

MAY REVOKE THEIR LICENSE

Saloon Men Found Guilty in Municipal Court.

FINED $200 AND COSTS

JOE COACH AND JOHN HERRON FINED FOR GIVING LIQUOR TO MINORS.—MAY APPEAL CASE.

In the case of the City of Bandon vs. Joseph W. Coach for giving liquor to minors, which was tried in municipal court last Saturday, Coach was found guilty and fined $200.00 and costs by Municipal Judge Kausrud. John Herron, who was tried later on the same charge, was given a fine of $50 and costs. These two men are operating the Club saloon and now claim that they will appeal the cases to the Superior court. Should they do this it is probable that the city council will revoke their license at once, as they have the right to at any time it is shown that a saloon is not being conducted according to the ordinance governing saloons.

City Attorney Teradgold says he will see to it that the law and the ordinance are enforced and that any saloon caught violating them will be dealt with accordingly.

A number of the councilmen have stated that they will stand back of him, and unless the law is complied with there will be something doing.

ORGANIZE COOS COUNTY RETAIL DRUG ASSOCIATION

N. J. Crain of the Red Crain Drug Company, and Walter S. Wells, of the Orange Pharmacy, were at Coquille yesterday where the druggists of the county met and organized a Coos County Retail Druggists Association, with all the drug stores in the county except two or three represented, and it is understood that these will come in also.

The object of the association is to promote good fellowship and the general welfare of the drug business in the county.

The meeting was held at the Koebel Klub rooms and a very pleasant and profitable session is reported.

The officers elected were: M. E. Everette, North Bend, president; R. S. Knowlton, Coquille, vice president; C. J. Fuhrman, Coquille, secretary; J. V. Brown, Marshfield, treasurer.

W. R. C. Events.

Our National Aid, Mrs. J. A. Faulds, was at the Bay, also Coquille and Myrtle Point, nearly all last week working for the order. She met the State Deputy Inspector of W. R. C., Mrs. Cora McBride of Portland, who came on the Breakwater Tuesday, and together they secured re-organization of W. R. C. at Marshfield and Myrtle Point.

Mrs. McBride visited Bandon Saturday inspecting the local corps here, and the lunch given in her honor was combined with a farewell given to Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sumner, who are about to take a trip to California to spend the winter.

This occasion was made memorable by the patriotic toasts and will long be remembered by all.

TO OPERATE BOTH MILLS

Bandon Mill Will Not Move To Toledo.

IS TO COMMENCE AGAIN

GEO. W. MOORE SETS AT REST RUMORS.—SHUT DOWN IN BANDON IS ONLY TEMPORARY.

Since the Geo. W. Moore Lumber Company of this city has taken over the Toledo Lumber Company's mill at Toledo there has been much speculation as to what would be done with the Bandon mill. Numerous wild rumors have been circulated as to its having been sold to other parties, that it was going to be dismantled and moved to Toledo, etc., such reports even appearing in the Portland papers. In conversation with Mr. Geo. W. Moore, a representative of The Recorder was informed that there was nothing to any of the rumors and the fact that the company had taken over the Toledo mill would have no effect on the Bandon mill whatsoever. The mill at Toledo has a capacity of about 75,000 feet a day and Mr. Moore says there is no occasion for increasing its capacity at present, as it is amply able to cut all the lumber that is required at present.

Mr. Moore stated that just as soon as the lumber market picked up sufficiently to justify it the Bandon mill would start up again and be operated as before. He has an option on property of timber to keep the mill operating for a number of years and this will be procured and operations started as soon as operations can be commenced at a profit.

With this fact in view all who have been so fearful of the mill moving away, or shutting down permanently may rest easy. As an indication of the real condition of the lumber market it is stated that there are 117 mills between the Rocky mountains and the Pacific ocean, and of these 43 are shut down, 16 are running on part time and 58 on full time. It will thus be seen that less than half of the lumber mills are running full time. It is not expected that this condition will last long and as soon as the market becomes better some of the mills will start up and the Moore mill will be among the first ones, as there is no better plant on the coast and none that can operate more economically.

INSTITUTE W. R. C. CORPS

AT MYRTLE POINT SATD'Y

After inspecting the local Women's Relief Corps here Saturday, Mrs. McBride, head officer of the W. R. C. in this state, was accompanied by Myrtle Point Sunday by Mrs. C. B. Zeek of Bandon and the members of the Coquille W. R. C., where she instituted Col. Jewel Corps, No. 30, with a large membership. The officers of this corps will be installed Friday by Mrs. Strang of Coquille.

Mrs. McBride also organized Baker Corps No. 14 at Marshfield last week. This makes four good live Corps for Coos county. Mr. Lundy was very kind to the organization at that place and gave them the free use of his hall for three months. The Corps has all its paraphernalia and has money in the treasury, which is pretty good for a starter.

TWELFTH INSTALLMENT OF

"LUCILLE LOVE" AT GRAND

The twelfth installment of the interesting serial "Lucille Love" will be shown at the Grand theatre Wednesday, Sept. 9th.

