ALGERIANS ARE LIARS.

They May Tell the Truth at Times, but You Are Never Sure.

The chief fault of the native Algerians seems to be a certain predilection for lying. It appears to be an instinctive desire to deceive, not so much for the sake of profit as for the sake of deception. Albert Edwards, in "The Barbary Coast," tells us that he asked his French host why one of his workmen wore green braid on his turbans, since in Persia only those who have made the pilgrimage to Mecca are thus attired.

"Mohammed!" my host called. The tall, dignified native left his plow and came over to us.

"Have you been to Mecca?" M. Gardet asked in Arabic.

"No, Sidi," the Arab said and went back to his work.

"He says 'No,'" M. Gardet translated to me. "But like as not he has been there six times. If they would always lie you could understand them. But sometimes they tell the truth. Perhaps he hasn't been there. If I should ask six of my workmen about it three would say that Mohammed had been to Mecca, three would say he hadn't."

So I stopped asking my host questions about the Arabs. But in all the time I have been in Algeria I have never found a Frenchman who felt differently about it. Guy de Maupassant, whose eyes pierced so deeply through the lies of French life, could not fathom the Arabs. "They are incomprehensible," he writes. "They lie."

THE WORLD'S WATER POWER.

Forces That May Be Utilized When Our Coal Is All Gone.

The following figures may prove of interest to those fearing the exhaustion of the world's coal supply, says the American Machinist. In a summary of the water power of France is estimated at 4,500,000, of which only 800,000 is utilized. About an equal amount of power is available in Italy, but only 30,000 horsepower is utilized. Falls of 10,000 horsepower are abundant in the Alps.

The estimate in Switzerland is incomplete, but about 300,000 horsepower is in use. Germany has 700,000 horsepower available, with 100,000 applied. Norway has 900,000 horsepower available, with a large part already developed. In Sweden there is 763,000 horsepower available.

The resources of Russia are estimated at 11,000,000 horsepower, of which only 85,000 has been developed. The United States is credited with 1,500,000 horsepower, while Japan has 1,000,000, of which 70,000 has been exploited. In India 50,000 horsepower has already been developed, mostly at a considerable distance from any industrial center. In Great Britain there is 70,000 horsepower already utilized, and an equal amount in Spain.

Promoting the Janitor.

They were joint owners of an apartment house and one day the junior partner sought his colleague in some trepidation.

"The janitor wants $10 more a month or he'll leave. I hate to give up the money, but we can't spare him."

"The senior partner disappeared and returned in a few moments. "It's all right," said he. "I've satisfied him, and it didn't cost us anything."

"How's that?"

"The janitor is now the superintendent."

"Good work!" declared the junior partner. "But why didn't you make him superintendent in the first place?"

"Because," answered the senior member, "I knew he'd want a promotion eventually. Every man wants a promotion some time and, to my mind, a good man deserves one."—Judge.

Smoky Cities Also Foggy.

The relation between smoke and fog is ably set forth in a bulletin issued by the Mellon Institute of Industrial Research, University of Pittsburgh, and written by Dr. Herbert H. Kimball, professor of meteorology, United States weather bureau. He sums up the matter by saying:

"City fogs are more persistent than country fogs, principally because of their increased density due to the smoke that accumulates in them."

"In consequence of the above there are fewer hours of sunshine in the cities than in the surrounding country."

"The sunshine is less intense in the city than in the country, the light of short wave lengths, or the blue light, suffering the greater depletion."

Saving Time.

"Say," exclaimed the excited young man with the discolored optics, "I want you to strike me off a few thousand credits."

"All right, sir," responded the printer. "What shall I put on them?"

"Just print 'None of your business' in big type. Then when the next person asks me how I got this black eye I can just hand him a card and save words."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Ethan Allen's Foundry.

Ethan Allen prior to the American Revolution operated an iron furnace and foundry in Litchfield county, Conn. His iron foundry subsequently furnished much of the shot and shell that was used in the Revolution.—Magazine of American History.

Tact.

Willie—Paw, what is tact? Paw—Tact is the art of making other people think they know more than you do, my son.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

He that will not be comforted cannot be helped.—German Proverb.

Items of Local Interest

A. R. Lindner, the linotype expert who was here overhauling the Recorder's linotype after the fire, finished his work Wednesday night and left on the early boat Thursday morning for Marshfield.

Experienced nurse Mrs. H. K. Jones. Leave card at P. O.—tf.

At the M. E. Church South next Sunday, Rev. E. H. Mowre, presiding Elder, will preach at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Other services as usual. All are invited.—W. B. Smith, pastor.

For Sale—Lot with three room house. Inquire at this office.—38tf.

Work is still progressing at the West Shore Oil Co.'s well and W. H. Button, who has charge of the drilling is still very sanguine over the outcome. Every indication so far is in perfect harmony with the strata of all the big oil wells that have been found along the coast, and there is every reason to believe that in a short time an excellent well will be found.

For Rent—Four furnished house-keeping rooms. Inquire of E. Lewin House and lot on 11th street West for sale or rent. Inquire of J. T. James, 13th Street and Franklin don Drug Co.—tf.

There is under advisement in the M. E. Church South circles a Fourth of July picnic. Probably above Moore mill, with some of the features of a celebration, innocent, but enjoyed by old and young. Results will be announced next week.

Hesig & Porter have opened up an agate grinding shop in the small house across the street from the Gallier hotel, and are receiving a large patronage. They have a modern outfit in every respect.

H. C. Dippel, of the real estate firm of Dippel & Wolverton, left Wednesday on a business trip to Blackfoot, Idaho, and may go on to Denver before he returns. He expects to be away about thirty days.
