Recorder Homemade Philosophy

A small man can have as much trouble as a big one.

Mrs. Trainer, wife of L. E. Trainer, has secured a divorce. He couldn't train.

The heart of religion is not necessarily located in the shrewdest intellect.

About all that is left for Castro to fight for now is admission to civilized nations.

The Lord sends the rain upon the just and unjust; but it keeps them both away from church.

It is hard to convince one who marries for money and gets it that marriage is altogether a failure.

The enthusiastic politician feels that his efforts for the people are not appreciated unless he get an office.

How do you pronounce flaccid? We bet you can't pronounce it right without consulting a dictionary.

As we are not in line for any political pie a cabinet position for a Western man does not worry us very much.

The individual who enjoys the power of rule usually discovers great danger to the people in their freedom to do wrong.

Our notion of a wise judge is one who understands the law as explained to him by opposing counsel in a hard fought law suit.

We contend that the fellow who is kicked out of the house by his wife and then forced to pay alimony is playing in tough luck.

Even the revivalist would consider his work a failure if after three week's preaching there were no results—in the contribution box.

What is a hoodoo? The Oregonian says it is a superstition. Anyway Jack Johnson doesn't seem to be getting action on his rabbit's foot.

About one hundred aviators have met violent deaths during 1912; still there are other methods of committing suicide that are equally fatal.

When the rule of seniority becomes the rule of senility it might be abolished, it would seem, without serious injury to the dignity of the senate.

The good book says "pray always." Prayer is alright in its place but when you hit your finger with the hammer it doesn't seem to be appropriate to the occasion.

In the German press the end of the empire during 1912 is quite freely predicted. As the Socialists are almost in power and gaining rapidly, the predictions may be well founded.

"Gunboat" Smith's wife has won her suit for divorce. She gets $75 counsel fees and $40 a month alimony. There may be some exceptions, but our idea of a loud female sport is a woman who will marry a prize-fighter or an actor, then sues for divorce and alimony and gets away with it.

Notice of Readvertisement for Bids for the Improvement of Eddy Street.

Notice is hereby given: That the Common Council of the City of Bandon, Coos County Oregon, will receive sealed bids until 7:30 o'clock p. m. of the 15th day of January 1913, for the improvement of Eddy street in the Fisher addition to Bandon, Oregon, from the south line of Fourth street, to the north line of Eighth street, according to the plans and specifications for said improvement as prepared by the city engineer, of the City of Bandon and which are now on file in the office of the city recorder of said city, and open to the inspection of all persons interested therein.

The said improvement will consist of furnishing all materials, tools, machinery and labor necessary for the efficient and proper grading of street the construction of an elevated roadway, the planking of certain parts of roadway, the building of bulkheads, the construction of six and ten foot wide sidewalks and the construction of cross-walks.

Bids will be received in accordance with above specifications as referred to for the street complete as follows:

1. Price per cubic yard of earth excavation
2. Price per lineal foot of Six foot wide side walk.
3. Price per lineal foot of Ten foot wide sidewalk.
4. Price per lineal foot of piling in Place.
5. Price per 1000 feet of lumber in bridge in place.
6. Price per 1000 feet of lumber in plank road in place.
7. Price per 1000 feet of lumber in cross walks in place.

8. Price per 1000 feet of lumber in bulk heads in place.

Blanks for bidders will be furnished by the City Engineer upon application and no bids will be considered that are not made out on said blanks.

Bids must be accompanied with a certified check payable to the City of Bandon, for a sum equal to 5 per cent of the total bid as a guarantee that the bidder receiving the contract will within 5 days from the date said contract is awarded by the Council execute a contract in writing to perform the work according to specifications and upon failure to enter into such contract by bidder said certified check shall be forfeited and considered as liquidated damages.

Bidder receiving the contract will be required to furnish a bond to the satisfaction of the Common Council.

All bids must be filed with the City Recorder of the City of Bandon, Oregon.

Common Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids, or to let the contract to the lowest responsible bidder.

Dated at Bandon, Oregon, this 6th day of January, 1913, by order of the Common Council, made upon the 2nd day January 1913.

FLOWERS OF THE NIGHT.

They Are Usually Pure White With a Peculiar Glow.

As we all know, there are both day blooming and night blooming flowers. The former are generally decked in red, blue, yellow or purple and have lines, spots or markings on their petals which often act as guides to the nectaries which are visited by the bees and butterflies.

The night blooming flowers, on the other hand, invite the visits of moths or other night flying insects and therefore have recourse to something like the tasks of the fireflies and the glow worms. They are usually pure white and have such a peculiar texture that they seem to glow with internal light in the dim shades of evening.

