The Greatest Dangers With Which Society Is Threatened

By the Rev. BERNARD VAUGHAN, Jesuit Priest and Orator

THE greatest dangers threatening society today are a LAX SYSTEM OF DIVORCE AND MARRIAGE, cradleless nurseries and a system of education which demotes Christ from the rank of headmaster to a place on the back seat and instead of drilling an army is only arming a mob.

ONLY BY RESTORING CHRISTIAN PRINCIPLES IN ALL THINGS CAN SOCIETY BE SAVED FROM APPROACHING THE LOW LEVEL OF PAGAN ROME IN THE MUDDIEST STAGE OF ITS MUDDY GOLDEN AGE.

Present day society, while not yet at the cemetery, is heading rapidly toward it. One of the causes of the decadence of the age is the system of divorce, which, if not improved, will be RUINOUS TO THE COUNTRY.

We are careless managers where we should be most careful. Man and woman are in nothing alike. Each gives to the other what the other has not. Each completes and is completed by the other. Their union should be INDISSOLUBLE. Careless marriages bring about cradleless nurseries.

LIKE DECADENT ROME, TOO, WE ARE FALLING INTO THRIFTLESS LIVES. WE WANT PLEASURE, AND WE WANT IT AT ONCE. WE LOVE PLEASURE INSTEAD OF WORK. RECREATION WE NEED, BUT NOT DISSIPATION. IN THE EVENING NOWADAYS MEN TALK ABOUT THE SPORT THEY HAVE HAD, WHEN THEY SHOULD SAY THE SPORT THEY HAVE NOT HAD. IN SUCH LIVES THERE IS NOTHING UPBUILDING. AS A RESULT TODAY WE ARE LIVING IN AN AGE OF SUFFRAGETTES, BECAUSE MEN HAVE LOST THEIR HOLD AND WOMEN ARE GETTING THE UPPER HAND.

BUILDING THE IDEAL VILLAGE.

Woman Describes a Town That Would Appeal to One's Fancy.

THE MARKET A BIG FEATURE.

It Should Be Built in Center of the Town and Should Carry a Supply of Good Substantial Foods—School and Clubhouse Necessary.

Mrs. Mary Pattison, former president of the New Jersey Woman's Federated Clubs, once described the ideal village as follows:

"Let us take an imaginary journey," she said, "to a slightly elevated spot somewhere and build an ideal village or town. Let there be a clean, wide sweep of greenward shaded with trees and cut with winding roads, a few hills and a cool, picturesque valley to one side, through which a clear, happy rivulet curls its way untainted with sewage and disease carrying insects and unspoiled by the dumps of refuse usually deposited along such banks. Let us see there instead grass, flowers and birds.

"On one of these hills near by we find a roomy schoolhouse than which nothing better is known, where the children are being educated in the real things of life, in common sense and in industrial and organic matters, with no danger of forced mentality.

"Here we find usefulness with beauty of method. As a result horse or coarse play and disrespect are unknown. Individual and careful thinking are encouraged, and appreciation is developed, with charm of manner and the cultivation of the healthiest bodies.

"In the center of the town, near a few choice shops and offices, we find an airy and well built market where only the best and purest foods can be bought, not necessarily luxuries, but the substantial varieties that make blood and muscle strong and of good quality, a place where it is not sufficient to simply label the contents of packages, but where it is necessary to tell which beefsteak has had its juice extracted, what fish and fowl have been embalmed, what animals died in disease and what fruit has had its natural fermentation stopped by the use of preservatives.

"It is, in fact, a place to buy food where one is not in danger of one's life or, worse, one's health at every turn.

"Let us perhaps build two churches in our beautiful village, although that may be one too many, but let there be one opening the gate of heaven through the intellectual door or under the portal of the understanding where reason reigns and science prevails. Then a little farther on let us find another, bringing God on earth through the aid of the emotions, with the heart as the knower and the senses trained to love. Let them both be beautiful, but let us go first to one and then the other till in the future they unite.

"Our community is made up of homes, cheerful, normal, happy homes. Individual in expression, co-operate in management and lovely in design where the atmosphere is the guiding element, where nothing is held that gives more trouble than worth, where harmony, health and happiness leave not a crevice for hell to peek through. "And now a little walk to the right, and opposite the park we are led to the village clubhouse, a fine pleasure edifice equipped for all ages. It is a place where play and gymnastics are supervised, a place for games of all sorts, with rooms for music, art, dancing, etc., and for that foolish frivolity without which society would lose its charms.

"May we keep our hand to the wheel and help to usher in the new village home, if not in detail, at least in essence—a home where one might free the spirit by just living, where doctors and lawyers are the minimum in number and teachers are the maximum, a place where only health is known and where the whole air thrills with life."

Plans to Reduce Cost of Living.
A new Oregon idea has been formed with the taking of preliminary steps toward a municipal store in Portland. The city council authorized Mayor Rushright to appoint a committee of business men to conduct a series of co-operative shops, where the profits would be distributed among the shareholders—the public. The plan is to sell stock in the concern at $25 a share, with the proviso that no individual may own more than one share. Stockholders share profits, and purchasers will have deducted from their bills a part of the store's earnings. If the plan succeeds it will be established in other Oregon cities.

