Corn Show To Be Held Nov. 7, 8, 9.

The eleventh annual 4-H club corn show sponsored by the Commercial - National Bank, in which $75.00 in prize money is offered, will be held November 7, 8 and 9, in the bank lobby, according to Palmer Torvend, assistant county agent. 4-H club members taking part in the show must have their corn and record books turned in at the bank or at the county agent office by noon November 7.

The annual banquet, which is a part of the corn show for 4-H corn club members and parents, will be held November 8 at 7 p.m. in the Hillsboro grange hall. Speakers invited for the banquet are R. E. Fore, farm crops department, Oregon State College, L. J. Allen and H. C. Seymour, state 4-H club leaders, and others. A. H. Abts, field representative of the bank, will show his moving pictures taken of the corn club members. Other interesting numbers are also being planned for the program. The bank is setting aside $75 in prize money to be awarded the winners in the various classes at this show. Exhibits will consist of 25 ears of Minnesota 13 corn selected from the club members own planting. Awards will also be made to the club members having the highest yield per acre.

BEAVER "B'S" TAKE NEWBERG RESERVES

Tuesday afternoon Newberg "A" squad reserves came to Beaverton and took a "shellacking" to the tune of 12 to 0.

The first score came in the second quarter when Jokes, on an end run on the ten yard line crossed to pay dirt. The point after touchdown was missed.

The other score came in the third quarter when Hamal on a line buck with good blocking, ran fifty yards for a touchdown. This is the second game the Beaver "B's" have had with the Newberg reserves. The first game ended in a 7 to 7 tie.

The Beaver line-up: LE, J. Myers; LT, B. Rennie; LG, D. Stark; C, P. Scheffel; RG, A. Huserik; RT, A. Carlson; RE, J. Painter; G, Tolleson; F, H. Hamal; LH, Dimeo; RH, O. Rideway (captain).

This same team will start the game with Hillsboro "B" squad at Beaverton Thursday.

DATES NAMED IN WRITING CONTEST

Beginning and closing dates of the state news writing contest, which has been conducted for the past several years for 4-H club members, were received this week by Palmer Torvend assistant county agent. The opening date for the 1940-41 contest, in which a club member writes news articles for his local paper and keeps track of the number written, has been set for November 1. The closing date for the 1939-40 contest is October 31st. The news articles prepared by club members are due in the state 4-H club office at this time and a committee of judges there will select the boy and girl winning these scholarships to 4-H club summer school which are awarded to the winners in this contest. Further information about this contest may be obtained at the county agent's office.

STEALS COP'S CAR; LANDS IN JAIL

Distribution of a bicycle poster entitled, "Do's and Don'ts For Bicycle Safety" will start by the traffic safety division of the Secretary of State's office in the near future. It was announced today. The poster is in three colors, 19 by 24 inches and stresses good bicycle riding technique to prevent accidents and type.

The poster will be distributed to schools, clubs and other organizations where bicycle riders gather. Any school, or other group interested in obtaining a copy of these posters is invited to write to the Traffic Safety Division, Secretary of State's Office, Salem, and the posters will be sent post paid.

Distribution of these posters is a part of the state's campaign against bicycle accidents. Another phase of the campaign is the bicycle manual which is under preparation by the above-mentioned safety department.

The working day, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., proved the most dangerous time of day, so far as traffic accidents were concerned during the month of September, figures compiled by the Secretary of State disclose today.

During September 53% of the fatal accidents occurred, 50% of all accidents were reported and 42% of accidents causing personal injuries occurred.

This predominance of accidents between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. is a departure from the normal accident experience in Oregon where most of the serious accidents occur between the hours of 4:00 p.m. and 9:00 p.m. No reason for this variation during the month just passed has been offered.

Forty-two percent of these fatalities in September involved pedestrians and 90% of the pedestrian victims were 40 years of age or older while 72% of them were engaged in some unsafe action at the time of the accident.

While 74% of the traffic accidents reported in the state during September occurred in business districts, 73% of the fatal accidents were on rural highways.

Fall Festival Sponsored By P. T. A.

The Beaverton P-T A. is giving a Fall Festival on Friday, November 8, which is one week from today.

This Festival will be held in the Play Shed at the Grade school and promises to be an evening of real fun and entertainment.

There will be a real auction sale conducted by a clever auctioneer who will not only sell the articles offered but will, if you don't watch out see to it that you get a deal too.

The men have promised to put on a program of their very own, but right now we are not at liberty to divulge, but they will have something amusing, instructive and entertaining.

