Put it Over 'Em

The promoters of the Port of Port Orford put "one" over their opposers much to the chagrin of the latter faction. It was done in this way. Judge Coke dissolved the injunction, and the dissolving order started from Marshfield Saturday morning, on its way to be filed here with the county clerk. Saturday evening the writ was taken from Bandon by special carrier to Commissioner Chenoweth at Denmark. Early Sunday morning Chenoweth started out with the writ and was joined at Port Orford by Atty. Meredith and T. L. Carey, and came on here that night, reaching here at 1:30 Monday morning. The Court convened, canvassed the votes and made the necessary orders. During the day it was learned that Judge Coke granted another injunction but it will avail nothing as the vote is canvassed and the result declared.

In the ordinary channels of the mail, the dissolving order would not have reached here before this evening, but the fleet footed Commissioner was too many for them. When he got a chance to act, he improved it for all he was worth.

The northern trio left yesterday evening about four, as happy as little boys wearing their first suit of clothes—Gold Beach Globe.

Good Roads In Curry.

In talking with J. A. Bowman on his return from Cold Beach, where he had been on business for a few days, informed us that the trip was one of the most pleasant he had ever made to the county seat. "I was surprised at the excellent condition of the roads," said Mr. Bowman, "as Ralph Pomeroy and myself left Langlois last Thursday noon in a single rig and reached Gold Beach Friday night and left Saturday morning and reached here Sunday morning, about 11 o'clock. It seems fine to travel over good roads. Every part of the way was over good roads which Curry county need not be ashamed of. The county has been compelled to change the road through the shifting sand at Gregg's creek. "Every part of the way," continued Mr. Bowman, "shows a move on the part of the people of the county getting in a position to meet the changing conditions which is facing Curry county. The people of Port Orford and Gold Beach are to be congratulated on the new school houses which they are constructing. These towns are looking fine and as though prosperity had come in a full measure."—Langlois Correspondent in Gold Beach Globe.

Cupid Overlooks Olcott.

Salem, Ore., Dec. 14.—Those eligible maids who have been perusing the columns of matrimonial journals have been overlooking their one best bet, for here in Oregon Acting Governor Olcott is the first bachelor Governor at which the state has ever been able to boast.

Although it was rumored that the Acting Governor would become a benedict in the fall, the fall has passed and he still remains unmarried.

"There seems to be one essential qualification in which I am lacking," said the Acting Governor today, when the delicate question was broached to him. "I am financially broke."

Olcott is 38 years old, and he still has a week in which to sustain the capacity of acting Governor.
