Starts Steak on Long Journey

The limit in sending unusual packages through the parcels post has apparently been reached by a Eugene lady, who yesterday shipped a beefsteak to Kansas by mistake. She approached the parcels post window at the post office hurriedly, carrying two bundles of similar dimensions and appearances.

One of the bundles contained an article of merchandise for a friend in the Sunflower state. The other held the piece de resistance for the evening meal, in the shape of a choice steak. The lady purchased the necessary stamps and affixed them to the package containing the steak.

When she arrived home she was dismayed to find that the contents of her package were inedible. She hastened back to the postoffice in the hope of intercepting the truant package, but she was too late. Now the Eugene post office clerks are speculating with trepidation on what the condition of the steak will be when it reaches its destination.—Eugene Register.

Lecture To-night.

Archdeacon Chambers will lecture on the Episcopal church in Oregon with lantern illustrations in St Johns Church at 7:45 o'clock.

Tag Day.

The Library Board wishes to announce that the plans for Tag and Trade Day are advancing without a hitch.

Let every one join in making this a great day.

The business firms of the city are generous in their expression of good will and will materially assist in the welfare of the day. The day will be thoroughly advertised.

—S. R. Steele, Chairman.

Sculpture at San Francisco.

San Francisco, March 5.—Rapid progress is being made upon the sculpture and color plans of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The whole scheme of color in the exposition is under the distinguished direction of Mr. Jules Guerin, acknowledged as America's greatest artist in color. Mr. Carl Bitter as Director of Sculpture, is assisted by Mr. A. Sterling Calder and an army of sculptors who are now at work in their New York studios.

Married.

At the home of the bride's parents Wednesday evening March 5th at 8 o'clock, Mr. Alva E. Stovall and Emma M. Lenthold were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev. John J. Mickey, officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

Good Pictures at the Grand.

Moving pictures that are being produced by the Vitagraph, Biograph, Edison, Selig, Essanay, Melies, Lubin and Kleine Companies, and generally known as the licensed pictures, have made wonderful progress in the past six months toward a higher standard of quality; These picture manufacturers are spending enormous sums of money in improving their product.

The Grand theatre is the only picture house in town that is supplied with the licensed service.

Lovers of pictures will find that the programs offered at the Grand are always worth seeing. Some splendid feature films are booked that are far ahead of anything seen in the past.

"The Mills of the Gods" is a Vitagraph 3-reel feature of which we will tell you more later on; This fine subject will be exhibited at the Grand next week. Watch for the date.

First Street Will Be Extended East

Property Owners Discuss Project With City Council—Various Other Improvements Planned.

The city council met in regular session at the city hall with Mayor Mast and all councilmen present.

The report of the viewers on the extension of First street into Railroad street was taken up. A number of the property owners were present and entered some protests, but the general sentiment of the meeting was that the street should be opened. After hearing what protests were filed the council passed the report upon an aye and nay vote, all councilmen voting aye.

The engineer was ordered to make a survey and plans with the view of opening up Coquille street to intersect with Cartwright street.

The Recorder brought up to the council the matter of the sidewalk on the south side of Iris street not being completed by the contractor who was to assume the contract and recommended in as much as the assessments had practically all been collected the best method was for the city to assume the contract and construct the unfinished portion and an order was made that the work be completed under the direction of the engineer on a basis of the assessments to be collected.

Permission was granted the managers of the base ball team for the coming season the use of the ball park, the latter agreeing to construct a substantial fence around said ball park and to be left as permanent improvement, with the privilege that the ball team control all concessions within the grounds during such games.

Numerous improvements were mapped out and petitions coming in for Langlois Ave, Abernathy street, known as the plank road, extension of First and portions of Homer and Atwater street.

As the petitions laying out and straightening of Abernathy street down the hill with the section line to intersect with the extension of First street, and in improving other streets in the vicinity will be able to utilize the excavations taken from Abernathy street to make the fill on others.

The city attorney was ordered to prepare an ordinance prohibiting teamsters or others from driving over the sidewalks.

Communications were read from the Women's Commercial Club and the Pythian Sisters Improvement Club relative to a clean up day in the city at some time in the first week of April. A resolution was passed that the council would furnish teams to haul away the refuse but were unable to decide at this meeting as to a location for a dumping ground, and this matter is still under advisement.

Bills to the amount of $1017 were ordered paid.

Curry County's View.

The Gold Beach Globe says: The Bandon Commercial Club wants that Pacific Highway to come through Coos. That commercial club is a live wire, and when it wants anything it goes after it—gets it too. Wasn't so long ago that Bandon was a sandpile alongside a slough. Now it is the liveliest port on the Oregon coast. Did it by knowing what they wanted and then going after it. See the point. Meanwhile they are not waiting for the Highway commission, but have voted a tax to raise money to fix that piece of road to the Curry county line so you can get over it without a diving suit.

"That the fact that the Marshfield Commercial Club, in asking the legislature for a million for the 1915 fair, dared to speak for Curry as well as Coos arouses the ire of the venerable sage of Langlois. Why not? Curry would have done the same thing if she had thought about it. Perhaps if all the commercial bodies of all the counties had followed Marshfield's example the million might have been appropriated. And the legislature has spent money more foolishly.

Many Concessions at San Francisco.

San Francisco, March 5.—To date the applications for concessions in the Panama-Pacific International Exposition exceed in numbers and excel in originality any similar features of previous expositions. They include reproductions in miniature of the Panama Canal, Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River, each of which is being erected at an expenditure exceeding $250,000.

Railroad for Harbor.

