Scouting The West Slope Team

The softball game of the season will be played on the Beaverton high school athletic field next Wednesday night between Beaverton Kiwanians who have been challenged to cross bats with the swift aggregation known far and wide as the West Slope Improvement club. For some time there has been a sort of feud between these two bunches of fellows and now is the time when each is promising all and sundry what they will do to those fellows from the other altitude. So just a little inside information seems to be what the other fellow wants. And here is the low down on the West Slopers.

These West Slope fellows will average over 50 years in age.

In rounding up the players, Henry Dahl, their manager, discovered there was too much talent in the locality for just ONE team and with considerable difficulty pruned down to THREE teams, each to play 3 innings.

Every man on the team has a fast that's a pippen (in baseball?) It is therefore to be hoped that the Kiwanian gang can get together a sufficient number to offer some competition. Of course there were a few who were reluctant to admit anything but an amateur status(?) but with a little encouragement (very little, in fact) it was discovered that practically every woman's son of them had formerly played class AA Major baseball.

After listening to them tell how "good they used to be," Manager Dahl has about decided to enter them in the Liars' contest this fall against all.

Here are the names of that team. J. G. Torrance, H. Dahl, J. E. Christensen, Chet Davis, John and Lewis Pointer, H. A. Speer, A. H. Watson, Dr. E. J. Benz, F. Statter, Dick Kuenke, W. D. Cameron, J. A. Pelletiere, Jack Furlong, Frank E. Nichol, Hy Samuels, Jim Valley, Fred Moore, Bert Cultus (Kingfish), G. Osborne, D. M. Davis, G. J. Davis, M. Peake, C. A. Flanigan, W. R. Hurst, V. O. Steenrod, Fred Hoffman, A. L. Davis, Bob Deagle, C. F. Bean, V. O. Butts, A. C. Ackerman, Ralph Davis, F. H. Mathis, Les Getchell, Joe Kienle, E. S. Davis, R. D. Burgard, Tom McHugh, A. Swanson, Bill Fangle (and L. Adams?).

Some sort of statistics: H. Dahl formerly played on the old Oregon Blind School until they found what was the matter they couldn't win a game.

J. T. Christensen claims to have been with the Yankees in 1916.

John and Lewis Pointer were always bushers (couldn't he fast enough to get any higher rating), H. A. Speer pitched for the Boston Bloomer Girls' team. A. H. Watson is from the Texas League of Women Voters. Dr. Benz was (and still is) a world-famous conditioner of all kinds of athletes) never batting less than .475. L. Adams is an umpire of the first water, and will therefore umpire the contest. Being a member of both the Kiwanians and the West Slopers puts him on the spot but the West Slopers want to be fair and they don't care what he does as long as he favors them. Jack Furlong used to play on the famous Canyon Drive team, but we found no trace of its history. Fred Moore once played on some long forgotten Beaverton team but has since reformed. B. Cultus played with Meier & Frank's Widow Trimmers, and it is said that with the wind up and with a hop, skip and a jump he could throw from one end of a window to the other. C. A. Flanigan was a professional pitcher at about the time St. Patrick was doing that snake stunt. V. O. Steenrod never was on any team anywhere but he talked so fast they believed he easily made the Red Sox. J. G. Torrance formerly caught for

RAY TOWERS BRINGS GUITAR

There isn't a fisherman in the lot, it was learned at the regular meeting of the local Kiwanis Wednesday, June 19. It seems that they are all softball players. Bill Grauer, manager for the Kiwanis softballers is hunting for that lame duck, some one said his team had.

Bill has been hunting for the "Charley Horses," but both local doctors assure him there "just sint no such animal."

Anyway, Wednesday night, at 8:15 we'll find out what a game it is (or was).

The local Kiwanians were royally entertained by Ray Towers, Portland who sang cowboy songs to his own accompaniment on the guitar.

CELEBRATES THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Welch of Beaverton, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, June 16, with a party at their home just east of Bernard's corner.

Among those who congratulated them on the happy occasion were friends from Roseburg, Portland and Beaverton.

Though birth dates tell of advancing years, both Mr. and Mrs. Welch are physically strong, active and youthful in spirit and still believe in married life.

