still giving safe and efficient service.

Yet there are many persons who seem to be able to buy gasoline for everyday driving and for longer trips, but who make the mistake of spending little or nothing for the upkeep of their aging cars. As a result the brakes, tires, wheel alignment, steering mechanism, springs and even the engine itself slowly become less and less serviceable until an actual breakdown occurs—sometimes at a crucial moment, when an extra margin of mechanical strength or braking power is required.

While an act providing for statewide inspection of motor vehicles passed both houses of the recent legislature, the final responsibility for an automobile's condition rests with the owner rather than with the state. The safety of himself, his passenger's and the other users of the highway demands that his automobile satisfy at least the minimum requirements of mechanical condition and equipment.

the sermon.
The Unified Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 o'clock. Evening sermon at 8 o'clock. Mr. Caldwell, minister at Forest Grove, will bring the message.

Did you go to church last Sunday?
No? You say you slept too late?

Careful you don't sleep too long
And never reach the Golden Gate.

Or, you say you went to visit? It was such a lovely day. Couldn't you have come to Church first.

Then go on your happy way?

Can't you spare just three short hours

Of the one hundred and sixty-eight.

Just to study from the Bible And let other pleasures wait

You were ill? Well, then, that's different.

Hurry and get better quick. For we need you all each Sunday.

Each one has his special niche.

Won't you try to have each Sunday.

All your family there on time 'Twould the minister so hearten And 'twould make you feel sublime.
