MANY MINOR ACCIDENTS REPORTED AT PORT ORFORD

Several "near accidents" have happened on our water front during the past ten days. First a worker on the wharf was being blown to sea in a small skiff when rescued, then two young ladies were racing their horses on the beach and one got so far into the surf that a wave washed her off, and a few days later a bat was swamped in landing on the beach at Hubbards creek, and last Thursday we saw Jas. Crew and Charley Hayne give an exhibition of surf riding that had its thrills. The boys had just landed a line from the Tramp, that was towing piles from the Hubbard's creek beach to the wharf, and started to return to the launch in their row boat when a large wave caught them and started them towards the beach at race horse speed. Just as the wave broke the boat broached and turned bottom side up. Charley head soon bobbed up and he struck out for shore like he was going to see a long-lost friend. Jim was not so fortunate, however, as he came up under the boat and considerable uneasiness was felt for him before he freed himself and dived from under. After the boat was righted the boys, none the worse for their ducking except that Jim had lost $1.50 from his pocket when he was stood on his head and had imbibed more salt water than was to his liking, returned to the Tramp.—Port Orford Tribune.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION TO BE AT MYRTLE POINT

The Coos County Christian Missionary Association of the Christian Church will be held in Myrtle Point, August 18 to 20. This association was organized last August at Marshfield and the convention will be held here this year. A splendid program has been arranged. State workers representing each department of the church will be present. C. F. Swander of Portland, the state corresponding secretary of the church; Mrs. Clara G. Esson, state superintendent of the bible school from Forest Grove; Mrs. Ellen Hunter, state president of the C. W. M. B. from Portland; Mr. G. E. Baker, state president of the Y. P. S. C. E., from Portland; Prof. D. C. Kellems and E. C. Wigmore, from Eugene bible university, will be present and will be the leading speakers on the program.—Myrtle Point Enterprise.

COQUILLE STENOGRAPHER TAKEN TO INSANE ASYLUM

H. W. Evans, who has been employed as stenographer in the offices of Sherwood and Liljeqvist several months past, began acting queerly the first of the week and by Wednesday was doing a good many crazy stunts, among them being the writing of a "want ad" for the Sentinel which would have caused this issue to be excluded from the mails if we had published it. That night he disturbed a lady who lives alone in the north part of the city by knocking at her door about one o'clock and asking for a drink. He was so insistent that she went out the back door and ran to a neighbor's to summons an officer. Evans was later taken into custody and yesterday morning had a hearing before Judge Hall and was committed to the state asylum. We understand he has a wife and family over at Roseburg.—Coquille Sentinel.

LUTSEY'S FRIENDS DON'T THINK AJAX COULD WIN.

The Bandon Recorder of recent date quoted a letter from Smiling Dutch which stated that Tony Ajax would return to Bandon during this month and would wrestle Lutsey in a handicap match, agreeing to throw him twice in an hour, the winner to take all, that is if such a match could be arranged. It is possible that this event could be pulled off at the Agate Carnival, and it would certainly create considerable interest, as the friends of Lutsey in this section do not believe that Ajax can throw him at all, let alone give him a handicap.—Port Orford Tribune.

ANNUAL CONSUMPTION OF WOOD BY MANUFACTURERS

Statistics have just been compiled by the forest service which show for the first time precisely how lumber produced in the country is utilized. About 45 billion feet of lumber of all kinds is the annual production in the United States; of this nearly 25 billion feet, board measure, are further manufactured, the other portion remaining for rough construction lumber and for similar purposes. This is exclusive of material which reaches its final use in the form of fuel, railroad ties, posts, poles, pulpwood, cooperage, wood distillates, and the barks and extracts demanded by the tanning industry. The work of collecting and compiling the figures extended over a considerable period and was carried out state by state; but as one full year was made the basis of statistics in each state the total is a fair average of the uses of lumber in further manufacture in the whole country. Between 50 and 60 per cent of the lumber produced is subject to further manufacture. In preparing the figures in this way, however, it should be remembered that considerable material reaches shops and factories in the form of logs, bolts, and billets without having passed through saw mills, and while this material is included in these statistics this fact should be remembered in comparing statistics with those of lumber production. Nearly or quite 100 different woods are used in this country under their own names, while unknown numbers find their way to shops and factories without being identified or separately listed, except under general names. In quantity the soft woods, the needleleaf or coniferous trees, are most important, but there is a greater number of species among the hard woods, or broad leaf trees. Yellow pine comes first with more than 8 billion feet, followed by white pine with 3 billion, and Douglas fir with a little more than 2 billion. It should be understood, however, that the term "yellow pine" includes several species the three most important of which are longleaf, shortleaf and loblolly. Oak, including all species, has nearly 2 billion feet, and is the most important hardwood. Maple comes next. Dogwood comes about halfway down the list with more than 7 million board feet, and of those species mentioned Turkish boxwood comes last, with less than 30 thousand feet, followed by many others too insignificant to list but making a total of all kinds of more than a million feet. Of the native species, laurel, holly and yucca fall very near the foot of the list in relative quantities used.

Fifty-five principal industries use wood as raw material. Their relative importance is hard to indicate, because quantity alone is not in all cases a criterion of value of an industry to the community in which it is situated, nor to the country as a whole. More than one-half of the total consumption consists of planing mill products, the largest items of which are flooring, siding, ceiling and finishing. The next industry, in point of quantity of wood used, is the manufacture of boxes and crates. Nearly four times as much wood is demanded by makers of boxes and crates as by the builders of steam and electric cars, which comes next, and five fold the amount that goes into furniture, which in turn lends vehicle manufacture. Vehicles demand surprisingly large supplies of wood, and much of it must be of a high class in order to meet requirements for frames, gears and bodies. Chairs, listed separately from furniture, come after novelties and supplies for dairymen, poultry keepers, and apiarists, and just before handles and musical instruments. About mid way down the list comes pumps and wood pipes. Among the products important enough to list separately are canes and umbrella sticks, brooms, firearms, artificial limbs and tobacco pipes.

The apportionment of wood among the various industries, grades from planing mill products, which take the most, down to areoplanes and dry kilns, at the bottom of the list.

100 DEGREES IN THE SHADE AT ST. PAUL

While Coos county people are enjoying the finest of summer weather reports come from the east and middle west of sweltering heat and at St. Paul the thermometer stood at 100 in the shade, and there were at least six prostrations from heat there last Saturday afternoon. At St. Louis the mercury was from 100 to 106 in the shade and three deaths from heat were reported. Chicago was sweltering under a 99 degree mercury with no relief in sight and at Detroit five persons were drowned while trying to escape the intense heat by bathing. Surely when we read of these heat statistics we ought to be thankful that we live in Coos county.
