The Foresters' Picnic.

Next Thursday, Aug. 15th, is the Foresters' picnic; the final arrangement, as outlined in the posters, is receiving the attention of the committee.

The floor, 30x90 for, the big Bowery Dance at the Ball Park, is a dandy, and with Prof. Kausrud's orchestra, a big time is assured.

The committee has tried hard to put on a program that is new to Bandon, and at the same time interesting.

The parade is something all should see; no stone has been left unturned to make this part of the program a success. The business houses were asked to assist and they have signed up very liberally, also agreeing to close up their places of business from 12 o'clock noon. A large crowd is assured; the surrounding country is coming in a body and several boats are giving excursions from up river points.

Everything points to a successful day of fun and laughter. Remember the Foresters' past ability as entertainers.

Cascara bark shipments from the Coquille Valley this year will not be greatly in excess of last season's output. The bark is plentiful as in former years, but the market has been poor and only a few who had their crop contracted for were able to get a satisfactory price. George Moulton, probably the largest shipper of the product in the valley, says the output will not go over 100 tons, and will bring the various producers practically $10,000. The peeling is done by boys who find it a very profitable way to earn school money during their summer vacation. Although the work is somewhat strenuous a good "peeler" can make an average of $5 per day.—Coquille Sentinel.

The first ground was broken yesterday for the new two-story bungalow of Leo J. Carey in the east part of town. Mr. Carey has not yet let the contract for the construction of the building, the work now in progress being the construction of the basement. The estimated cost of the new residence is between $3000 and $4000. The building will be completed by November 1st.—Coquille Sentinel.

The bucking broncho and the wild bull riding contests at the Foresters' picnic next Thursday will be free for all. Any one having animals of this kind will please report to W. D. Marshall, J. H. Meyers or Roll Walker, committee, who will guarantee payment for the use of the animals.

F. S. Perry is raising his house on Pine street and will thoroughly remodel the same. He will have a bungalow roof put, on a new porch, and will make the house modern in every respect. When completed it will be one of the nicest residence properties in that part of town.

The Cheap Land Talk.

In every fight the time comes when facts and not words must be the criterion.

The Single Tax advocates are straining every nerve and little things like facts get disregarded by them.

W. S. U'Ren and A. D. Cridge are disciples of Henry George. They are now advocating his Single Tax doctrine in Oregon.

Some of the printed words of Messrs. U'Ren and Cridge say that the Graduated Single Tax will make the big landholders loosen up, sell their holdings. They say that excessive taxation will make it impossible for the landowners to hold their lands; therefore, land will become cheaper.

These gentlemen declare that prospective purchasers and homeseekers will come to Oregon to buy these cheap lands and that the great news will travel over the earth, and a loud cry will rise: "Ho! for Oregon! Ho! for a home in Oregon."

These are the words uttered, but are they the facts?

Is there sincerity in either Mr. U'Ren or Mr. Cridge?

Would homeseekers and prospective investors in Oregon lands be blind?

Or, would they be insane?

When they asked why lands were cheap you would have to say: "Excessive taxation by Single Tax is the cause. Land alone pays taxes here."

If they wanted to make their homes in Oregon, would they invest when they knew land would go still lower in price, until excessive taxation drove it into the hands of the state?

Cheap land of that nature in Oregon spells ruin to all. Single Taxers promise cheap lands as a result of Single Tax. If they are correct, this then is true: Single Tax spells R-u-i-n.—Oregon Equal Taxation League.
