

NAVAL DESERTERS.

They Face Fine, Imprisonment and Loss of Citizenship.

Every time a fleet of naval vessels visits port there are sure to be a number of desertions. These come about from various causes, and among the deserters is always a large percentage of recruits that come from inland states. To these young men the confinement of a ship and daily drills soon become irksome. This, added to seasickness, to which they are as most invariably subject, produces an irresistible desire to desert. In other instances desertions come about through the men becoming intoxicated and practically irresponsible while on shore leave. In the meantime their vessel may sail. These men are not at first termed deserters, but are set down as stragglers. If, however, after a period of ten days nothing is heard from them by the ship's officers they are then considered deserters.

At the end of the ten day limit their allotment is stopped, the bureau of navigation is notified, and, in conformity to an act of congress, their effects are sold before the must. The amount realized is placed to their account and the latter transferred to the deserters' roll. At the end of six months, if they still have not been heard from, their wages are declared forfeited to the United States. The penalty for desertion is fine and imprisonment as well as loss of citizenship.

The reward for the recovery of a deserter may not exceed $20, and for a straggler the limit is $10. This sum, together with any expenses incurred by the person capturing and delivering a deserter or straggler, when it is paid by the government is charged against the account of the man. If the enlisted man finds he has been left ashore and if he really had no intention of deserting he may report to the nearest naval station or if in a foreign country to the United States consul. When this is done he is immediately taken off the deserters' roll and accounted merely as a straggler, the punishment for which as a rule is light.—Marine Journal.

Made Him Feel Older.

The late Archbishop Ryan illuminated every subject he discussed, and once at a banquet in Philadelphia he illuminated strangely the subject of old age.

"We ourselves," he said, "never seem to grow old. Our hearts remain young, and even our faces in the glass don't look old, as do our friends' faces. One day on Chestnut street a very withered and bent graybeard accosted me.

"Why," he said, "don't you remember me? We were classmates at Carlow college."

Archbishop Ryan paused, then added whimsically:

"I was taken aback. I was shocked. I knew he was my age, but I had no idea I was his."—Washington Star.

Two Sets of Muscles.

You have two sets of muscles—the outer ones, which you can feel, and the inner ones, which are your lungs, heart, stomach and other internal organs. The outer ones are conveniences for performing actions. The inner ones are your life—the "fate" which makes you happy or depressed, powerful or weak, useful or the contrary. These inner muscles require training, just like any other muscles, by intelligently directed exercise.—J. Edmund Thompson in National Magazine.

For soreness of the muscles whether induced by violent exercise or injury, Chamberlain's Liniment is excellent. This liniment is also highly esteemed for the relief it affords in cases of rheumatism. Sold by C. Y. Lowe.

Antiquity of Engraving.

Gems were engraved at a very early period of the world's history. The very oldest specimen of this art in existence is believed to be a square signet of yellow jasper engraved in the year 1450 B. C. and now in the British museum. The engraving upon it is a fair picture of the horse of Amenophis II., and the characters underneath have been deciphered as being the names and titles of that monarch.

Sick headache results from a disordered condition of the stomach, and can be cured by the use of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Try it. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.
