BUILD SILO IN THE BARN.

Then You Have a Combination That Defies All Weather Happenings.

Here is positively the latest and cleverest thing in the great silo question. The cement tank is built in the center of a circular barn, where its contents are not only protected against all weather conditions, but the animals to be fed are protected also.

The power plant in the up to date barn is easily and cheaply applied for cutting and handling the ensilage, and the whole arrangement seems to be a fine application of the old Latin phrase "multum in parvo."

The word silo comes from the French and means ditch or pit, and this method of keeping green forage seems to have been first used by the French people, but in the last few years the farmers of America have surpassed not only the French people, but all others, in developing this method of preserving green forage, and of course the American farmers and manufacturers have made great improvements in the art.

The original making of ensilage was nothing more than in imitation of the dog that digs in the ground to cover up and keep a bone or something else he wanted to keep and eat at a later date. But, while the silo in the ground serves a great deal better than none at all, it falls short of being as satisfactory as those built above ground.

Of course the practical use of the silo is the keeping of forage in a succulent condition, and the most general adaptation is for the use of dairy cows. In this use of it the consumption of ensilage has increased very rapidly in the last ten years.

It may be that a chemical analysis does not prove that forage of any sort contains more nutriment than the same would have out and cured in the regular way, but it has been the experience of all who have used good corn ensilage that it is the best method to preserve corn for cattle.

The digestive nutrients in forage of any sort seems to be kept in a more satisfactory condition as ensilage than any other way, and a far greater quantity per acre can be got from the land, so that any farmer who keeps many cattle will be certain to find that the silo is very necessary on his farm.

Cheers For the Glass Hen.

The "frost proof" hen may be coming, says the Rural New Yorker, but the glass hen is here, and one of her June eggs in January does very well. Water glass or silicate of soda is the best family preservative for eggs, and it will pay any farmer to breed the glass hen. Eggs laid in April, May and June are best for preserving.

Boil nine gallons of water. After it has cooled pour in one gallon of water glass and stir it thoroughly. Put in a stone jar and gently place in the mixture about thirty dozen eggs. Get them as close to laying as possible and have them clean. Put the jar in the cellar or a dark room, cover it over and let it alone until you want the eggs. For family use the glass hen is a wonder—in its way a good partner for alfalfa, vetch and the rest of the farm helpers.

CHEER OF THE FLOWER GARDEN.

The flower garden may not be as profitable as the vegetable garden, but will add cheer, comfort and contentment to the home. The rest and peace of mind afforded by strolls in the flower garden are not to be compared with money.

The Child Meant Well.

The governor of Maine was at the school and was telling the pupils what the people of the different states were called.

"Now," he said, "the people from Indiana are called Hoosiers, the people from North Carolina Tarheels, the people from Michigan we know as Michiganders. Now what little boy or girl can tell me what the people of Stelne are called?"

"I know," said a little girl. "Maines."—Popular Monthly.

These Hens Roost High.

Possibly the most remarkable poultry establishment in this part of the country is located in Boston on the roof of one of the leading hotels. An employer has been keeping successfully a flock of about twenty-five hens. Located in the very center of the city, the birds thrive and lay well and a flock of chickens is being raised to keep up a supply. The eggs are used in the hotel and certainly ought to be fresh enough to satisfy the most exacting guest.

Hay Fever, Asthma and Summer Colds

Must be relieved quickly and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E. M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfram St., Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled during the hot summer months with Hay Fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience.—Bandon Drug Co.

When Parasols Began.

Parasols when they first came into use must have been cumbersome. Henri Estienne, writing in 1578, speaks of a parasol as capable generally of sheltering four persons from the sun. And when they diminished in circumference the material still remained of the heaviest. Red velvet parasols, with heavy gold fringes, were carried by ladies of fashion in the days of Louis XIV. At that time it was possible when crossing a bridge in Paris to hire a parasol at one end and deposit it at the other, the charge for the accommodation being a sou. Under the regency fashion went to the other extreme. Men's parasols folded into the shape of a three cornered hat and could thus be carried elegantly under the arm. Ladies' parasols were hinged, so that they could slip into the pocket, for ladies had pockets then.—London Spectator.