The happy couple received many beautiful gifts to say nothing of the great big decorated cake with a little bride and groom standing in the center of it.

There were about thirty guests and music and dancing was enjoyed. The Review joins with their hosts of friends in wishing many happy returns of this very gracious occasion.

SILENTLY PASSING

Benjamin F. Daly
B. F. Daly, husband of postmaster Daly, died suddenly Tuesday night from pneumonia.

The Dalys had been visiting the Postmaster Convention at Corvallis and had gone to Newport with part of the party. As is quite usual there was a party formed to deep sea fishing. The Dalys went along. While adjusting his sun glasses a great wave hit the boat and Mr. Daly was thrown against the work of the boat, breaking several ribs. He was taken to a Portland hospital where he seemed to be on the way to quick recovery but pneumonia set in Tuesday, noon and he lasted only a few hours.

B. F. Daly was born on a farm at Prina, Illinois, February 22, 1872. The old hedge around the place still stands though the old house has gone.

His education was received at Pana near his birthplace.

While still young he went to Kansas City where young Daly went into the plumbing business. About 30 years ago he came to Oregon and some 17 years ago he brought his family to Beaverton.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Neta Daly, postmaster, two children, Mrs. Frances Ward and Joseph L. Daly, both of Portland; a sister, Mrs. Ella Plummer and a brother, Harry G., both of Kansas City; and three grand children.

Funeral services will be at Pegg's Funeral Parlors where Willard Hall will deliver the sermon, W. E. Pegg in charge of arrangements, at 2:30 p.m. Interment will be at Lincoln Memorial cemetery.

Mrs. Ella Plummer of Kansas City is coming here on account of the death of her brother, the late B. F. Daly.

SANDERS ENLISTS IN THE REGULARS

Richard Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanders of R. 1 has enlisted in the regular army for the 29th engineers, topographical battalion, stationed at Portland, according to an announcement by Lieutenant Colonel H. D. Bagnell, Portland recruiting officer. He is the first local young man to enlist under the provisions of the Government rearmament program.

Eastern Star Closes With Gala Event

A Beaverton woman, Mrs. Dora E. Stipe, closed a brilliant year of accomplishment as Worthy Grand Matron of Eastern Star of Oregon at the 51st annual Grand Chapter sessions of the Star June 10 to 13 at the Masonic Temple in Portland. Sharing honors with her were two other Beaverton women who had served the Grand Chapter with distinction as part of Mrs. Stipe's regime.

"Gracious Lady" was the affectionate appellation bestowed universally on Mrs. Stipe as she presided throughout the sessions of as brilliant and colorful an assemblage of fraternalism as was ever paraded by the Lodge. Colorful, even to the name, "Rose Session" an inspiration of Mrs. Stipe's in recognition of the month of roses. Portland the City of Roses and in honor of her husband, Elmer Stipe's favorite flower.

Mrs. Marion Talbert, Grand Marshal, captured popular acclaim as one of the most outstanding women at the Session. Very striking was the efficiency with which she performed the most exacting duties of her office.

Mrs. Myrtle Feisler as international temple fund committee member served well and faithfully all the duties of her office during this regime.

Mrs. Talbert, with the aid of Mrs. Iva Summers, Mrs. Stipe's sister, were responsible for the lovely rose chiffon dresses worn by all the Grand officers and for the equally beautiful green marquisette and lace gowns of the pages.

Nine of the fourteen pages spent their school days in Beaverton and knew Mrs. Stipe intimately and loved her well.

Little Duane Cushman, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Cushman, and Virginia Talbert, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. R. Talbert, made very charming Heralds leading the Courtesy Girls as they in their turn escorted the Grand Officers to the East.

Mrs. Stipe was responsible for two innovations in the routine of the Grand Chapter sessions. At her direction delegates and the Grand Chapter officers met for a get-together banquet attended by more than 550 at the Masonic Temple Monday evening, June 10, as a social prelude to the Grand Chapter sessions.

SUMMER SCHOOL OUT THIS WEEK

Summer school 4-H delegates who have been attending the summer session at Oregon State College in Corvallis will arrive home Friday morning, June 21 according to Palmer Torvend, assistant county agent.

