FRIDAY May 3 1912

Important News of Oregon.

Portland, Ore., April 30. (Special)—Pupils of the Portland schools have taken up Country Life education in earnest and during the past week the work was given new impetus when instructors of the Oregon Agricultural College talked to the children on this interesting subject. One city school alone has 1130 gardens now being grown by pupils.

Photographers of the Northwest states will gather at Portland for the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association, Sept. 2-5. About 200 delegates are expected from all parts of the North Pacific states and British Columbia. The organization was formed in Portland about 12 years ago and the coming gathering will be of interest to all photographers.

The current year, it is said, will prove one of the best periods in the history of the lumber industry, the demand for forest products of Oregon being the best since the period following the San Francisco fire, when the forests of the Northwest were drawn upon heavily to rebuild that city. Prosperous conditions in the lumber trade will be felt generally throughout Oregon, so widespread is this industry.

Preliminary work for the construction of the north jetty at the mouth of the Columbia River will commence at once, plans having been approved at Washington and forwarded to the local engineers during the past week. The approximate length of the proposed jetty will be two and one-half miles and it will require about five years for construction. It is expected to add materially to the depth of the ship channel across the Columbia River bar.

Two new experimental farm have just been completed in Crook county one near Metolius and the other near Redmond. They are to be operated under the direction of the Oregon Agricultural College, which is sufficient guarantee that they will be operated on a practical basis and it is believed they will do much toward solving the problems new settlers are meeting with in tilling the dry farming and irrigated lands of the interior of the state.

Extensive displays of state products will undoubtedly be arranged at Portland during the Rose Festival, Elks' Convention and other gatherings of the coming summer. The thousands of visitors to the Rose City during the year will thus be able to get a comprehensive knowledge of Oregon's resources and the advertising will be of great value to the state.

The Oregon Threshers' Association will meet at Condon May 23rd and 24th. This organization has members all over the state and the annual meeting is usually largely attended. Subjects of interest to threshermen are discussed and various problems met.

Weather Report.

Captain O. Wren, co-operative observer, reports the rainfall for April as 5.67 inches, days rainy and cloudy 21, days clear 9. The rainfall for the corresponding month of 1911 was 2.67 inches, a difference of 3 inches more this year. The last 3 days of April, in which there was an almost constant downpour, helped to swell the total for this year.