Remove Overhead Wires.
Overhead electric wires in the business district of Fort Worth, Tex., will soon be a thing of the past, for the Fort Worth Power and Light company has given notice to the city that it will begin placing its downtown wires underground at once. The district takes in practically the heart of the city. Only wires left standing will be those of the street car company and one or two feed wires that will extend along the alleys. Wires that now form a tangle in many of the alleys will be placed in cables.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.
Miss Mary Arline Zurborst is principal of the National School of Domestic Arts and Sciences at Washington. Mrs. Bird D. Shelton has been appointed manager of the United States postal savings bank at Los Angeles, Cal. Miss Evelyn Mitchell, one of the scientists associated with the Smithsonian institution, is studying the mosquito.

Miss Elizabeth Outhet, eighty years old, believes she's the oldest of Chicago's surviving "old settlers." She got there in 1835, being then a baby in arms, and has been there ever since.

Mrs. Champ Clark, wife of the speaker of the house, is one of the most powerful political figures in the capital. She is a deep student of history and current events and occasionally helps her husband to write a speech.

Mme. Louisa Tetrazzini, the grand opera star, is worrying because she is getting stouter and stouter. She says the fat is not affecting her voice, but if it continues she will not be able to cavort around the stage as she has heretofore.

The Writers.

Demetra Vaka, the author, is a Greek by birth, but was reared in Turkey. She is now the wife of Kenneth Brown, an American writer.

Anna Katharine Green, the novelist, inherits her interest in crime. Her father, James W. Green, was a well known criminal lawyer in Brooklyn. Clark Russell, the famous nautical novelist, who died on Nov. 8, was born in New York sixty-seven years ago, but had long made his home in England.

H. Rider Haggard, whose novel "She" appeared nearly twenty-five years ago, is still writing. He was lieutenant and adjutant of the Pretoria horse, 1879. Two years before, with Colonel Brooke, R. E., he formally hoisted the British flag over the South African republic at Pretoria on the queen's birthday.

Short Stories.

The Dutch keep up their reputation for cleanliness. Holland has a hundred soap factories, which make nearly 10,000,000 pounds of soap every year.

A noted German doctor declares that elevators in high buildings are a potent cause of heart disease and seriously affect mortality of American business men.

The capitol in Washington is 118 years old. The cornerstone was laid in September, 1793. But, old as the building is, it is not yet finished and probably never will be.

The "calina" of Spain is a fog we may be grateful that we do not have. It is a dry, yellow mist which sometimes hides the sun for days at a time over vast tracts of country and makes the sky look as though covered with leaden gauze.

Town Topics.

In order to get the best results in the open air schools Chicago should blow away its smoke.—Chicago News.

It would be cruel to stagger humanity by revealing now just how great a town Houston will be twenty-five years hence. The fact is Houston's present progress has the world groggy and palpably going.—Houston Post.

"Chicago," says the Washington Post, "is enjoying her annual wallow in grand opera." Can it be possible that this unkind remark is due to the fact that Washington still has to go to Baltimore to hear grand opera?—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Royal Box.

Ex-Queen Amelia of Portugal is a qualified nurse. She also has taken a medical degree.

Queen Alexandra has a collection of books of memoirs, and she keeps a minute record of her own life in a diary. Each volume of the diary is bound in mauve morocco.

Princess Henry of Battenberg is one of the most accomplished members of the British royal family. She paints well, is a good judge of art, collects rare old lace with all the acumen of a connoisseur and in addition is a clever musical composer and brilliant pianist.

Science Siftings.

At its nearest point the sun is 91,250,000 miles from the earth.

The controversy regarding Mars being an inhabited planet began in 1877.

A German scientist has advanced the theory that hailstones are shaped by the electricity of the thunderstorms that generally accompany them.

Professor Sir E. Ray Lankester calculates that by research, prevention and cure every epidemic disease could be abolished within the next fifty years.

Recent Inventions.

For cutting buttons from clothing an Indiana man has invented scissors supplied with a guard to prevent them cutting the cloth too.

A three pronged gas burner with a long handle, to be connected with a gas jet by tubing, has been invented for lighting fuel in coal ranges.

A combined silencer and bayonet for rifles has been invented to save a soldier carrying both implements and also from having to change one for the other.

A Complication.

"Don't you think that mechanics sometimes mix up natural facts?"

"How?"

"Don't they talk of the horsepower of donkey engines?"—Baltimore American.

Ziem and His Mock is.

When in Venice Ziem, the artist, finding that the native women disliked posing for artists, hired a shop and stocked it with trinkets and cheap jewelry. While his agent bargained with the customers, Ziem, hidden away in the back of his shop, made sketches, not caring what first work was sold to provide only the means of living and the rapid plenty of cash.

R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., was troubled with a severe grippe cough. He says: "I would be completely exhausted after each fit of violent coughing. I bought a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and before I had taken it all the coughing spells had entirely ceased. It can't be beat." Sold by Bandon Drug Co.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Coos.

J. B. Marshall, Plaintiff vs. Otho L. Hopson, Defendant
To Otho L. Hopson, the above named defendant:

In the Name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled Court and cause, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for the publication of this summons and if you fail so to answer then for want thereof, the plaintiff will take judgment against you for the sum set forth in his said complaint aggregating $57.75, with interest, costs and disbursements, and for an order of sale of attached personal property, to-wit: a Remington typewriter, a roll top office desk, office chairs and various other articles of office furniture.

This summons is served upon you by publication thereof by virtue of an order made by Hon. John S. Coke, Judge of the aforesaid Circuit Court, made and entered on the 2nd day of March, 1912, directing that the same be published for a period of six weeks in the Bandon Recorder, a newspaper published in Bandon, Coos County, Oregon; the date of the first publication is March 5th, 1912, and the date of the last publication is April 16th, 1912.
