

Humor and Philosophy By DUNCAN M. SMITH PERT PARAGRAPHS.

THERE are people who keep themselves so busy saying nothing that they never have time to get into trouble.

Saving the country is a religion with some people and a graft with others.

Always being in the right might get to be monotonous.

A spinster is a woman who doesn't believe in entertaining and coddling the opposite sex.

Marrying for money may require a lot of self assurance and nerve, but it is marrying without money that takes the courage.

Grumbling is a method some people have of letting you know that they are around.

That man is a genius who always succeeds in living beyond his means.

Some people who know nothing are often master hands at exploiting it.

Poise is more to be desired than position.

The difference between a musician and a gossip is the latter is seldom caught out of practice.

Dignity is an uncomfortable perch when jollity is passing around.

It frequently takes all of a young man's time and ability to be the son of a rich father.

Wasting time and money is the measure of fun with many people.

There are people whose only fault is that they want to take everything in sight and insist on trying to act in harmony with their desire.

Chance For Comparison.
"He is the biggest fool I ever saw."
"You don't tell me."
"Yes, I do."
"But has your experience with fools been large?"
"Well, I have a lot of friends."

Not For the Kicker.
"Food prices have dropped once more."
"So I hear."
"Great, isn't it?"
"Maybe for those who like to eat cheap things. They never did appeal to me."
Ignorance is Bliss.
"See what a fine diamond he gave me."
"What is it worth?"
"I have no idea. I think I will ask a broker."
"I wouldn't take a chance."

Have Learned Obedience.
"Some men wear good clothes, don't they?"
"Yes. Do you know why?"
"No. Why?"
"Because they are married men."

Sounds So.
Though Omar disguises,
I fear that old man
Was sadly addled
To rushing the can.

Her Husband, of Course.
"Come, now, listen to me."
"But you talk all the time."
"But you never listen, so what's the difference?"

Knows How.
"He is a great knocker."
"Blacksmith or critic?"

Vanishing Trouble.
About a year or so ago,
As you will clearly recollect,
The world was very nearly wrecked,
Or we were happy to expect
A cataclysm that would spell
Our finish and would wring the knell
Of this old, satisfying world,
And every hair would stand on end
And each into the other blend—
In short, if not in sweet, that we
Some doings very soon would see
That would, to say the very least,
Not be a sunrise in the east.
A comet lightened up the sky,
Oh, my!
It useless was to say, "Shoo fly!"
And every one was doomed to die.
Escape? That wasn't in the book.
The comet's tail would be our hook.
The dullast eye could take a look.
There was no chance to take the cars
For Mars
Or any other star on high.
The means were not at hand to fly.
All we could do was sit and wait.
The die was cast; the dope was straight.
The comet's tail was made of gas
That had some class.
And we were hanging on the brink
Of nowhere, ready for the wink.
We were too scared to move or speak,
And then the comet took a sneak.
It never breathed on us a breath
And only scared a few to death.
That is the way, if you should chance
To note your troubles in advance.
Before their published date and day,
When they should the engagement all
They're miles away and going still.

Current Comment.

The word "obsolete" puts a battle-ship on the junk pile quicker than a hard fought battle.—Haverhill Gazette.

Missouri has swung in a place in the march of progress. Her legislature has passed a law that banishes roller towels from hotel inventories.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

It is said that of the thousands of B's placed in the rooms of hotels for the use of guests but seventeen have been stolen. It seems that the Bible is a much safer investment than towels and such.—Houston Post.

Fire Traps.

If somebody would only think to investigate these fire traps before it happened.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Girls in factories have a right to work for their living without having to jump for their lives.—Baltimore Sun.

Fire trap conditions ought to be discovered in some other way than by a repetition of terrible calamities.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Every factory building, every office building, every hotel and tenement dwelling should be rigorously inspected now.—Kansas City Star.

Train and Track.

The Erie railroad was completed in 1851.

The Union Pacific railroad has announced that it will install soda fountains on its summer trains this year.

In Denver all trolley cars in use both winter and summer are divided in the middle. The forward half is open and the rear half closed and heated. The two halves are about equally patronized at all seasons.

English Etchings.

London business men and transportation companies count upon an influx of nearly 2,000,000 visitors during the coronation season.

The gross rental of London's buildings is $215,000,000, while that of all the agricultural land in England and Wales is under $125,000,000.

Seventy years with one firm was the record of an aged cloth worker who has just died at Trowbridge, Wilts. He began work when he was eight and a half years old.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY REMEDY

Theft in Ancient Wales.

In some ways which might nowadays be called "sentimental" the laws of ancient Wales were in advance of those of today. Mr. J. E. Lloyd in his "History of Wales" mentions that in some of the codes (which were, as a rule, very severe on theft) a remarkable provision exempted from punishment "the starving man who, after begging for three days and receiving nothing, helped himself to the food which he needed in order to keep him alive. That every man had the right to live was a principle of the law, and the sentiment of the country demanded that every person of substance should keep open house not only for ordinary travelers, but also for the destitute and the friendless."

The Charivari.

The "shivaree" was introduced into America by the French of Louisiana and Canada. Of course "shivaree" is a corrupt, contracted form of charivari, the French word, but its meaning is the same. The charivari began as a regular wedding serenade, but came to be reserved only for unpopular marriages. The council of Tours, at the beginning of the seventeenth century, forbade this form of serenade, the penalty being excommunication from the church, but this did not put an end to the practice.

Both Desirable.

"You say you married once for love and once for money?"
"I did."
"Well, what's your verdict?"
"I think it would be nice if one could combine a little of each."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

It is worse than useless to take any medicine internally for muscular or chronic rheumatism. All that is needed is a free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

SIMPLE, CHEAP ROAD ROLLER THAT ANYBODY CAN MAKE

Boiler Shell Filled With Concrete at Cost of $50.

A most excellent road roller can be made by any one and so cheaply that the cost will not be of any consequence.

Purchase a boiler shell four feet six inches long and three feet nine inches in diameter. Set it up on end, put a shaft in the center and fill the shell with concrete.

Make a frame like the one illustrated and you will have a five ton road roller at a cost of about $50.

A ROAD WASTE.

The appropriations made by the different states for improved roads have been wasted to a very large extent. New York has built about 650 miles of improved highways, Pennsylvania perhaps one-third as much. And neither state nor any other so far as we know has made proper provision for their maintenance. Here is where the waste comes in. More millions will be wasted unless some plan of keeping state roads in repair is put into operation soon. No sense in building costly roads and then letting them go to pieces for want of attention at the right time.

There is one medicine that every family should be provided with and especially during the summer months viz: Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed. It costs but a quarter. Can you afford to be without it? For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Religion of Ancient Rome.

The religion of the old Romans was not a religion at all—it was patriotism. In the republic—or in its better days, at least—the love of country was the all dominating feeling. Rome was all. To live for it, to die for it, to sacrifice on behalf of its welfare the most sacred possessions of life, was the Roman's religion. Decius, Regulus and the rest of the worthies who cheerfully sacrificed themselves upon the altar of their country were the Roman "saints." To do all for the state, and, having done all, to die for it if necessary, without any thought of future reward for the same—that was the religion of the men who made Rome the capital of the world.—New York American.

The uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has made it a favorite everywhere. It can always be depended upon. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.
