AMERICANISM
"Americanism is unflinching love of country; loyalty to its institutions and ideals; eagerness to defend it against all enemies; undivided allegiance to the flag; and a desire to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

SOMEWHAT PERSONAL

The first thing this morning will be to apologize. Just how to get about it is the puzzling part. You see, this is how it comes about!

We talked with Mr. Davidson about that, to him, important event, his celebration of that sacrament, holy matrimony, and he surely told me the name of the other contracting party.

Let it also be said that certainly we never had any reason whatever for keeping Miss Watkins' name out of the news.

Like the regular people they are, neither Mr. nor Mrs. Davidson have called the matter to our attention. It came about in this manner:

The young hopeful, H. Russell Hunt, recently arrived from Oregon State College was going over the home town sheet and when he came to the item a big smile broke out over his countenance and turning to the chap who usually insists that he and not the boy it right, he caustically inquired: "Who was the lady?"

Well, all we can say in we are exceeding sorry we omitted Miss Elizabeth Watkins' name in giving an account of her marriage to Mr. Charles Davidson. And we promise that next time he, or she, or either or both of them get married we'll be very sure to mention both contracting parties.

AMERICAN WAY

In a recent address, Holgar J. Johnson, president of the Institute of Life Insurance, said that the free-born men and women of America must decide within the next ten years whether they are going to provide their own security through individual thrift and self-reliance, or rely more and more on the Federal government for support.

Mr. Johnson added that it is right and just for the Government to provide, through social security a living minimum for those unable to support themselves in old age. But it is a far cry from that to government going whole-hog into the insurance business, as has been proposed at various times.

Government is a consumer, not a producer of wealth. In a democracy the people support the government; government cannot support the people. And the establishment of any other system inevitably means the loss of those personal liberties that the American people have prized above all else. In this country the privately owned, publicly regulated life insurance has given us more earned social security than any other nation has ever enjoyed. That is the American Way. It must be maintained if the America we know is to live on and on.

Many a poorly paid employee can be thankful he is not a partner and getting nothing. Blondes were invented to keep married life from running too smoothly. The moment a lie is born it starts running.

How About Gooseberries?

By Frances Lee Barton

HOW about having a gooseberry treat or two now that their short season is here? Grandmother's year would have been spoiled without a gooseberry pie, and even though she may have seemed a bit old-fashioned to us, you may be sure that a gooseberry pie is just as up-to-date today as it was in the early decades. Try this recipe for a surprise dessert:

Delicious Gooseberry Pie
4 cups prepared gooseberries; 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca; 1 1/2 cups sugar; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon grated orange rind; 2 tablespoons melted butter; 1 recipe pie crust.
Remove stem and blossom ends from gooseberries, wash thoroughly, and cut in halves. Add tapioca, sugar, salt, orange rind, and butter, and let stand 15 minutes. Line a 9-inch pie plate with 1/2 of pastry rolled 1/4 inch thick. Fill with gooseberry mixture. Moisten edge of pastry with cold water and add just top crust, cutting several slits to permit escape of steam. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 minutes, then decrease heat to moderate (350° F.) and bake 20 minutes longer, or until filling is cooked.

Cherries Ripe and Cherries Red

By Frances Lee Barton

HAVE you any of this year's sour cherries available? If not, do you have a can or two left over from last season? If the answer is still "No!", I suggest you purchase some and try the following recipe for a dessert that will surprise and delight those to whom it is served. Easy to make, economical and delicious — a real "three-in-one" tasty.

Currant Ruby Molds
1/2 cup dried currants; 1 cup red cherry juice (from canned sour cherries); 1 cup hot water; 1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 2 tablespoons sugar.
Add currants to cherry juice and cook slowly 10 minutes. Add hot water to make 1 pint liquid. Dissolve gelatin in hot liquid. Add salt and sugar. Chill. When slightly thickened turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold. Serves 4 to 6.

Fair In '40 On Its Way

These four dainty bits of femininity herald the coming of the 1940 Golden Gate International Exposition, to open on Treasure Island, in San Francisco Bay, May 25. With the famous Tower of the Sun as a background, Marguerite Skliris, left, and Jeanne Bon, Norma Folsom and Patsy Sheldon pose atop the significant 1-9-4-0.

NOBLE GRANDS HAVE POT LUCK

The Past Noble Grand's club met at the home of Mrs. Jay Frost Wednesday. Mrs. Nettie McElroy was joint hostess. Fourteen ladies attended the meeting. A pot luck dinner was enjoyed at noon. A beautifully decorated cake adorned the center of the table, honoring the birthday of Mrs. Harriet Francis. A business meeting followed.

TEACHERS GET PAY

The teachers who give the Bible Credit Course offered the Portland High school students, serve without pay. But such a product as the following is pay in itself. One of the boys turned this out in a recent test at the end of the first year which covered WHO IS WHO IN THE NEW TESTAMENT (New York, Philadelphia, Detroit, St. Louis, Omaha and other of the larger cities have already opened to the Bible work or the studying plan of released time during school hours.) Here is what the boy wrote:

"I would like to imitate PAUL'S CHARACTER TRAITS in doing what he thought was right. He persecuted the Christians because he thought that was the right thing to do. After his conversion, he worked just as hard carrying on Christ's work as he had worked to persecute the Christians. "Another of Paul's traits that is well worth following is his bravery. He was willing to suffer anything if it aided Christianity. An example of this is his being stoned at Lystra. I would like to imitate Paul in his kindness. He performed many miracles. "I would profit by being as unselfish as Paul. When he was on trial before Festus and before Felix and before Agrippa and Bernice he spent the time preaching the Gospel to them instead of trying to defend himself. "I would also like to be as mentally alert as Paul. Between the Pharisees and the Sadducees he cleverly brought up the question of the resurrection, when he was being tried before the Sanhedrin. "And last but not least, I would like to imitate Paul's character trait in relying on God for had he not been Spirit guided, he never would have accomplished what he did." So wrote the boy. And now we ask the question that we can not put to them in the school room: "when you pass from here will it be to meet Christ as Saviour or will it be to meet your sins and Christ as Judge? God commendeth His love to us in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us." WHICH FOR YOU OUT IN ETERNITY? TO HAVE GOD'S LOVE OR TO HAVE ANGUISH AND WOE FOREVER? WHICH? CHRIST YOUR SAVIOUR, OR CHRIST, THE JUDGE? WHICH FOR YOU OUT IN ETERNITY?

Toeing the Line at '40 Fair

Why men will visit Treasure Island for the 1940 Golden Gate International Exposition may easily be understood if you cast your eyes over these ten young girls, who will be featured in "Golden Days of '40," the California World's Fair's opening production, to be staged May 25 and 26.
