OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY OF BANDON

FORGIVENESS

Nothing is more moving to man than the spectacle of reconciliation. Our weaknesses are thus indemnified and are not too costly, being the price we pay for the hour of forgiveness, and the archangel, who has never felt anger, has reason to envy the man who subdues it. When thou forgivest, the man who has pierced thy heart stands to thee in the relation of the sea worm that perforates the shell of the mussel, which straightway closes the wound with a pearl.—Jean Paul Richter.

Quick Change.

Mrs. Brown—Is this hotel on the European plan? Mr. Brown in preoccupied tones from behind his paper: Yes, my dear. Mrs. B.—I'm not feeling hungry this morning. I think I'll merely take some coffee and rolls. Mr. B. (laying aside paper)—What were you asking me, my dear? On the European plan? No, it is not. Mrs. B. to waiter—You may bring me an omelet, some bread, mutton chops, with a bit of baked potatoes, rolls and coffee and afterward some griddle cakes and coffee.—Harper's Magazine.

Her Chilly Report.

The late Dr. — of Malden, after pouring forth the story of his undying love in the most touching manner for over an hour to a young woman whom he hoped would become his fourth wife, was refused the second time. He started, for the door, but, looking around, he said in a most thunderous tone, "My heavens, you are the coldest woman I ever saw!" The young woman looked up and answered sweetly: "Oh, no, doctor. You have seen three colder than I!"—Boston Herald.

Perpetual Pensions.

Perpetual pensions are to be found in France as well as in England. On Aug. 21, 1755, the dauphin, son of Louis XV., when out rabbiting accidentally shot Yves de la Boissiere, one of his suit. As a compensation a pension of £240 was conferred on Bois-siere, with remainder to his heirs in perpetuity. Despite the many changes in the form of government, this pension has been paid ever since, and no member of the budget committee has ever suggested stopping it.

House of Commons Prison.

The house of commons has its own prison for those that treat it with contempt—the clock tower of the house. It was here that Mr. Bridgman was committed in 1880 for refusing to obey the speaker's order to withdraw. He was liberated next day. A more real punishment was the imprisonment there of a Mr. Ward, a solicitor, in 1879 for a breach of the privileges of the house in connection with a bill. He remained there several days until a medical certificate was produced to the effect that his health was in danger through the perpetual striking of Big Ben. The commons debated whether to stop the clock or release the prisoner, and Big Ben won.—London Spectator.

The Invention of Wireless.

Guillermo Marconi was only fifteen years old when he studied at the universities of Bologna and Padua and began his electrical researches. In the course of the next few years he began the study of the so-called Hertzian waves or electrical impulses, which travel through the air without the use of a wire. In 1895, when he was only twenty years old, his advanced knowledge on this obscure subject inspired him with the theory that these waves could be sent out and received at will, and in that year he constructed the first wireless apparatus, the efficiency of which astonished the world.—Chicago Tribune.

Suspicious.

"Are you certain that was county sausage you sold me yesterday?" asked the old fogey. "Yes, sir," replied the butcher. "Genuine country sausage, sir. Why do you ask?" "My wife found a street car transfer in it," said the old fogey. "and I was wondering how it got there."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BE HONEST.

Being honest is the greater part of achievement. When you know that you're doing the best within you, you can't be downed. Self respect is an eternal life preserver. No matter how often circumstance wrecks you, you're bound to float back to solid ground again. When men strive for posts of trust they must be somewhat postlike themselves and stand steady.—Herbert Kaufman.
