MAJESTIC
THE RANGE WITH A REPUTATION

In case of serious illness, you wouldn't call in any old doctor, but would get the best doctor you knew of, The Doctor with a Reputation, the doctor that has shown his worth by years of good honest service.

Then why buy any old range, when you can get THE GREAT MAJESTIC, THE RANGE WITH A REPUTATION—a reputation won by years of constant, honest and economical service.

The MAJESTIC is made right—OF NON-BREAKABLE MALLEABLE IRON, and RUST-RESISTING CHROME PLATE. All parts of the Majestic are riveted together (not bolted) practically airtight—no cold air enters range or hot air escapes, thus baking perfect with about half the fuel used in a range that is bolted and pasted together with stove putty.

The ALL-COPPER MOVABLE RESERVOIR on the MAJESTIC is absolutely the only reservoir worthy of the name. It heats 15 GALLONS OF WATER WHILE BREAKFAST IS COOKING, and when water boils, it can be moved away from fire by simply shifting lever.

Call at our store and let us show you why the MAJESTIC is absolutely the best range on the market.
Your neighbor has one—ask for.

The strong wind the first of the week smashed in a large plate glass window in the Hub Clothing Store. The glass had previously been cracked by a run-away team dashing a rock into it. The glass was badly demolished by the wind and some clothes in the window were damaged by water.

W. M. Swart and son, Wayne, of San Diego, arrived in Bandon the first of the week. They walked the entire distance, visiting every town along the coast, and Mr. Swart says Bandon looks better to him than any small city they passed through. They will remain in Bandon and will be joined by the rest of the family in the near future.

In speaking of the run of salmon in the Coquille river this year the Coos Bay News says: In early days there were very few chinook salmon in the Coquille river, but it was one of the best rivers in the northwest for silversides. Some years ago chinook fry were taken from the South Coos river hatchery and planted in the Coquille, and every year since that time more have been liberated there, with the result that the chinook run is increasing.

THREE EMPIRES.

Monarchies That Practically Sprang Into Being Overnight.

Prior to Jan. 18, 1871, the German empire, as we know it today, had no existence. Instead it was a jumble of kingdoms, states, duchies, grand duchies and principalities, all joined together by a like language and common political aspirations. It is true, but otherwise quite separate and distinct.

Then came the historic ceremony in the Hall of Mirrors at Versailles. Paris had just been captured by King William of Prussia, and it was held to be a fitting time and place to proclaim him the first German emperor. Never since the dawn of history was an empire born more dramatically.

By a strange irony of fate, too, its birth took place amid the ruins of the French empire, itself the creation of a day, or, rather, to be strictly accurate, of a night. France went to bed on the evening of Dec. 1, 1851, a republic. When it awoke next morning it was an empire. During the hours of darkness Paris had been occupied by troops, and the prince-president had become Napoleon III.

Equally sudden and almost as sensational in its way was the birth of the modern Greek empire. After the yoke of the Turks had been thrown off in the war of independence the country became a republic. But the people soon tired of that democratic form of government and promptly proceeded to assassinate their first and only president. Then they met together, elected a king and settled themselves down to be ruled by him in a quite orderly and contented fashion.
