San Francisco After Fair.

The publicity department of the Panama-Pacific Exposition Company of San Francisco, is certainly showing up that city's claims for the big exposition in 1915, in a manner that will make the world sit up and take notice. New Orleans is the other city that is after the fair, but from the following report which is authentic, it would seem that the Louisiana city's chances were indeed small, as San Francisco is certainly doing things and is entitled to success.

New Orleans appears excited over the fact that one of its leading citizens, Mr. Thomas Sweeney, subscribed $5,000 to the exposition fund. Mr. Sweeney has just returned from Europe evidently with the impression that Europe never heard of San Francisco, or of California.

The following is from the New Orleans Item:

"In all of eleven European countries which I have just visited, every body is in favor of the Panama Exposition being held here," said Mr. Thomas Sweeney, who returned to New Orleans from Europe Friday morning. Mr. Sweeney has the distinction of having contributed the largest amount of any individual to the exposition—$5,000. Of course firms and corporations have passed this mark, but no single person has up to this mark.

"It is certain that every important country in Europe will have a fine exhibition here," continued Mr. Sweeney. "I was astonished at the interest which is being manifested in the New Orleans celebration. New Orleans is as well known in every part of Europe as New York city is in this part of the country."

San Francisco also has reason to be proud of the liberality of the subscribers to the Exposition fund in view of the fact that there are just seventy individuals who subscribed $5,000 or more.

Twenty-seven individuals have subscribed $25,000 each. For fear the New Orleans enthusiasts may regard this statement as a fairy tale, the names of these twenty seven subscribers are here given:

Antone Borel, W. D. Bourne, Frank H. Buck, Francis Carolan, John A. Chaslor, Chas. Templeton Crocker, James L. Flood, W. P. Hammond, W. R. Hearst, W. F. Herin, C. A. Hooper, Geo. W. Hooper, John A. Hooper, R. M. Hotaling, C. Frederick Kohl, William Matson, Ogden Mills, Lewis F. Montague, Mrs. A. M. Parrott, W. S. Porter, Leon Sless, A. B. Spreckels, Rudolph Spreckels, Harry L. Tevis, Wm. S. Tevis, F. Tillman, Jr. and W. G. Irwin.

These individual subscriptions are exceeded by the contributions of various firms and corporations just as firms and corporations in New Orleans have exceeded the $5,000 contribution of Mr. Sweeney.

A Newspaper's Duty.

Since launching the RECORDER as a semi-weekly, the management has received many compliments from business men and citizens of Bandon, all of whom we believe are friends to the paper, and if by publishing two papers a week, we can serve the interests of Bandon any better, we are only too glad of the opportunity. The duty of a legitimate newspaper is not furthering of any factional interests, nor the panning off of any one man's ideas on to the public, but, on the other hand it is to serve the public in a way that will be beneficial to the public in general and to the locality in which it is published in particular. To this end the RECORDER is trying to be of service to Bandon in a material way. We are constantly sending out sample copies of the paper to prospective settlers for Bandon and the Coquille valley, and in this way are advertising the community, and every added settler that we succeed in bringing is helping that much to boost the country, and, by the way, adds a customer to the merchants of the town. In this way we feel that we are doing a public service that is worthy of the name newspaper.

But the real duty of a newspaper is to get the news. This we are attempting to do and believe we are succeeding to a considerable extent, but in this connection we invite the assistance of our friends. If you know an item of news, let us know about it, either by calling on us in person, or by calling us up by phone, or dropping a card or a letter in the post-office addressed to the RECORDER, and we will be more than glad to publish it. If you have a friend visiting you, or if you are going some place, or if you expect to do something of importance, just let us know about it.

We are here for the purpose of giving to the world the news of Bandon and vicinity, and incidentally to help boost all of southwest Oregon.

Watson is for Coke.

County Clerk James Watson indorses Judge Coke through the Roseburg Review in no uncertain terms.

He says:—"I understand that the report has been circulated to the effect that Mr. B. F. Jones received more votes in Coos county than Judge Coke did.

The official canvass of the ballots at the recent primary election showed that Mr. Jones received in Coos county, 444 votes, and that Judge Coke received 842. Judge Coke received more votes in Coos county than any other candidate for any state or district office. He received every republican vote but six in the combined North and South Marshfield precincts, and in Central Marshfield precinct he received the highest vote cast for any candidate or measure.

In addition to this, many Democrats wrote Judge Coke's name upon their ballot, thus giving him the nomination of their party.

I have known Judge Coke intimately for many years, and am an admirer of him for his honesty, fairness and ability, both as a judge and as a citizen.