The Del Norte Argus, of late date says: "After having been practically silent for a month on 'up-to-date' railroad news, the Argus is able to come back this week with something moderately startling. With the deep sea to our west, with a survey crew to our south, one to the north and one to the east, most any kind of news is likely any time.

"Our latest scoop concerns Harbor. It is now definitely stated that the Hill line, instead of coming down Smith river over the Draper survey, will traverse the Chetco basin and find a terminal at Harbor—not at Brookings, but on the south bank of the Chetco. The old townsite of Harbor, in the language of a prominent man from Portland and one who is now on the ground in question, will be gutted and made into an inland harbor. A jetty several hundred yards long will protect the harbor from the southerly storms. A new townsite will be surveyed out in the near future back of the present town of Harbor.

"The railroad now being made by the Brookings people will probably be a spur that will connect with the main line at a point five miles up the Chetco river. The Chetco pass is said to be over 1000 feet less in elevation than the Elk Creek pass on the Draper survey route."

The annual meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mrs. A. McNair Wednesday afternoon. A large amount of important business was transacted and the following officers were elected: Mrs. Sam Johnson, president; Mrs. S. G. Whitsett, vice-president; Mrs. Gale treasurer, Mrs. Weddle, secretary. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. McNair, and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

Vote of Thanks to Home Talent Players.

At last night's meeting of the Commercial Club a vote of thanks was given to all who took part in the entertainment. Mr. Poole reported that after deducting expenses the play netted the club one hundred and seventeen dollars.

It was decided to take up the question of advertising in the Inter Ocean Weekly, and a trade publication circulating among ship builders and one of national circulation among furniture manufactures, setting forth the advantages this district offers.

A communication was read from Representative W. C. Hawley indicating that he would favor a resolution sent him by the Bandon Commercial Club asking that he support a bill whereby the Federal Government would pay the cost of building a petition sent him asking for two services a day between Bandon and Coquille replied stating that the matter was under consideration and that he would advise the club as to what action was taken.

Fast Ball for Bandon.

As was announced in the RECORDER several weeks ago, Bandon is preparing for the biggest baseball season this year in the history of the city.

Tuesday night a meeting was held and an organization completed. The following officers were elected: R. E. L. Bedillion, manager; J. T. Sullivan, president; J. L. Kronenberg, vice president; C. A. Meade, secretary; W. A. Le Gore, treasurer.

A large sum of money has already been subscribed for the expenses of the season.

Orpheum.

Owens & Pine opened a four days engagement at the Orpheum last night and were well received by a large and appreciative audience. Miss Owens made a big hit with her singing and dancing acts, as also did Miss Pine with her musical act, and the general opinion of the audience was that they are the Cleverest Sister Team ever seen on the boards in Bandon.

Tonight, also Saturday and Sunday nights, they will present an entire new bill.

Don't fail to see this excellent vaudeville and 4,000 ft of all new Pictures. Ad. 15c & 10c.

To Make Hens Lay in the

when eggs are scarce and high is the acme of poultry raising.

But it requires great care and attention and a considerable amount of tramping to the chicken yard when it would be decidedly more comfortable to rest by the fire in an easy chair. The man with a bad liver or corns on his feet is tempted to neglect his fowls. But it is not necessary to have a bad liver or corns. Just send 10 cents to the Woodstock Company, Washington, D. C., for a package of their Liver Tablets, or Corn Plaster, or 20 cents for both, if you need them, and then see how your hens will lay.

The Women's Commercial Club will serve a chicken dinner at Odd Fellows Hall, Saturday March 8th. Dinner will be served from 11:30 a. m., until all are served. After dinner card tables will be prepared and all wishing to spend a part of the afternoon at cards may do so.

HOME TALENT PLAY WELL RECEIVED

Greeted With Large Audience and all Performers did Well.

The home talent play entitled "What Became of Parker," at the Grand theatre Wednesday night, under the auspices of the Commercial Club was one of the best ever pulled off in Bandon, and was greeted with a packed house of pleased listeners.

The part of Parker was taken by Wm. LeGore who showed marked skill in his work.

Mrs. C. R. True took the part of Mrs. Parker and certainly did herself proud.

The character of Mr. Jones as taken by P. H. Poole was one of the hits of the evening.

A. D. Mills who impersonated Mr. Growler, certainly did the job up right and kept the audience in an uproar whenever he appeared. Miss Dorothy Gibson as Hebe, Mr. Growler's niece performed the part in a most excellent manner showing superior talent. Mrs. D. M. Averill as the old maid aunt of Mrs. Parker, certainly acted the part, as did also Mrs. C. F. Pape who took the role of a maid servant.

C. F. Pape as the business partner of Mr. Parker was well received, as was also Chas. Lomas as the chief of police. E. S. Gear who took the part of a physician in a creditable manner, and E. G. Cassidy as the colored waiter imitated a real southern "coon."

W. B. Holdiman as the millionaire was all that could be asked for.

During the evening the audience was treated to two excellent vocal solos, one by Miss Winnie McNair and one by Mrs. Tom Mehl, and the hearty encore given both ladies would indicate the high appreciation of the audience.

Several films of excellent moving pictures rounded out a fine evening's entertainment.

A. Reynolds, a Mexican who was being taken from Coos county by Sheriff Gage to the state penitentiary to serve an indeterminate sentence for larceny, escaped at Drain on Thursday, but was shortly afterwards recaptured. Reynolds was placed in a room in the Perkins Hotel and the sheriff took all his clothing from him. The prisoner escaped from a window, but was discovered by a woman resident who found him, with improvised clothing hidden in a closet.—Coos Bay News