The story of this part is as follows: "True it is that Lucille has regained possession of the priceless documents still she is in a more dangerous position than ever before. She again finds herself in the power of Hugo Loubeque in his San Francisco house. Her position is especially dangerous because Loubeque is now tired of the extreme bother she has caused him. She realizes that he is now in deadly earnest and when he demands the return of the papers she promptly hands them to him in fright and misgiving. A fortunate incident to divert Loubeque's anger occurs when Tompon enters the room. Lucille accuses him of stealing her jewels, and to prove it takes the stolen jewels from his pocket. Loubeque's pent up fury then breaks out on the butler. The spy knocks the man down and strangles him into insensibility. While Lucille waits for her fate to be decided she looks out of the window and there sees Lieutenant Gibson, the man she loves, and who is in the same predicament as her father in that both will be dishonored unless the documents are recovered from Loubeque. Lieutenant Gibson has tracked Lucille to this house. However Loubeque sees Gibson almost as quick as does Lucille and he at once gives orders to his men to get ready to meet the attack. Gibson is just as quick as the spy, however, and before the men in the house are ready Gibson breaks down the door and begins fighting in the corridors and upon the stairs. The spy realizing that his men are outnumbered gives the order to escape by that usual, taking Lucille with them. In covering the retreat of his men Loubeque is cornered by Gibson, who holds him up at the point of a pistol. Loubeque holds up his hands and leans against a door, which revolves and the spy disappears. He escapes with Lucille in an automobile and return to Loubeque's Mexican ranch. After their arrival Thompson, still smarting under the beating given him by Loubeque takes the chauffeur into his confidence, and between them they plan to liberate Lucille and escape themselves in Loubeque's automobile. They decide that night at the bird hoot of an owl they will make their start. Loubeque becomes suspicious and pretending to go to sleep he watches the three people out of the corner of his eye. The hoot owl signals twice, and everything is in readiness to escape, when Loubeque jumps up and grapples with Thompson. As they are fighting the spy drops the documents, and Lucille picks them up gives the third signal herself and jumps into the automobile which speeds away. After overpowering Thompson, Loubeque dashes to the front of the house just in time to see Lucille being whisked away in his automobile. He calls his men together, and mounting their horses they give chase.

The Speedwell arrived Sunday with a small cargo of freight and the following passengers: Miss L. J. Hubbard, Miss Mayme Hubbard, Miss Helen Hoagland, Miss Anna Hoagland, Mrs. Geo. L. Messick, S. T. LARGE RUN OF CHINOOK

Fish Coming in Faster Than Ever Before.

PACKERS WORK FAST

COQUILLE RIVER CO-OPERATIVE CANNING COMPANY PUT UP 150 CASES OF CHINOOK YESTERDAY

The run of Chinook salmon in the Coquille river this fall has been better than for any previous season in a long time. Yesterday the Coquille River Co-operative Canning Company put up 150 cases of Chinook and will have about the same pack tomorrow. This is far in advance of any previous season at this time of the year. With the weather conditions settling the deep sea fishing will also begin and it is probable that the run of silversides will begin in a short time. Sam Ness, proprietor of the Prosper cannery arrived yesterday from Astoria with his crew and will start operations at once. Present indications are that this will be one of the best fishing seasons in the history of the Coquille river.

STATE IS SUED FOR COOS BAY WAGON ROAD TRACT

Salem—The State of Oregon, as a political corporation, Oswald West, as Governor, and A. M. Crawford, as Attorney General thereof, are made defendants with the Southern Oregon Company, a corporation, successor to the Coos Bay Wagon Road Company, in a suit filed in the United States District Court by T. S. Minot, a San Francisco attorney, representing 158 claimants to quarter sections of timber land in Coos county, now held by the Southern Oregon Company.

The bill of complaints alleges non-compliance in the execution of the terms of the land grant made first to the State of Oregon by Congress in 1869, on condition that a military wagon road be constructed from the navigable waters of Coos Bay to Roseburg, in Douglas county. This grant was made on condition that the lands "should be sold to one person only in quantities not greater than one-quarter section for a price not exceeding $2.50 a acre."

The 158 claimants named in the bill of complaint offer to pay into court $2.50 an acre for the lands they claim, and further offer to reimburse the Southern Oregon Company for all sums rightfully expended by it as trustee, with offsets for "all timber unlawfully removed and all lands fraudulently sold to other parties."

The work of laying water pipes and sewer pipes on First Street was temporarily stopped by the rains but with a day or two of clear weather the work will be commenced again.

The Bandon arrived Saturday night with 100 tons of freight and sailed again Sunday for Toledo where she will take on a load of lumber from the Geo. W. Moore mill at that place.

Mrs. G. E. McNair returned on the Elizabeth today from Ukiah, Calif., where she had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Weddle, for some time.

F. F. Keller of Marshfield was in the city yesterday.

YOUNG LADY BADLY HURT

Is Thrown From Horse and Dragged

IS STILL UNCONSCIOUS

MISS TERRES PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED WHILE RETURNING HOME SATURDAY.

Miss Kathlyn Terres, who lives about four miles this side of Coquille, met with a terrible accident early last Sunday morning.

She was coming home from a basket social on horseback and when she was nearly home her horse became frightened, throwing the young lady off and dragging her about a quarter of a mile when she somehow was jerked loose. She lay in the road in an unconscious state until 7 o'clock in the morning when she was found by Mr. Young of Pike's logging camp, who happened by at that time.

The fact that she had not reached home did not alarm her folks as they supposed she had stopped over night at S. W. Olsen's place and that she would come home in the morning. Consequently they knew nothing of the accident until they were notified about eight o'clock Sunday morning.

The young lady has a bad gash in her head where she evidently struck a log by the side of the road and is otherwise badly bruised up. Up to last night she had not regained consciousness and it was feared that her injuries might prove fatal.
