Almost Lost His Life.

S. A. Stud, of Mason, Mich., will never forget his terrible exposure to a merciless storm. "It gave me a dreadful cold," he writes, "that caused severe pains in my chest, so it was hard for me to breathe. A neighbor gave me several doses of Dr. King's New Discovery which brought great relief. The doctor said I was on the verge of pneumonia but to continue with the Discovery I did so and two bottles completely cured me." Use only this quick, safe, reliable medicine for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble. Price 50c and $1.00 Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

The Lady of the White House.

The president's wife has a definite legal status, and strict rules are laid down for her behavior during her husband's term of office. The lady of the White House must not accept general invitations and, outside of the cabinet circle, cannot attend a formal dinner in Washington. Away from Washington she may dine with anybody she likes. There is an unwritten law which allows her to walk through a quadrille with a high official, but no lady of the White House has ever been known to whirl in a waltz.—Chicago News.

Shocking Sounds.

In the earth are sometimes heard before a terrible earthquake, that warn of the coming peril. Nature's warnings are kind. That dull pain or ache in the back warns you the kidneys need attention if you would escape those dangerous maladies, Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's disease. Take Electric Bitters at once and see backache fly and all your best feelings return. "My son received great benefit from their use for kidney and bladder trouble," writes Peter Bondy, South Rockwood, Mich. "It is certainly a great kidney medicine." Try it. 50 cents at all druggists.

An Empty Honor.

"I hear the ladies of your church got up a purse for the parson," said Wiggleton.
"Yes," said Dabbs.
"And was the old gentleman pleased?"
"Well—no. You see," said Dabbs, "after I'd got up the purse they couldn't raise any more money to put in it."
—Harper's.

Simple Mixture Helps Bandon People.

That simple remedies are best has again been proven. C. Y. Lowe reports that many Bandon people are receiving quick benefit from simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka, the German appendicitis remedy. A single dose helps sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation instantly because this simple mixture antiseptizes the digestive organs and draws off the impurities.

Lying.

It is said of Dr. Johnson that he always talked as though he were taking an oath. He detested the habit of lying or prevaricating in the slightest degree and would not allow his servants to say he was not at home if he was. "A servant's strict regard for the truth," said he, "must be weakened by such a practice. If I accuse my servant to tell a lie for me, have I not reason to apprehend that he will tell it for himself?" A strict adherence to truth the doctor considered as a sacred obligation, and in relating the smallest anecdote he would not allow himself the minutest addition to embellish his story.

Blamed a Good Worker.

"I blamed my heart for severe distress in my left side for two years," writes W. Evans, Danville, Va., "but I know now it was indigestion, as Dr. King's New Life Pills completely cured me." Best for stomach, liver, and kidney troubles, constipation, headache or debility. 25c at all druggists.

The Opal.

It was Sir Walter Scott who helped in "Anne of Gelestein" to arouse the fears of the superstitious concerning the wearing of that very beautiful stone, the opal, and it was a German dealer in gems who fostered that fear very successfully for other ends than those of romance. He came to England years ago, he is told by a jeweler, to fill an order from one of the royal families in Germany—a wedding order. If I remember rightly, Opals were then high. He had printed the story that opals were unlucky and spread the report diligently. In a short time the price went down, and he was enabled to fill his order and make a handsome profit.—London Mail.

MAKING GOOD CITIZENS.

Human nature demands play as a necessity. If we thwart this demand we are in danger of rearing criminals instead of good citizens, for the starved natures, balked in their natural desires, will turn to evil if they are not helped to the good. Money cannot buy good citizens, but a judicious outlay of a comparatively small sum will do more than any other one thing to turn the activities of child life into the proper and natural channels which lead to good citizenship. It is the very parody upon common sense to appropriate money for playgrounds and refuse it for supervision. That is indeed saving at the spigot and wasting at the bung-hole.—Jacob Riis.

IMPROVEMENT THE DUTY OF EVERY ONE.

Try to Do Something Every Day, No Matter How Small It Is.

Every one is both collectively and individually responsible for the part of the world he lives in and should aim to make it and leave it as beautiful as lies in his power. If little opportunity is granted little will be expected, but for that little he should be credited equally with the accomplishments of the more fortunate. It may fall to the lot of one to be able to plant a few flowers, to another to start a tree or to make two blades of grass grow where was before but one. One may make and keep attractive but one little garden. Another may present to the public a huge park, with fountains, statues, pictures or other objects given to public institutions or displayed in public places all contribute to the beautification of the world, and all of us are expected to contribute in accordance with means or opportunity afforded.

The reader who has followed thus far may wonder what is expected of him or her or what both may do to contribute their portion. It is not necessary "to stand in public places" to be a benefactor. Home offers the greater opportunity to help beautify the world and make beautiful the lives of those about us. To make home inviting, attractive and satisfying to your family and incidentally to friends and visitors is one of the noblest tasks ever undertaken, the value of which collectively overwhelms that of all parks and public institutions built since the world was first peopled. Interior and exterior should harmonize and be equally attractive, avoiding the overshadowing of the one at the expense of the other. Make your home decoration simple and dignified indoors and out and you have largely fulfilled your duty to all, though your name may never be "emblazoned in the halls of fame."—Los Angeles Times.

A PLEA FOR PLAYGROUNDS.

Suppose the more fortunate members of the community also were denied the opportunities which they now enjoy for recreation and amusement. Suppose, if you will, that laws were passed prohibiting them from running automobiles, from playing golf or tennis, and imagine the effect upon them of the enforcement of such requirements. And yet for all practical purposes these are the conditions that exist among the poorer members of the community. They are as virtually denied opportunities of recreation as if they were living under such a statute.—Lawrence Veiller.

WINTER IMPROVEMENT WORK.

What to Do to Help Your Town During Cold Weather.

When the winter season is on it is necessary to regulate dance halls, motion picture and vaudeville shows. Establish rest rooms or comfort stations. In your club life organize civic leagues for the study of these and kindred topics. Form a civics current events class. Let each member take up a separate branch of work and stick to it until she has mastered every phase of it. Let her bring one phase of that branch to the class at each meeting. If each one of a class of ten would do this, at the end of a club year many phases of civic work would be intelligently grasped, and the civic league could then take up its chosen task, well fitted to engineer it to a successful conclusion.—American City.

Value of Civic Beauty.

We think ourselves far ahead of Europe, and in some respects we are, but the Germans and the French builders of cities have learned what many Americans do not yet appreciate—that civic beauty has a practical value closely related to nearly every form of trade.—Denver Republican.

Ugly cities are a reproach to ordinary good sense, and America is fast learning the lesson. Out of the quickening of civic pride, now so conspicuous in many places, is bound to come a finer town life everywhere.—New York Herald.

Progress Bred in the Bone.

It is all right, says a bulletin of the Salem (Ill.) Civic League, to wear improvements, "but what Salem badly needs along with that big wishbone is more backbone"—a sage comment widely applicable and often with more force than in awakened Salem.
