For Unto Us a Saviour Is Born!

AND she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shown round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which was told them concerning this child.

And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were hold them by the shepherds.

The Gift of a Calendar

Calendars have for many years been popular gifts for Christmas. It is a present that lasts. If you are presented with a pretty calendar that identifies all those 366 days of 1940, you have something at once useful and which will serve as a reminder of the giver on each of those 366 days.

If in addition the calendar displays nice bits of poetry or philosophy from the world's wisest people, giving inspiration for every week or day, you have something that will lift you quite a distance along life's pathway. A thought that puts hope and confidence into one's heart may be a great deal better than a gift of money.

If we could only live up to all those quotations that our friends give us on those calendars, and do all the things that those poets and philosophers tell us to do, we would indeed perform some stunts that would surprise our friends.

BORN IN A STABLE

On the hills above Bethlehem, the shepherds were keeping watch over their flocks by night, and, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, "Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger."

And it came to pass that when the angel had gone away from them into heaven, that the shepherds pressed with haste into Bethlehem to see that which was told them. There lying in the manger they found the babe. The hour had struck. God had sent forth his son, born of a woman to become one with us, sin apart. Christ, the second person of the God-head had stripped himself of his glory and stepped down to walk among men and reveal the heart-throb of his father's love for fallen man.

Next came the Magi, the wise men. They fell down and worshipped Him and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts: gold, frankincense and myrrh. GOLD which spoke of royalty, Christ the King. FRANKINCENSE which told God's delight in Him. "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." And Christ could say that he came not to do his own will but the will of his father who sent Him, and MYRRH. Here you see the shadow of the Cross even now at the manger. For later when He laid down His life Myrrh was used as they made ready His body for burial. GOLD, Christ the King. FRANKINCENSE, His holy life. MYRRH, His death for our sins.

Human reason says, "I must see the thing, and handle it or I cannot believe it." Where reason leaves off faith takes up. By faith we see the unseen things of God and are made strong for the tests and trials of life. By faith we see across into the land that is fairer than day where the Father waits over the way. And so we sing, "My faith looks up to thee; thou Lamb of Calvary, Saviour divine! Now hear me while I pray; take all my guilt away, O let me from this day be wholly thine."

Christmas Gifts of Today —The Heirlooms of Tomorrow

THERE is no time like the present to start these lovely needlepoint pieces for Christmas gifts. Turn your leisure hours into interesting ones—and at the same time, create useful decorative pieces of true heirloom value. Needlepoint lends to the home a charm which cannot be equalled. Needlepoint—with the glamour of centuries of tradition is the utterly fascinating handwork that has the added advantage of being easy to pick up. We realize nowadays that needlepoint is not as hard to do as it may seem and the above Hiawatha Needlework Guild, are doubly easy. All come packaged—each a complete outfit. Once you start, you'll never stop—and the finished product more than repays you for the effort put into it. These unusual needlepoint package outfits can be found, with other fine designs, for chair seats, benches, footstools and many other uses, in the art needlework department of your favorite store.