At the coming election there are two Circuit Judges to be elected for the Second Judicial District, and under the law one must be a resident, during his term of office, in the section of the district "South of the Umpqua river and west of the Coast range of mountains."

For this reason I believe every fair minded voter will cast his vote for one only of the Douglas county candidates and that the other will be cast for Judge Coke, regardless of party affiliations."

JAMES WATSON,
County Clerk of Coos County, Ore.

Will Support the Ticket.

Col. E. Hofer, editor of the Capital-Journal of Salem, who was himself a candidate for the nomination for governor before the Oregon primaries September 24th, comes out in his paper supporting the whole ticket, and especially Jay Bowerman, who was the candidate indorsed by the assembly, and was also the successful candidate at the primaries. The Capital-Journal says of Mr. Bowerman:

"Jay Bowerman comes out for the Direct Primary law and Statement No. One, and progressive legislation.

This may be something of a surprise to many of the Assemblyites, but it is characteristic of the candidate.

Jay Bowerman is essentially a progressive politician, and has more sense than many of his supporters.

He accepts the verdict of the people against the Assembly, and is willing to take his orders from the people.

That is good safe ground to take, and it will depend some on how his statements are taken by the people. If the people believe he is sincere, they will back up their belief by their votes in November."

Hawaiian Business Increases

The trade relations between the cities of the Pacific Northwest and the Hawaiian Islands, which have been increasing in importance ever since the Alaska Yukon Pacific Exposition, will be more firmly cemented than ever by the visit this winter of an excursion of business men from the Northwest to the Islands, under the auspices of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce. The steamship, Prince Rupert, of the new Grand Trunk Pacific line, has been chartered for the trip, and business men from all parts of the Northwest, with their families, have been extended invitations to join in the 32 days' cruise of the islands. The visit will combine business with pleasure, the excursionists spending ten days at Honolulu during the flower festival in February, and visiting Hilo and the famous crater of the largest volcano in the world. The steamer, Prince Rupert, is one of the finest on the Pacific, and will carry something over 200 first cabin passengers. A representative party of business men from all sections of the Northwest is expected to make the trip, which should result in a great increase of the already profitable trade between the Islands and Puget Sound, a trade which involves all of the principal products of the Northwestern states. The Seattle Chamber of Commerce, which is conducting the excursion, has opened booking offices at 612 First Avenue, Seattle, where details about the trip may be learned.

Bar Tug Has New Master.

With the arrival in Astoria of Captain Parsons, the latter part of the week, to take the position of master of one of the Port of Portland tugs, there will be four tug boat men in the bar service of the Port. Captain Parsons has resigned as master of the steamer Newport and will take command of one of the tugs, probably the Ononta, as there is a likelihood that she will be placed on the bar while the Wallula is being loaded next week. Harry F. Campion, superintendent of towage and Pilotage for the Port of Portland, said this morning that the two tugs may be kept on the bar right along if the number of ships coming into the port warrants it. At any rate they will have four tug-boat men among the pilots, one of whom will be in Astoria at all times. Captain M. Nolan will take up active duty as one of the pilots, and the Ononta is not placed in service. Captain Parsons will have command of the Wallula. As there is only one vessel, the Danish bark Denmark, ready at Astoria to go out to sea, it is possible that the Wallula will be able to do all the work for the present.

In place of Captain Parsons, T. Fry takes command of the Newport today when she leaves for Bandon, to go in the lumber trade between that port and Coos Bay. Captain Fry has made a few trips on the steamer lately as mate, having formerly been on Alaska cannery ships for several seasons—The Oregon Daily Journal.

It is a Wise Man

Who watches his nickels and dimes. If we sell you Barley at $1.00 a sack, as we have been doing for some time, and it costs you $1.10 elsewhere, why not buy Barley of us. If we sell you the best Grass Hay raised in this country at $1.25 a bale, when elsewhere you pay $1.35 and $1.50 for inferior grades, why not buy your Grass Hay at our Warehouse. There is no argument as to why we can sell for less than any other dealer, when we are conducting our business on a "strictly cash" basis. Our prices we are not afraid to advertise. Our weight and qualities we guarantee. Should you secure a poor bale of hay, or an inferior sack of grain of us, we will refund or exchange WITHOUT ARGUMENT.

Nine days, ending October 22d, we are going to sell you WHEAT HAY—200 pound bales at $1.75.

Nine Days, ending October 22d, we are going to sell you Fine, Clean Bran, a sack at 90c.

Nine days, ending October 22d, we are going to sell you the best of clean OATS, 125 pound sack at $2.25 a sack, which is considerably less than 20c a pound.

At these prices, don't you think you had better lay in a stock to last you a few months? Remember there is one place to buy, where money is made by the saving made in prices of hay and grain and that place is the
