The date for hearing naturalization cases in the Coos county Circuit Court has been set for Monday, April 25th.

Dr. C. W. Endicott and wife were down from Coquille over Sunday visiting his brother, Dr. S. C. Endicott, and family.

The initial issue of the Springfield Times arrived this week, and it is a lively looking sheet, full of the boosting spirit and lots of advertising. Here's wishing it success.

Tucker and Cox have again started the grading on Franklin avenue. It is to be hoped that the weather will permit them to complete the work as this street has been in deplorable condition all winter.

At the April term the County Court will call for bids for the construction of a hard surface road from North Bend to Empire. The road will be graded 36 feet wide with a 16 foot hard surface strip in the center.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Lutsey returned last week from an extended visit back to Michigan. They were evidently glad to greet Curry county again. They brought with them two young men who wish to see what this country is like before locating here.—Langlois Leader.

Mrs. R. A. Annin of this place and Mrs. Faulds of Bandon went to the Bay yesterday to attend the union meeting of the North Bend and Marshfield organizations being held at the latter place today. Mrs. Faulds was a guest at the meeting of the local W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. D. McNair Tuesday.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

In Mr. Cates' interview at Albany boosting for this section he says he thinks Marshfield's harbor facilities are the best on the coast. In some respects no doubt they are, but people here who go down to sea in ships say they feel easier with a life saving station so near as at Bandon when going over the bar in rough weather.—Coquille Sentinel.

Word was received here last week that Capt. Russell Panter of the Myrtle Point Transportation Co. has been awarded the contract for carrying the mails from Myrtle Point to Coquille via Norway and Arago, for the period ending June 30, 1918, and that Capt. T. W. Panter has the contract for the route from Coquille to Bandon for the same period.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

In getting out the last telephone directory the Coos Bay Home Telephone Company turned the job over to a stranger, who was to handle the entire matter and receive his pay from the advertising. The directory has been gotten out all right, but it now develops that the man who got them out left without going through the formality of paying the printer, which was the Myrtle Point Enterprise.

BOTH WERE DRAMATIC.

A Story of Frederick the Great and One of His Officers.

Frederick the Great had a strong sense of the dramatic. So had a certain lieutenant colonel in the Prussian army. Accordingly there is plenty of "plot" in the following story:

The officer, who had been discharged at the close of the Seven Years' war, importuned the king to be reinstated. Weary of the incessant solicitations of his troublesome visitor, Frederick at last gave orders that he should never be admitted to his presence.

Some weeks later a most bitter libel against his majesty appeared. Frederick seldom gave himself any concern about such insinuations, but the present one exasperated him so much that he offered a reward of 50 Friedrichs of gold for the discovery of the author.

The day following the disgraced lieutenant colonel demanded and obtained an audience.

"Sire," he began, on being admitted, "your majesty has just promised 50 Friedrichs for the discovery of the author of a recent publication. I am come to claim the recompense. Behold in me the unfortunate libeler. My life I forfeit freely, but remember your royal pledge and, while you punish me, send to my poor wife and children the reward due to the informer."

The king, although struck with the audacity and self sacrifice of the officer, said sternly:

"Go instantly to the fortress of Spandau and there await my judgment."

"I obey," said the culprit; "but the money?"

"Within two hours your wife shall receive it," said the king. "Take this letter and give it to the commandant, but he must not open it until after dinner."

The lieutenant colonel arrived at Spandau and gave himself up as a prisoner. At the prescribed moment the commandant opened the royal mandate. It ran:

To the bearer I give the command of Spandau. I shall be with him in a few days. The present governor is to take the command of Berlin as a reward for past services. FREDERICK.

DISEASE GERMS STICK.

Hence it is Almost Impossible to Have Really Clean Hands.

That the slovenly habits or ill health of the cooks and waiters who serve us in dining cars, hotels, restaurants and our own homes may be an even greater menace to our health than defective plumbing is the fact brought out by some interesting investigations made by Surgeon Cummins of the British army.

It used to be thought that if our servants' hands—and our own—were washed with reasonable frequency we were safe, but Dr. Cummins shows that even the most scrupulous cleansing will not relieve hands that have been in contact with disease germs from the habitually infecting others. In short, Dr. Cummins declares that so long as we live in this world of dirt and microbes our hands can never be really clean.

To prove his contention Dr. Cummins dipped the tip of his forefinger in a liquid containing millions of typhoid bacilli. The finger was next rinsed in an antiseptic solution, then in very cold water and then in water that was almost boiling. After all this cleansing it was washed in a small quantity of sterile water. This water when analyzed showed no less than 313 colonies of typhoid bacilli.

Not satisfied with this discouraging proof of the futility of clean hands, the doctor proceeded to soak his infected finger tip in pure alcohol. Then he washed it again in sterile water. This time the analysis of the water revealed four colonies of typhoid bacilli.

Another experiment made by Dr. Cummins was to rest a typhoid laden finger tip for just an instant on the surface of a bowl of soup. The soup was then allowed to stand for twenty-four hours. When finally analyzed it revealed nearly 40,000 typhoid bacilli to every cubic inch.—New York American.

Getting Ahead of Father.

"Pardon me, Mr. Brassey, but it is 11:30, and I am obliged to say good night."

"You consider 11:30 a late hour?"

"It isn't that so much, but father is lying awake upstairs trying to think of funny things to say about you—like 'Why didn't you ask him to stay to breakfast or bring in the milk or sweep off the porch?' and I'm not going to give him any such opportunity. Good night."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What She Wanted.

Library Attendant—A foreign looking woman came in today and asked for "Cottage Cheese." Friend—Hal Did she think the library was a grocery store? L. A.—No; after some questioning I found out that she wanted "Scottish Chiefs."—Boston Transcript.

Love of Nature.

After a man has lived in town about twenty years, if he has any poetry in his soul, he begins to love the scenery back on the old farm, which he didn't have time to look at when he was working sixteen hours a day.—Toledo Blade.

Musical Note.

An "Old Oaken Bucket" sort of poet concludes a poem, "An' so I love the old piano still." We all like it still. People with old pianos should make a note of this.—New Orleans Picayune.

Crude Comment.

"I would like to see any man try to kiss me."

"Oh, nobody doubts you would like it?"—Baltimore American.

"Clean Up the Bowels and Keep Them Clean"

There are many remedies to be had for constipation, but the difficulty is to procure one that acts without violence. A remedy that does not perform by force what should be accomplished by persuasion is Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets. After using them, Mr. N. A. Waddell, 115 Washington St., Waco, Tex., says:

"Almost all my life I have been troubled with constipation, and have tried many remedies, all of which seemed to cause pain without giving much relief. I finally tried Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and found them excellent. Their action is pleasant and mild, and their chocolate taste makes them easy to take. I am more than glad to recommend them."

"Clean up the bowels and keep them clean," is the advice of all physicians, because they realize the danger resulting from habitual constipation. Do not delay too long, but begin proper curative measures.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are a new remedy for this old complaint, and a great improvement over the cathartics you have been using in the past. They taste like candy and work like a charm. A trial will convince you.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory after trial, return the box to your druggist and he will return your money. IS MILES MEDICAL CO., Elkhart, Ind.
