It is good business to spend money to wipe out tuberculosis. It would be cheaper in the end than to go on bearing the terrific cost of caring for the tuberculosis.

AAA ELECTIONS SET

The election of community committeemen under the agricultural conservation program will take place the week of December 16-21 in this and all other counties in Oregon, according to word received from the state AAA office.

Each community in the county will elect a community chairman a vice-chairman, one regular and two alternate members, and a delegate to the county convention, at which county committeemen will be chosen the following week. All farmers who participate in the AAA farm program, or who intend to participate in 1941 are eligible to vote in the election.

County committeemen will be on hand to discuss the program at each of the community meetings, and will help with the elections. The community committeemen fill important positions in the local AAA setup as they recommend acreage allotments and establish yields for major crops. They also report proposed improvements of the farm program each year to keep it in line with the needs of the cooperating farmers.

THE shabby appearance and inadequate lighting common to neglected cellars can be greatly improved by the application of a couple of coats of light colored, washable paint to the concrete floor and walls as well as to the ceiling. Let new cement or concrete weather for several months before painting, or artificially neutralize the surface alkaline substances injurious to paint by washing with a chemical solution composed of two pounds of zinc sulfate to one gallon of water. Rinse well with clear water, and allow to dry out completely before the priming coat is applied.

To be sure of ingredient quality as well as correct paint formulation for each coat, mix all paint on the job from soft paste white lead, pure raw linseed oil and a high quality flattening vehicle. Apply a priming coat to concrete or cement composed of 6 parts (by volume) soft paste white lead, 5 parts each of raw linseed oil and lead mixing or lead reducing oil. Follow with body and finish coats of equal proportions of the paste white lead and either of the flattening oils. Finish off floor areas with a coat of wax or high grade floor varnish.

Q.—Is there a formula to determine the size of gutters and leaders which will assure adequate drainage?

A.—Yes. Except during downpours of unusual severity, full drainage is provided by gutters and leaders having 1 sq. in. of area for each 150 sq. ft. of roof surface.

Inspect gutters regularly as dirt, leaves—even vine growth—may clog the channels considerably reducing possible flow.

SCHOLARSHIP AT COLLEGE "COUNTS"

Oregon State College—Scholarship has come into its own as a campus "activity" here judging by the attention given it in the past few weeks by student organizations. Alpha Lambda Delta, sophomore honorary group entertained 30 freshmen whose grades were exceptionally high. Phi Kappa Phi, national scholastic honor society recently awarded certificates to 84 sophomores who, as freshmen, excelled in scholarship. Mortar Board, senior women's honor society, gave a "smarty party" for 75 juniors whose grades are such as to make them eligible.

WATER DISTRICT HOLDS ELECTION

The West Slope water district held their election for the office of commissioner Monday in Hiller's real estate office. The candidates were Arthur Jones, present incumbent and A. E. Anderson, formerly of near Beaverton, now living in Sylvan. Mr. Jones was re-elected, receiving 118 votes. Mr. Anderson received 46 votes. Several parcels of land joining were voted into the district. Beginning the first of February water rates for West Slope will be reduced.

ENLISTMENTS OPEN TO MINORS IN NAVY

Secretary of the Navy Knox has announced that in order to encourage enlistments of young men, particularly those of high school caliber, the U. S. Navy has reopened enlistments of minors between the ages of 17 and 18 to serve until they reach their 21st birthday. Enlistments of these young men will only be made with the consent of their parents or guardians.

This decision was made as an experiment with the enlistment of young men of this age from which approximately 20% of its first enlistments were obtained.

PAST MATRONS MEET AT HOME

The Past Matrons club of Beaver chapter met with Mrs.

Doy Gray for lunch Friday. Fifteen ladies were present at the business meeting. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Gertrude McCormack, pres. Mrs. Bess Lacy, secretary and treasurer.

Old Neckties

"What are you making?" The businessman leaned forward to look at the woman with the silvery gray hair spread out the pieces of cloth; she who smiled so easily and was glad to show what pattern would grow from these old ties and such. So they fell into easy visiting as the train ate up the miles. At length the woman spoke of the longer journey we all must take—"and what was his hope of reaching that heaven land?" so she asked.

He gave the usual answer. God knew how good he was been to his family. By that he would enter the pearly gates. "Does Christmas remind you of the birth of God's Son who came to dwell among us?" True it did, he agreed.

"And does Good Friday bring back the thought of how He suffered for our sins?" That it did. "And does His resurrection from the grave prove that He was very God Himself; the Victor over Death?" It did he agreed.

"If a man can save himself by being good to his family, why did Christ have to come to earth to die for us?" the woman pressed.

The train rolled into the terminal and as they parted, the man closed with "What you have said is not in vain. And the woman hoped it meant he had quit his self-goodness to put all his trust in Christ who SAVES—KEEPS—SATISFIES.

Heart must say, "Yes."

Now sum it up. "Not by works of righteousness we have done," says the BIBLE. Not by being good do we blot out sins of a lifetime. "But according to his mercy he—GOD—saves us." And how does he save us? This way—GOD so loved you and me that he gave his only begotten SON, that if we believe on HIM, we shall not perish but have eternal life.

Saved sinners die but once. At death they go out to meet

Him who loved them to His own death. Lost sinners die twice. After this life they must meet their sins and Christ, the Judge. You stand lost? Cry out to God for mercy. Untill your heart tells you it has laid hold on Christ as Saviour, keep crying to God to save you.

P. S. There is a Bible promise for every mile of rough going. If the road is hard and you crave a prayer partner, send your initials on a postal.

Iron Taylor.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD CHRISTMAS PICTURES

Use "discovery" shots such as this to round out the Christmas picture story. Try keeping a special year-by-year album of Christmas pictures—it's worth while.

AT OUR house, we have just finished making plans for our Christmas album, and we already have the equipment and supplies ready for it. This is one of our big camera projects every winter, and we always try to do our very best on holiday pictures.

Every year, our "scenario" is much the same—but of course each Christmas is different. A different tree, different gifts, different toys—and year by year in these holiday albums we can watch the children growing up, progressing to new interests and new playthings. This year, I guess, Jack will graduate to his first real "man-size" bicycle; and Ann will have her first sure-enough sewing machine. Those are the things that make the Christmas album interesting—and we wouldn't miss a year's chapter for anything.

I start getting pictures long before Christmas—some on the first shopping trips, others as gifts are being wrapped. Then I get some self-timer shots of myself setting up the tree (and the children now also get shots of that with their own cameras). Then we take quite a few shots as the tree is being decorated, and of course a shot or two of the youngsters hanging up their stockings.

Christmas morning, the children dash in for an early peek at the tree and the things under it, but nothing is disturbed until after breakfast. Then we put on an act for the camera. We have them peep over the upper stair rail, then pretend to come rushing down the stairs, then crawl under the tree for a look-see. Each of these is a picture—and we also get shots of the distribution and opening of the important gifts. Where gifts must be tried out—Jack's new bike, for example—we picture that too.

It makes a well-rounded story, and is fun to get. For the indoor shots, we use flood bulbs in most cases—flash bulbs in a few that include large areas. Since the tree is a dark subject, we decorate it heavily with tinsel and silver globes, and concentrate plenty of light on it to bring out the detail. That always makes it show up well. And of course for indoors we use high speed film.

Try it yourself this Christmas—instead of a few casual shots make a picture story and start a special album. Then year by year you can watch it grow into a treasure-book of memories.
