DEER PLENTIFUL AS SEASON NEARS

State Wide Open Season Policy in Massachusetts.

Many Hunters Expected.

Score About an Appreciation of Deer Game in a Forest—Sportsman's General Recommendation: Full Length of the Season and Mass Upland Preserve Reserves and Corncorns to Deer.

Terrestrial News—The state-wide open season as announced by the Interstate Advisory Committee for the upcoming deer season in Massachusetts is expected to meet with universal approval. The deer population is on the rise and many hunters are looking forward to a successful season.

ECOLOGY OF DEER.

In the forests that are open to deer there has been an increase in the population of deer. This is due to the fact that the deer are protected and not killed for sport. The increase in the deer population is also due to the fact that there are more acorns and other food sources available for the deer.