Attack Like Tigers

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at all druggists.

No Mistake.

The golf bug's soul came back from a little range around Satan's preserve with a smile as wide as the Amazon river.

"I say," it exclaimed, "I don't call this much of a hell. They have the finest golf course out there I ever saw in my life."

A droll looking old soul who was sitting on the safety valve looked up.

"But did you see anybody playing on it?" he asked.

"No," the newcomer admitted. "I didn't."

The old timer chuckled.

"That's it," he said. "He won't let anybody play on it."—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

An ordinary case of diarrhoea can, as a rule, be cured by a single dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This remedy has no superior for bowel complaints. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

The Old Flame.

She turned him down. He went away And made his fortune out of pork. In five short years, so others say, His name was known in old New York.

She married. Now her husband, sad, Would die to tear him limb from limb When she recalls the chance she had And says, "I could have married him."—Detroit Free Press.

A Delicate Point.

"My wife has been preparing angel food every day for dinner," remarked the young husband.

"Getting tired of it?"

"Slightly. How soon after the honeymoon would it be proper to ask for beefsteak and onions?"—Kansas City Journal.

Hoops Versus Hobbles.

In the good old days of long ago—in the early sixties, don't you know—when grandma was on dress parade, with the beaus a hit she always made. Grandma was a modest miss, and her hoopskirt looked like this:

I wonder what grandma would say if she could see the girls today as they hobble here and there, both feet handicapped for fair. Oh, would she envy any miss in a hobbie skirt like this?—Chicago News.

Seemed to Give him a New Stomach

"I suffered intensely after eating and no medicine or treatment I tried seemed to do any good," writes H. M. Youngpeters, Editor of The Sun, Lake View, Ohio. "The first few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets gave me a surprising relief and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfectly good health." For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Overlooked.

We're so busy we forget—
Chasing shooks, dodging debt;
Scolding laws and scoring men,
Checking keys or driving pen;
Taking nostrums, paying bills,
Groaning over human ills;
Growing when it doesn't rain,
Racking muscle, dulling brain—
We're so busy we forget
To display the least regret
O'er the fact that summer days
Soon will hide in autumn haze.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

If you sit in a cool draft when you are heated and get a stiff neck or lame back, you will be looking for something that will ease the pain. Fix your mind on Ballard's Snow Liniment and don't be talked out of it because it is the best pain relieving liniment you can get any where. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by C. Y. Lowe.

Too Late.

A good many men discover when too late that they made a great mistake in life by not remaining at school a year or two longer than they did.—Rochester Herald.

His Mistake.

"What cured him of flirting?"

"He started a flirtation with a lady who turned out to be selling an encyclopedia at $200 a set."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

It Would Answer.

Rose—I painted this picture to keep the wolf from the door. Fleming—If the wolf is anything of an art critic it will do it.—Smart Set.

● Happiness does not consist in things so much as in thoughts.

A well known Des Moines woman after suffering miserably for two days from bowel complaint, was cured by one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Knew More Than All of Them.

The Lawyer—Are you acquainted with any of the men on the jury?

The Witness—Yes, sir, more than half of them.

The Lawyer—Are you willing to swear that you know more than half of them?

The Witness—Say, if it comes to that I'm willing to swear that I know more than all of them put together.—Milwaukee Journal.

Buy it now. Now is the time to buy a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. This remedy has no superior. For sale by C. Y. Lowe.

Regret.

Man's the only animal that suffers from regret—
Lones for rain when all is dry, hates it when it's wet;
Wants the summer when he's cold, the winter when he's hot;
Always longing for the thing that he hasn't got.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Studying Sociology.

"How would you like to toil long hours each day for meager wage?"

"I think it would be great fun," answered the young lady who was studying sociology. "But I fear that my chaperon would become somewhat bored."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Do not allow your kidney and bladder trouble to develop beyond the reach of medicine. Take Foley Kidney Pills. They give quick results and stop irregularities with surprising promptness.—Bandon Drug Co.

Constipation is the starting point for many serious diseases. To be healthy keep the bowels active and regular. Herbine will remove all accumulations in the bowels and put the system in prime condition. Price 50c. Sold by C. Y. Lowe.
