Thompson Purchases Grocery

Last Saturday night the Locker Grocery, formerly operated by H. Humbyrd, was taken over by B. G. Thompson, who comes to Beaverton from Baker.

In addition to the regular line of groceries formerly carried, Mr. Thompson states that he plans to specialize in a fresh produce department.

He further states that he has been looking for a desirable location since last August from Hood River to Eugene and that Beaverton looks best to him, both from a desirable place in which to live and from a promising business standpoint. He seems to think that it is easier to find a business location than a place to move his family, which he is moving as soon as living quarters can be found.

Theneat department and frozen food lockers remain, as before, under the management of Speedy Classen and Elmer Stipe. Mr. Humbyrd has not announced his plans.

State Game Department Traps 261 Beaver

The state game department live-trapped and transplanted 261 beaver during the past summer and fall as part of the first wildfire restoration project approved for Oregon under the federal Pittman-Robertson act, which furnished three-fourths of the funds. The work was handled by a crew of six men, all of whom were graduates of the fish and game management course at the state college.

More beaver could have been trapped during this period had it not been for the policy of the department to remove beaver only from places where they were doing damage to private property. All planting sites were surveyed in advance for suitable food and water conditions. In addition to these requirements, the beaver were released in locations where the population was scarce or nonexistent and where they would be of value in conserving water in the streams and would not conflict with agricultural interests.

Most of the beaver were planted on public lands in seventeen counties including Grant, Baker, Union, Wallowa, Lake, Harney, Wasco, Umatilla, Malheur, Crook, Douglas, Tillamook, Lane, Benton, Marion, Deschutes, and Gilliam.

Live trapping beaver is feasible only during the summer and fall and it is planned to continue the project next season. In previous years this work was carried on by the game department in cooperation with the biological survey and forest service but the use of Pittman-Robertson funds makes it possible to do the work on a larger scale.

Hi Students Members Of Kiwanis

Bill Mashofsky and Howard Johnson were received into the Kiwanis club as junior members in full standing at the weekly meeting Wednesday night in Kiwanis hall. Bill and Howard were chosen by the student of Beaverton high to represent the school. Bill is president of the student body and Howard vice president. Both will be assigned committee work to familiarize them with Kiwanis service work. President Bill Stratton gave the welcome to the boys and Secretary Earl Horsell presented them with membership pins.

The high school held the spot light on the program as the most of the entertainers was furnished by the high school students. Bill Mashofsky had charge of the musical numbers. Vivian Eggers rendered a harmonica selection; Earl Drorbaugh made his accodian talk; while Calvin Lehman showed how he placed first with his trumpet in a contest at Newberg recently. Calvin was accompanied by Maxine Cady. Evelyn Kidder gave a humorous reading.

The second part of the program was a movie showing of new industrial frontiers by L. R. Metzler. It was a fine program and was enjoyed by a capacity attendance.

Next Wednesday night will be the regular ladies night of the club.
