SET ASIDE MONEY TO CRUISE TIMBER

County Court Will Make Start on Proposition This Year

Commissioner Geo. J. Armstrong, who has returned from the session of the County Court recently held in Coquille, reports that the court set aside $10,000 as a starter on cruising the timber of Coos county so that a proper estimate of value can be reached and the large timber holders made to pay their proportionate share of the taxes. While this will suffice to cruise only a small per cent of the timber, yet it will be a start in the proper direction and under the circumstances was all that the court could appropriate at this time.

In the matter of road money Mr. Armstrong says there is a little less in the county road fund than there was last year, but the court is determined to make it go as far as possible.

The outlook for county business is quite promising, and there will be several changes made and improvements instituted in the managing of affairs.

Mr. Armstrong says that the members of the county court are working together very harmoniously.

Let's Get in and Boost

Never in the history of Bandon was the outlook for a prosperous year better than at present. We have a number of new industries promised, among which is a fruit cannery, as was announced in last Friday's RECORDER, another steamship line to California, to carry the coal output of the Gage mine at Riverton, the new splint factory will soon be in operation, the new box factory is practically complete, the logging road is partially if not practically assured, all the mills and factories along the river are running at full blast. In fact there is every evidence of prosperity, look where you will.

The establishment of a fruit and vegetable cannery here will be the means of developing the country in the fruit and vegetable raising business as never before, and the fact is generally conceded that there is no country on the face of the earth that can excel us in this matter. It will mean thousands and in time millions of dollars to the farmers of Coquille valley and the employment of a great many people. All other industries will also help to a very great extent in building up Bandon and the Coquille valley.

There is, however, something more that we should do, and that is to prepare in a public way for the future development of this section of the country, and the two vital necessities that are now before us are good wagon roads and a port commission. These are what the farmer needs to get his produce to town and thence to the markets of the world. These are what the merchants need to get their goods from jobbing houses and for shipping of produce brought in by the farmers. In short these are what we all need for the proper development of the country. The RECORDER has been advocating both for the past two years, and will continue to advocate them until they become a realization, which we trust, will not be many years hence.

All are agreed that we need good roads, and we all know how to get them, so it is hardly necessary to say anything along this line any more than to urge the people to get busy and do something while we have the opportunity. As to the port commission there are some who are opposed, but after all is said and done it must be agreed that these men are standing in their own light, as the development of this country depends upon this one thing more than any other. Some base their objections on the port law, saying it will not work successfully, but the ports established under the law are moving off smoothly, with no friction, and the recent election at Coos Bay, which carried so emphatically for the issuing of $300,000 bonds, and the voting down of the Bennett amendment, has put a quietus on all the croakers over there. In every instance where port commissions have been established and an amount of money raised sufficient to do something worth while, the government has come through with a like amount, and thus vast sums of money are at the disposal of these ports for developing in any manner the port commissions may see fit, the result will be they will have excellent harbors.

There are some who have based their objection on inequality of taxation, but now that the county court has set aside money and taken steps toward the cruising of the timber, the croakers from that source will have to be quiet; so now every objection to the port commission that has yet been raised, has been met, and now if the objectors continue to object, they will be compelled to hatch up some new theory for such objection.

Let's take the sensible view of the situation and get in line with the progressive element of our population, and Bandon and the adjacent country will be the queen of the realm in all that is good.

High School Notes

The meeting of the Literary Society last Friday night was well attended and the interesting debate and program seemed to be enjoyed by all. The debate was: Resolved, That it would be for the best interests of the United States to build and maintain a large navy. The negative won, two to one, but the debate was close. The judges were, Ernest Sidwell, Miss Rose Hutchins, and P. C. Stephenson. On Jan. 27th, the literary program will consist chiefly of a debate—Resolved, That the railroads of the U. S. should be owned and operated by the Federal government. This promises to be interesting and is well sustained on each side.

The B. H. S. Boys' Basket Ball team will play at Myrtle Point next Friday night. Everard Boyle is coaching the boys.

The various classes met yesterday and selected new policemen for the ensuing term of one month, and everything is moving on nicely in our city school government. The election of new officers—Mayor, Chief of Police, Recorder, Pros. Atty, Municipal Judge and Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, will take place next week as it will be the ending of the first semester. There has not been any stump speaking or candidates' campaigns as yet.

Coquille Mill Being Repaired

The Coquille Sentinel says: "The work of rebuilding and repairing the local saw mill goes on in a steady manner and those at the head of the work announce that the repair work will be completed and the mill in shape for operation about the first of March. No announcement of the time of resuming operation has yet been made, and no definite plans will be announced until the state of the lumber market justifies such announcement.

BAD FIRE AT GARDINER

Hotel and Number of Residences Destroyed. Post Office Saved.

At about 9:30 o'clock last night fire broke out at Gardiner, situated about 10 miles from the mouth of the Umpqua river, consuming the hotel and about a half dozen dwelling houses. The post office also caught fire, but according to report, was saved. A number of Bandon people say that the fire was easily discernable here, the sky being lighted up brilliantly.

The amount of loss is not obtainable at this time, owing to the fact that the wires are down between here and Marshfield, it was impossible to get into communication with Gardiner today. However, it is reported that the Gardiner mill, and the big stores were not burned. It was also impossible to obtain the facts as to how the fire originated.

Obituary.

Lola Leah Conrad died at the home of her mother in Bandon this morning. Deceased was born in College City, Calif., June 8th, 1894, being 16 years, 6 months and 9 days old at the time of her death. She came to Oregon with her parents when but a baby, and had been an invalid since she was about eight years old.

The direct cause of her death was tuberculosis of the brain.

The funeral will be held at the Methodist church tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

The sorrowing family have the sincere sympathy of many friends in their time of great bereavement.

Killed a Bear.

While hunting for a coon in the woods a mile south of Prosper Saturday, Fred Fieger and Harry Paulson succeeded in bagging a black bear. He was in a hollow log, and after being scented by the dogs, reached out and got hold of one of them. The boys then finished his earthly career.

They report the animal as weighing about 150 pounds and in good condition.

The Elizabeth goes on dry dock for a day on this trip and will probably sail from San Francisco tonight or tomorrow.

The Washalore went out Sunday with a full cargo of lumber.

Mail Arrives

The mail blockade was broken yesterday and two consignments of mail came in, one just before noon and the other about 4 o'clock. Another arrived during the night, and the delayed mail will probably all be brought in within a day or two.

Unless further storms or slides interfere, it is expected that the mail service will be regular from now on, says the Coos Bay Times.—Considerable trouble has been experienced in getting the mail here during the last week, but we have not been as badly held up as they have on the Bay according to report.

Mr. Hess of the New mill was in Bandon yesterday looking after business.