At times you might almost fancy that they were stained by nature with some forerunner of luminous paint, so clearly do they reflect every visible ray of the faint twilight. They thus succeed in catching the eyes of the moths, which, of course, are modified especially for perceiving and receiving the slight stimulus of the dusk and gloaming.

But the nocturnal flowers have no lines or spots, because these last could never be perceived in the dim gloom of the evening. They make up for it, however, by being very heavily scented. Indeed, almost all the strong white flowers, which are such favorites with florists, such as Jasmine, tuberose, gardenia, stephanotis, serenas and syringa, which belong to the night blossoming plants, are especially adapted to attract the senses of winged nocturnal insects.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

HELP THAT HELPS.

Lincoln's Response to His Brother's Request For a Loan.

Abraham Lincoln's good sense is witnessed by almost every act of his life. His sound views on indiscriminate charity and the best means of encouraging thrift and industry are shown by the following letter to one of his brothers:

"Dear Johnson.—Your request for $80 I do not think it best to comply with now. At the various times when I have helped you a little you have said to me, 'We can get along very well now,' but in a very short time I find you in the same difficulty again. Now, this can only happen by some defect in your conduct—what that defect is I think I know; you are not lazy, and still you are an idler. * * *

"You are now in need of some ready money, and what I propose is that you should go to work, tooth and nail, for somebody who will give you money for it * * * and then to secure you a fair reward for your labor I now promise you that for every dollar you will between this and the first of next May get for your labor I will then give you one other dollar. * * * You have always been kind to me and I do not mean to be unkind to you. On the contrary, if you will follow my advice you will find it worth more than eight times $80 to you. Affectionately your brother,

"A. LINCOLN."

Animal Thermometers.

Crickets have a tendency to chirp synchronously or in time with one another. It is claimed that they chirp more rapidly in warm than in cold weather. The increase has even been rated at four chirps a minute for each degree the temperature increases.

Certain animals appear to act as barometers. It is said that while frogs remain yellow nothing but fine weather may be expected, but that should their coats begin to assume a brown hue bad weather is approaching.

A spider seen spinning its web in the morning heralds a fine day. If seen in the evening then at least the whole of the night and the following morning will be fine. If it is raining and the owl screeches better weather will ensue.—Harper's.

A Slight Mistake.

She was a little woman, and she had entered a department store in a suburban town. She walked up to a big, important looking man near the door and said:

"I want to see some of your hangings."

"Sorry, ma'am," said the big fellow, with a smile, "but we are not going to have any today."

"None today? Why, what do you mean? Aren't you the floorwalker?"

"No, ma'am; I'm the sheriff, and I'm glad to say there's nobody to be hanged today."—Yonkers Statesman.

Tennyson Embarrassed.

Great crises affect people differently. With some the hair turns white, with others emotion expresses itself in incoherent speech. Tennyson when he first met Frederick Robertson, whom he much admired and who he knew admired his poems, was so nervous that he could talk to the "much beloved priest" of nothing but beer.

Maternal Pride.

First Young Wife—The photographer said my baby was the prettiest baby he'd ever seen. Second Young Wife—That's strange! He said the same thing about mine. First Young Wife—Well, I suppose he saw your baby before he saw mine.

The Way to Win.

About the only way to get things coming your way is a long battle against their going the other way.—Atchison Globe.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, in and for the County of Coos.

Clarence Adams, Plaintiff, vs
Kathleen Adams, Defendant.
SUMMONS

To Kathleen Adams, defendant above named in the name of the State of Oregon:

You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of this summons; which prescribed time is six (6) weeks, the last day of which time will be Friday, January 10, 1913, and if you fail to so appear and answer said complaint by the said time, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in plaintiff's complaint, a succinct statement of which is as follows to-wit:

1st. For a decree of the Court that the marriage contract and relations now existing between the plaintiff and defendant be forever dissolved.

2nd. That the care and custody of the minor children be awarded to plaintiff or that their care and custody be awarded alternately between plaintiff and defendant.

This summons is published in the Bandon Recorder a semi-weekly newspaper published in Bandon, Coos County, Oregon, the publication hereof being once a week in the Friday issue of said paper, for six (6) consecutive weeks beginning Friday Nov. 29th, 1912, and ending Friday Jan. 10, 1913, the same being the first and the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of this summons, which is published by order of publication made by Honorable John S. Coke, Circuit Judge of the State of Oregon, in and for Coos County, Oregon, November 20, 1912.