Then there is the magician—and if he can't raise a laugh, you should go home and take some of the multitudinous remedies you hear so frequently prescribed over the radio, like Aniseed, or Selzer's Promo. No one knows how he gets the rabbits out of the Parson's hat nor where the money comes from he gathers in out of thin air.

To help put this show over you are requested to bring along something to be auctioned off, like a cake, fruit canned goods, pictures, anything for which you no longer have use but that can be used by someone else. Perhaps it may be some cast-off clothing that some one can make over.

Anyway, remember the date, November 8; and the place, the Grade school play shed.

PREXY PEAVY AT KIWANIS MEETING

At their regular meeting, Wednesday October 30, the Beaverton Kiwanis were addressed on "Some Reflections on American Democracy" by George W. Peavy, President Emeritus of O. S. C. He said that "The people are face to face with a new life philosophy and if the present form of democracy is to be maintained, military preparedness alone is not enough. We need spiritual preparedness as well."

The industrial, or machine age, has changed our concept of life. In a large number of our large cities the American "Melting Pot" has failed to melt.

He finished with this thought, "The answer to the whole problem is not yet apparent."

Visitors for the evening include Miss Maxine Cade, Mrs. Jos. Shelby and Albert Kemmer, candidates for State Senator for to attend the Americanization this district.

An invitation to the Kiwanis meeting at the Grade school on Thursday evening, November 7, given by Chas. Carlson, secretary of Beaverton Lodge No. 252 I.O.O.F., was read by Kiwanis secretary, Earl Horrell.

Following the Kiwanis meeting some of the members stayed and played cards. Mrs. Wm. Stratton and Dewey Drorbaugh won the honors.

GILL PLEADS FOR PAY INCREASE

Speaking officially as head of Oregon State Grange and for farmers generally, Ray Gill, the Grange president, adds his endorsement to the volume of approval given by labor, fraternal and civic organizations to the constitutional amendment for increasing the pay of legislators which is to be voted on November 5.

"For several years the Oregon State Grange has supported an amendment to the constitution to increase the pay of legislators," Mr. Gill says, "and I urge the farmers and citizens generally to support the amendment this year. Considering the important authority vested in the Oregon legislature and the vital effect of the legislation upon all our people, it is essential to the public welfare that we pay a decent salary to those who do this work. Therefore it is important to vote 306 X Yes."

"The proposed salary increase is not unreasonable when we take into consideration the expense of the campaign, the long hours of tedious work, and the

PREMIUM LIST OUT FOR CORN SHOW

Premium lists for the Oregon State Corn Show are available at the Washington county agent's office in the court house in Hillsboro, according to W. P. Cyrus, county agent. This corn show will be held at the Oregon State college, November 22nd and 23rd.

Washington county growers will compete in district number one which comprises Hood River, Multnomah, Washington, Yamhill, Clackamas, Columbia, Clatsop and Tillamook counties. In addition to the classes of standard varieties of corn there will also be an open class for hybrid corn. Prizes for corn exhibits and for the annual corn shucking contest for growers are offered in cash and a silver cup.

time lost from work or business."

Proponents of the measure call attention to the fact that for years it has been impossible for the legislature to complete its labors within the statutory limit of forty days, and in the 1777 session the legislators were forced to remain 26 days beyond the limit; serving 26 days with out pay and at their own expense, resulting in an average pay for the session of slightly less than $1.82 a day. Among others who have endorsed the measure are the American Legion, the Oregon Railroad Brotherhood, the W.C.T.U., service clubs, chambers of commerce and numerous other organizations.

The proposed increase in pay it is pointed out, would mean an

PROGRESS MADE FOR PRODUCE MOVE

A definite improvement in the free flow of produce between Oregon, Washington, California, and Idaho has been realized as a result of conferences held in the last two years by Department of Agriculture standardization officials of the four states, leaders declared following the third of such conferences held the latter part of October at Dorris, California.

Frank McKennon, plant division chief who represented the Oregon Department, reports the most important accomplishments of the recent meeting was the clearing up of a situation in regard to movement of pears from Oregon and Washington to the docks at San Francisco for export shipment. Shipments, as a result of the conference, will now be cleared across the line by statement of inspection from state of origin that the fruit is for export and meets such requirements.

This will mean that California inspectors will not examine such loads and consequently will reduce the inspection fee for all export truckload shipments going out of these states via the dock at San Francisco.

Other matters in regard to the free flow of produce shipments were also considered and certification problems cleared up, especially on the movement of apples across the California line. Working for further uniformity in potato disease nomenclature, a potato clinic was held for the border horticultural inspectors.

added cost to taxpayers, on a per capita basis, of less than 10 cents a year.
