The birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Fred Hoffman and Mrs. Paul Leopold were honored. The final meeting of the season will be a picnic held June 8th in the John Rhorback grove.

MITCHELL'S TRIP EAST RECOUNTED

The New York World's Fair was the culmination of the recent trip east taken by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Mitchell. Knowing that few of us will have the opportunity of visiting the eastern fair, they take pleasure in describing for friends their impression of the wondrous event.

The fair is located in what might be called northeast New York, where the immense grounds open from the edge of the city. Through these gates pass a countless stream of visitors and a vast audience continually views the exhibits. The most enthusiastic commendations to be voiced by western people. According to the Mitchell's, eastern folks seem more reticent in expressing their approval publicly.

At the moment of entering the main gate their eyes were caught by the now famous Trylon and Perisphere. These, although apparently situated at the rear of the grounds, have the mysterious ability of impressing the observer as being immediately in the center of the view, thus dominating the entire landscape. In this ability a great deal of their wonder lies.

The grounds have been laid out in the form of a rectangle. A court extends from the main entrance to the Trylon and Perisphere and the exhibits are so arranged as to open from the sides of this court. Here he displayed every phase of industry and invention of world wide scope.

European nations have contributed to the fair a panorama of display. The national products, the scenery and the interesting features of each have been blended to create an unforgettable picture. Here, also is our own national exhibit and those of the individual states. Among these are Washington's exhibit of fishing, lumber and minerals and Idaho's exhibit of potatoes and minerals. Oregon, however, is not represented, according to the Mitchell's.

The sciences have an important place in the activities. Perhaps most impressive among these is the Hall of Medicine. Diseases are depicted here and the seeming miracles which medical science has devised to overcome them.

Scarcely less wonderful are the contributions of private industries. Firms representing every type of industry spread forth the achievements of years of progress.

The theme of the fair is centered in a vision of the world of tomorrow. Both exhibits and grounds have been planned to show this progress into the future, step by step. The New York World's fair pictures a conception of the world to be, based upon the achievements of the past and the high courage and ceaseless effort of the present.

Surmounting the entire fair, with its dreams of the future, proudly stands a statue of the father of our nation's past, George Washington.

ST. CECILIA HAS GRADUATION THURS.

The St. Cecilia school graduation exercises were held in the school hall Thursday evening. The following received grade school diplomas: Claire Moshofsky, Eunice Hemrich, Frederick Christensen, Richard Mallen, Bernard Leis, Robert Bernards, Elmer Boyd and Bennie Kennison.

Bennie was congratulated on having completed the seventh and eighth grades in one term. Special award medals were presented to the student having the highest average in the four first grades as follows: Joseph Balfe—First grade.

Anita Piemovi—Second grade. Suzanne Cable—Third grade. Patrick Balfe—Fourth grade.

In spite of cloudy weather and showers, the children of St. Cecilia's school enjoyed their annual school picnic at the Portland City park last Tuesday. The mothers and teachers served a delicious picnic luncheon with all the trimmings.

Ruth Filley and Fred Huston spent Memorial Day at Mt. Hood.

Local People Travel To See Royalty

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Son Howard, Betty Harris, See Royalty

QUARTET TRAVELS TO VANCOUVER, B. C.

The thrill of viewing the British King and Queen was the experience this week of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, their son Howard and Betty Harris. The party drove to Bellingham, Washington last Sunday, where they spent the night. Knowing that the royal train was scheduled to enter Vancouver, B. C. at ten o'clock Monday morning, they joined the eager throngs lining the flag decorated streets of that city at 8:30 to make certain of a clear view of the spectacle.

The King and Queen came into the city in an open car of a special lengthy train painted blue and silver. They were met with a twenty-one gun salute. Changing to automobiles which were escorted by mounted police, the party proceeded to tour the city, a trip which was to include 57 miles of driving through the city of Vancouver.

Passing the throngs who were rigidly held back, the King tipped his hat and the Queen smiled and waved. Later the royal party embarked for Victoria, on the boat Princess Marguerite, a beautiful craft done in glistening white for the event.

The journey home was enlarged to include a trip to the Rainier National Park, where the car drove through huge snowdrifts and passed through a snowstorm. A short stop was also made at the White Swan Mission school, at White Swan, Wash., near Yakima.

