Open Letter To Citizens

Dear Friends:

It is with pleasure that we again announce the annual firemens ball which is to be held on Saturday night February 17 at the high school gymnasium

This is an event by which you, the people of Beaverton and surrounding communities, can express your appreciation and thanks for the fire protection rendered you by the department.

The proceeds from the dance will be used to purchose new and more modern equipment.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Eddie Burke and his 7-piece band from Portland. This orchestra was recently featured at the President's birthday ball in Portland, at which time it was heard on a coast to coast hook-up. They also recently played for the Multnomah fireman's ball and reports from there indicate that their dance was a great success of which the music was no small part.

Price of admission wil be 75c a couple. Tickets may be obtained from any of the firemen or boy scouts.

Give us your support and have an enjoyable evening at the same time. Yo will be doing yourself a favor.

Thank you.

Members of the Beaverton Volunteer Fire Department.

Loyal M. Graham Offers Services To Party

Loyal M. Graham of Forest Grove offers his services to the republican party as a candidate for state senator in a statement issued this week.

Mr. Graham said, "Of late years the republican party has had some reverses. These should be changed to successes. If, by being a candidate for the State Senate, I could be of service to the party, and help to recover the supremacy in Washington County long held by the Republicans, I would offer myself as a candidate for that office. But I do not care to go into a competitive campaign. If I am the man most likely to be successful in the election, and be of most benefit to all the people as a senator, let my friends come forward and say so. If I am not that type of a man in the opinion of myfriends, then I want to know it, so that I can help some other worthy man. I have no time to throw away, and no money to squander in a useless primary campaign. If I cannot do good in public life, then I want to stay home and attend to my law business."

Poultry Meeting Feb. 13

Brooder house mortality and related problems will be discussed by Dr. E. M. Dickinson, poultry vetenarian from Oregon State college at 8 o'clock Tuesday, February 13, at the regular monthly meeting of the poultrymen to be held in the Beaverton high school, reports Palmer Torvend, assistant county agent.

Marlin Lohns was initiated into the order. Refreshments were served in the dining room.

Mrs. M. C. McKercher and son George were dinner guests at the G. A. Gilmore home in Portland on Monday evening.

Safety First Important

Forty-two percent of the pedestrian fatalities of 1939 involved persons commiting some obviously imprudent action at the time the accidents occurred.

These unsafe actions included jaywalking, crossing intersections against traffic signals or diagonally, crossing major highways without taking adepuate precautions, walking with traffic instead of facing it on highways, stepping of curbings without first looking both ways, walking into the side of passing cars stepping out in the street from between parked cars or playing in the roadway.

Forty-nine percent of the pedestrian fatalities occurred while persons were crossing streets or highways. This figure indicates the necessity of taking every precaution when starting across a busy highway or street.

A common error made by pedestrians is to start across a street without looking for cars before stepping off the curb Studies of pedestrian accidents have shown that nearly half the pedestrians killed are struck before they are more than three steps away from the curb, indicating that they did not look for cars coming from their left before stepping into the street

Illustrating the danger of walking along the highways with traffic instead of facing it, figiures show that 13 persons were killed while walking on the right side of the highway against six deaths while walking on the left side. Jaywalking, or crossing streets between intersections, took 13 lives during the year.

School To Give Big Carnival

A carnival will be given by the Beaverton grade school on February 16 at 7:30 in the grade school auditorium. At the close of the carnival a door prize will be given. Throughout the evening various numbers will be presented on the stage. Humorour, fun-loving clowns will add to the carnival spirit. Many booths and other attractions have been planned to assure a good time for all.

For those who like to consult the wise for future actions, a colorfully clad gypsy will (for a slight renumeration, of course) fortell all the pleasant things in store for you.

Or, if by chance, you are a fisherman, you may fish at the fish pond. Then, carrying out the true fisherman spirit, you might pose for a picture with your catch. Maybe, however, your skill lies in accuracy, then throw at the nigger babies. These and many other amusements are planned for your enjoyment.

The proceeds from the carnival will be used to buy some much-needed atnletic equipment and song books for assembly singing.

Remember the date— February 16, Friday evening. A rollicking good time is in store for you at the grade school auditorium. The admission is only one thin dime.

Pelican In Possession of Beavers

Invading Raymond, Washington, seventeen strong for the purpose of claiming the inter-club pelican in possession of the Raymond Kiwanis club, the group returned Wednesday evening at dinner time with the prized bird. The Raymond club had just won the bird last Tuesday from the Clatskanie club. They had not had possession long enough to feed the big bill. The pelican was started on its way in 1935 by the Klammath Falls club. It first going to The Dalles club Possession is gained by the club sending a delegation whose mail miles totals higher than those of the club holding the bird. The distance one way is multiplied by the number in the visiting party, this is then multiplied by 50, the result is then divided by the club membership. Beaverton's mileage was 4533.

Those making the trip and reporting a wonderful time were; Lee Richey, inter-club chairman in charge of the caravan; Bill Stratton, Earl Horsell, the story teller of the party; Otto Keil, Cecil Martin, Leonard Adams, Joe McMahon, Al Jannsen, A. L. Berg, Dewey Drorbaugh, Elmer Benson, Ted Emerson, Jay Gibson, H. R. Findley, Harold Miller, Albert Wilson and Earl Drorbaugh.

Program for the evening was reports of the Raymond trip, an open discussion with committee reports followed by a film showing of "Men and Machines."

Livestock Breeders Plan For Fair

A representative group of Oregon purebred livestock breeders met early this month with Director J. D. Mickle and Manager Leo Spitzbart of the state fair to discuss plans and recommend a few changes in the premium list for the 1940 fair.

The group indicated breeders would do their full share to make the fair better than ever and also expressed pleasure with the increased facilities offered for the livestock displays.

Must Label Honey

Considerable Oregon honey that does not carry a proper label has been found on the market, department of agriculture food inspectors report. All honey offered for sale must indicate the grade on the container. Honey intercepted for lack of grade has been released as soon as the proper label has been supplied.
