

Federal Co-operation for Good Roads.

Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture says that the state and federal governments should work together for highway improvement in order that a large proportion of the money annually spent for road construction may not be wasted.

In his own department the office of public roads has been demonstrating the value of proper road building by the construction of certain object lesson roads, and the forest service is carrying out his idea of national and state co-operation in road building. The law requires that ten per cent of the gross receipts from the national forests shall be sent in the states in which the forests are situated. This money is expended for road improvement under direct control of the secretary of agriculture.

The amount appropriated under this act, based on the receipts of the receipts of the national forests for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913 is $234,538.98. From the 1912 receipts for this ten per cent road item, there is an additional $134,000, which is still available.

In administering the ten per cent road fund, forest officers charged with the actual plans and expenditures in the neighborhood of their forests have in almost all cases, secured an equal or a larger co-operative fund from state authorities for the building of certain pieces of road.

With the money thus expended many important roads are being built or put in repair. One on the Wyoming national forest, six miles long makes accessible to farmers a large body of timber and opens up a region of great scenic beauty. In northwestern Arizona, part of the fund will be used in connection with the LeFevre-Bright Angel road, important because it makes accessible to tourists the Grand Canyon of the Colorado. In one place, the Ocean to Ocean Highway crosses the Apache national forest, Arizona, and on this project the forest service and the local authorities, cooperated enthusiastically. On the Florida national forest in western Florida steel bridges and gaged roads have, under the stimulus of this fund, taken the place of corduroy, bog, and sand.

This federal road fund is now available in all national forest states of the west. Just as fast as returns come in, the forestry officials say, a similar fund will become available in states in which eastern national forests are being secured.

Forest Notes.

There are about 37 pines native to the United States of which 25 are western species, and 12 eastern.

Paraguay has valuable forest resources, the most important of which is quebracho, particularly rich in tannin.

Much of the cork used throughout the world comes from Portugal, which harvests about 50,000 tons a year.

Germany is said to have an over supply of foresters; so that well-educated men have hard work to secure even inferior positions.

One of the largest forest nurseries in the United States is conducted by the forest service near Haugen, Montana. It is known as the Savenac nursery and has a capacity of 4,000,000 young trees a year.

The forests of Norway are mostly in private or municipal ownership, the nation owning 28.5 per cent of the total forest area. The national forests of the United States occupy only about twenty per cent of the total forest area of the country.
