AMERICANISM

"Americanism is unflinching love of country; loyalty to its institutions and ideals; eagerness to defend it against all enemies; undivided allegiance to the flag; and a desire to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

TWO RESOLUTIONS OFFERED GRANGE

The Washington County Pomona Grange, in the business session held at Beaverton recently, adopted two resolutions. The one opposes any legislation tending to increase the length and the weight limitations on trucks using public highways. The other resolution, introduced by members from Tigard, where a crossing accident Christmas day caused the death of one person, — this resolution would make it compulsory the railroads place some sort of reflector on the side of their freight cars and flat cars. The idea seems to be that drivers could then see the cars and would not run into an obstructed crossing.

Charles Dickinson of Oswego installed the following named officers: J. LeRoy Mills, North Plains, Worthy Master; George Easterday, Hillsboro, Overseer; Mrs. Enid Walker, Winona, Lecturer; George Kirkpatrick, Scholls, Steward; Esteva Walker Winona, Assistant Steward; Chas. VanKleek, Tigard, Chaplain; R. G. Scott, Sherwood, Treasurer; Mrs. Fred Grant, Dixie Mountain, Secretary; E. J. Brown, Tigard, Gate keeper; Mrs. Alvah Logan, Washington, Ceres; Mrs. Harry Schmeitzer, Scholls, Pomona; Mrs. Evelyn Hohnstein, Beaverton, Flora; Dorothy Helmbach, Winona, Musician, and Harry Schmeitzer, New Executive Board Member. The boldover board members are Charles VanKleek of Tigard and C. W. Crawford, Green Mountain.

Next Pomona meeting was set for April on the grange at Forest Grove.

KNOWLEDGE AND WISDOM

Knowledge and wisdom, far from being one,
Have oft-times no connection.
Knowledge dwells,
In heels replete with thoughts of other men;
Wisdom in minds attentive to their own.
Knowledge, a rude, unprofitable mass,
The mere materials with which Wisdom builds,
Till smoothed and squared and fitted to its place,
Does but encumber whom it seems to enrich.
Knowledge is proud that he has learned so much,
Wisdom is humble that he knows no more.

—Wm. Cowper

If you would not be forgotten as soon as you are dead, either write things worth reading or do things worth writing.

—Franklin

Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, writing an exact man.

—Bacon

"The earth shook," said McIntyre, describing his experiences in a New Zealand earthquake. "Cups and saucers flew all over the place."

"Great Scott," exclaimed Mr. Miller, "that reminds me that I forgot to post my wife's letter."

The Newly Weds had new neighbors and the Mrs. was quite interested in them. In a few days she reported to her husband, "They seem such a devoted couple. He kisses her every time he goes out and even waves her kisses from the sidewalk. Why don't you do that?"

"Why don't I?" inquired the astonished Newly Wed. "Good heavens, I don't even know her — yet."

Sister's Viewpoint

Q: "What position does your brother play on the team?"
Sister: "O, A sort of crouched bent position." —The Recorder.

He who waits to do a great deal of good at once will never do anything. —Dr. Johnson

LARGE NUMBER IN OREGON ENLISTED

With 191 enlistments for the regular army during the month of December, the Oregon recruiting district of the regular army recruiting service finished the year 1940 with 2,967 enlistments to the state's credit, according to figures recently announced by Lieutenant Colonel B. H. Hensley, district recruiting officer. This figure set the best annual total recorded locally since the recruiting district was established in Oregon in 1922.

Local recruiting activities brought their best results during the month of October with the enlistments of 454 young Oregonians. Among district sub-stations, Salem was accorded first place with 237 enlistments for the year. Other major Oregon cities enlisted army volunteers as follows:

Astoria, 42; Baker, 133; Bend, 46; Corvallis, 29; Eugene, 196; Klamath Falls, 184; LaGrande, 37; Marshfield, 166; McMinnville, 7; Medford, 159; Pendleton, 74; and the Dalles, 70.

Uncle Billy's Last Cigar

Uncle BILLY'S Last Cigar lupfa "No one could tell me," says Uncle Billy (Wm. H.) Ridgeway, head of a Coatsville, Pa., concern. "If I wanted to sit out front and smoke my after-dinner cigar, that was my business." But the other speakers at the Young People's Conference did not like it. Under this man had grown the notable Rock Run Sunday school; he had seen the Iron Rose Bible class of husky workers take on size and power. Young people knew him as their friend and confidant. And for him to plead with them to follow the Christ-way and then the next hour to set an example that might be questioned, did not sit well with the other speakers. Feeling this way they entered into a compact to pray that God would quit Uncle Billy of the cigar habit, saying nothing to him about it.

Some months later a couple of them met Uncle Billy on the street in Philadelphia.

"Enjoying good health and your cigar as usual, Uncle?"

"Ha ha, boys, I'm done with Lady Nicotine forever. Lost my appetite for 'baccy'."

At this time, up went a shout of joy and more shouts. And so it is that this veteran businessman and witness for his Lord tells this as one case of answered prayer. It is here set forth, not to argue that God's people should or should not use tobacco. But we recall that when we know our ground and pray in faith, God works. "When we pray, God works." It brings back the day when the crowd packed out the synagogue and four bearing a paralytic, let the man down thru the roof. "Seeing their faith, Christ acted and healed the man. And Naaman, the great general of Syria, angry that the prophet in Israel would not do honor to such as he, would have turned back home still a leper. Yet there stood the faith of the little Jewish maid serving in his household and he went to the Jordan as the prophet said and dipped seven times and was healed. Not his faith but hers.

Redeemed by Christ's blood, all sins confessed; claim the promises. "If ye abide in Me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you." So pledges the Lord who bought you with His blood. Do you live close enough to the throne to get things from God?