FAMILY GROUP IS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Butts entertained a family group at their home last week. Mrs. Butts' sister, Mrs. R. V. Campbell of Pendleton and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Campbell and daughter of Helix spent the entire week. Arriving for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Campbell of Chehalis, Wash., who are Mrs. Butts' niece and nephew.

Those visitors who came from eastern Oregon returned via the Mt. Hood Loop, making a very pleasant trip.

The Flower Shop has a new rug from San Francisco and has had a neon sign and decorations installed.

Silently Passing

EVA LEA VON BERG

Eva Lea Von Berg, aged 45 years, passed away May 25 of a lung infection and obstruction of the bowels from which she had suffered for an extended time.

Miss Von Berg had been a resident of Beaverton for three years. She and her sister resided in a home which they built at that time.

A teacher in Portland schools, she had found it necessary to abandon that work in September, 1938, owing to her health. She leaves many friends in both Beaverton and Portland.

She was the daughter of Mrs. J. P. Von Berg, Sr. of Albert Lea, Minn. sister of Dorcasia Von Berg of Vancouver, Washington; Mrs. E. C. Hickman of St. Paul, Minn.; Dr. L. E. Von Berg of Charles City, Iowa; Dr. J. P. Von Berg, Jr. of Albert Lea, Minn.

Funeral services were held Saturday, May 27 at Findley's Morninglight chapel. Commitment was in Portland crematorium.

HAZEL BAIL

Hazel Bail, aged four years, passed away May 28 at Doern-lecker hospital. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Bail of Portland Route 5. The family had resided near Beaverton about three years. Prior to this time they had made their home in Macintosh, South Dakota.

She is also survived by a brother, Vincent and four sisters, Charlotte, Juliette, Mary and Virginia.

Funeral services were held at Peeg's Chapel at 10 a. m. Wednesday, May 31. Interment was in Crescent Grove cemetery.

LIBRARY NOTES

Public Library—Kiwanis Hall. Open: 2:30—5:00 p. m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. Also 6:30—8:30 Saturday evening. Mrs. Thompson, Librarian.

There have been many comments on Hitler's Mein Kampf (My Battle) in which he sets forth his plan of action. One of the most outstanding replies is Hendrik Willem van Loon's "Our Battle." It was written in one week's time last October and is a stirring resume of events which have led to the present European situation. H. V. Kaltenborn, famous radio commentator, highly recommends this little volume. It's in the Community Library. Read it and you will have a better idea of how the dictator nations got that way.

Billy See played a part in the program Posey Playlets over KGW Sunday.

Vacation School Is In Second Week

Attendance Averages Over Eighty Each Day of School

COMPLETE STAFF OF TEACHERS IN CHARGE

The Daily Vacation bible school entered its second week with an attendance which averaged over eighty each day. Among those conducting the school, who have been connected with it in the two previous years, it is the opinion that the present session compares in a favorable manner. The attendance has shown a gradual increase and the work is progressing nicely.

A complete staff of teachers and assistants have volunteered their services in conducting the school. Rev. Coulter is acting as general superintendent. Mrs. Harper Burns has charge of the kindergarten group, with Barbara Walker as assistant. Mrs. Lynden Myers has charge of the primary group and is assisted by Mrs. Kuicken and Patsy Stewart. Mrs. Bryan Walker directs the seniors, with the assistance of Mrs. George Taylor and Marilyn Walker. Mrs. Pearl Cook and Mrs. Robert Johnson supervise the intermediate group.

Study in the school is based upon a system of prepared courses. Each class presents a study of the Bible suited to the understanding of the pupils in that particular class.

During the two week session a number of guest speakers will be introduced to the school assembly. Such speakers will bring a better understanding of outside activities to the pupils. A complete personnel of these speakers will be arranged as the work progresses.

Last week Miss Parr, missionary to Japan, spoke concerning the work being accomplished there. Miss Parr, who is an English citizen, was much thrilled during the visit at the school. It was her first experience in seeing American pupils salute the flag and bearing them sing America. Another guest speaker gave a much appreciated talk about the Navajo Indians. Their problems and how they are being helped made a very interesting story.

Studies are lightened by a program of recreation which teaches and entertains at the same time. Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Webb conduct classes for girls in sewing, clay modeling, and basketry. Miss Haynes assists with the sewing instruction.