Following is a schedule of the time and places where the club members may be met: bus No. 1, Forest Grove postoffice, 11:00 a.m.; Cornellus postoffice, 11:10 a.m.; Hillsboro Court House 11:20 a.m.; Bus No. 2, Six Corners, Barge's Store, 11:30 a.m.; Tigard postoffice, 11:45; Beaverton postoffice, 11:30; Aloha postoffice at 11:45 and Hillsboro Court House at noon.

General chairman for this brilliant affair was Mrs. Dorothy Hurlig, Worthy Matron of Waverly Chapter, Portland, who had the able assistance of assistant chairman Mrs. Eva Wells, Worthy Matron of Victory Chapter, and George Buckwell, Worthy Patron of Waverly Chapter, Portland, and Mrs. Anna McPheeters, worthy matron of Tuslatin chapter Hillsboro.

Toastmaster for the occasion was Ben H. Nichols, Corvallis, worthy grand patron, who has shared Mrs. Stipe's responsibilities as co-presiding officer of the Grand Chapter throughout the year.

Known for his dignified manner, Mr. Nichols surprised and delighted the gay gathering at the banquet with a rare display of humor in his role as toastmaster.

The second innovation credited to Mrs. Stipe was the impressive appearance of a vested choir as part of the opening ceremonies of the Grand session Tuesday morning. The eight women of the choir, singing "Open the Gates of the Temple," marched to the East and onto the stage which was a replica of a cathedral with windows of parchment containing figures taken from the ritual.

Dark wine-colored velvet drapes framed the windows and tall, lighted candles gave the scene a dignity that greatly impressed the gathering.

Distinguished guests for the Grand sessions included Jessie Belton Hedges, Yakima, Worthy Grand Matron of Washington; Frank W. Leach, Kelso, Worthy Grand Patron of Washington; Ann Hansen, Castle Rock, Grand Ruth; Irene Langmack, Selah, Grand Warder of Washington.

Beaver chapter had its own important role in the sessions to play when it shared in the exemplification of ritualistic work Wednesday night. Officers of the chapter exemplified the balloting and initiation and officers of St. Mary's, Corvallis, exemplified opening, escort, the good of the order and closing.

Officers of these two chapters paid pleasing tribute to Mrs. Stipe and Mr. Nichols when they named their ritualistic group, for the occasion, "The Bendoria Chapter No. 1940."

VOTE TO PUT IN NEW FURNACE

At the school meeting held Monday evening in the assembly room at the high school, there were 27 voters present and all seemed of the same mind for there was nary a dissenting vote on any question that came up for consideration.

W. D. Cameron was re-elected to succeed himself as director and Mrs. Althea Haukenbeck for clerk for the coming year.

The voters sanctioned issuing a $5,000 warrant to take care of three items which seemed to need attention but which were not included in the budget as published. One was the re-wiring of the high school. Some of the wiring had been in a long time and was thought unsafe. One was the purchase of a new furnace for the high school, the old one having been doing duty for about a quarter of a century and for the past several years it has been required to heat beyond its rated capacity.

The third item was that of putting a floor in the play shed at the grade school. This place has been unroofed and the directors thought in the interest of good health for the children the expenditure was justified.

At the banquet above referred to Miss Anita Pienovi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Pienovi gave two of her charming dance performances, "Spiria of the Rose" and the "Butterfly Dance."

At the same gathering Miss La Ray Martyn gave two whistling solos, "Will You Remember Me" from Maytime and "Listen to The Mockingbird," by Winner.

At the installation of Mrs. Halie Huntington, Eugene, as Worthy Grand Matron and William J. McKenzie, Portland as Worthy Grand Patron, Mrs. Hazel Ingraham Folsom, Past Worthy Grand Matron, presented Mrs. Stipe with the Past Worthy Grand Matron's jewel and Rex Davis, Salem, Past Worthy Grand Patron presented a similar jewel to Ben H. Nichols.

As the Grand Lodge of Masons opened their sessions mid-week, Mrs. Iva Summers of Beaver chapter was named one of a group of four Star members to convey greetings from the Grand Chapter to the Grand Lodge.
