SCHOOL TEACHERS SELECTED

Board Concludes Annual Task. List of the Teachers Named

The school officers of Bandon are now enjoying the repose that comes to them who have an arduous task accomplished. The annual wrestle with the school teacher problem has been faced and is now past history. When consideration is given to the salaries and honors attached to it the position of school officer is probably the most thankless job on the calendar. The board this year has gone to great pains in the selection of the grade and high school teachers and people acquainted with conditions feel that they have acquitted themselves well in the difficult task of selecting school teachers.

The following is the list of teachers in addition to Prof. Turnbow, whose selection as superintendent was announced some time ago:

High school—J. O. Ervin, Harold Quigley, Miss E. J. Rodgers, Aline Noren, Grades—T. S. Van Vleet, Pearl Walker, Kate Chaburn, Ella Ray, Anna Clinkenbaird, Luelie Mc Kay, Blanche Landreth, Berdenah Hiakey, Eva Pruner, Ebba Wren Bessie Van Vleet, Ethel Moore, Agnes Hughes.

J. D. Tharp, who has a farm in the Four Mile vicinity and one near Whiskey Run, was in Bandon Saturday, headed toward the ranch above Bullard. He says it keeps him busy, running both places.

TILLIE'S PUNCTURED ROMANCE

Greatest Six Part Keystone Comedy Ever Filmed

Marie Dressler, as "Tillie" is a scream. Charlie Chaplin the famous comedian is at his best and Mabel Normand (Keystone Mabel) is one of the big live wires of this six part morning picture comedy.

Whenever a feature film can play in Portland for three solid weeks from 11 a. m. to 11 p. m. it has surely some drawing power. To miss Tillie's Punctured Romance means that you have passed up the greatest Keystone Comedy ever seen in pictures. To be seen at the Grand next Wednesday evening, April 14th.

Marie Dressler received $60,000 to appear in Tillie's Punctured Romance. Marie spent three weeks in the hospital after the film was made—if you want to see the fun and the excitement, see this greatest of all the Keystone Feature comedies in six parts at the Grand, next Wednesday, April 14th.

Progress on Government Work

The Tillamook arrived from Portland Saturday night. Part of her cargo consisted of equipment for the government work on the harbor jetties. It brought a donkey hoisting engine for use in the rock quarry, rails for the tramway and much other supplies. The derricks on both sides of the river that will handle the rock from the cars to the scows have been erected. The bench for the tramway jetty on the north side of the river is well started. Rail laying on the tramway on the south side has been begun.

Soundings of the river have been taken to above the Prosper mill and maps are about complete.

Happy Hanrahan at the Fair

This is not the title of a moving picture but about our own Pat Hanrahan, who did the fair last week, at 'Frisco. Pat was truly amazed and said he could not describe it even faintly. The California building was, to his notion the biggest and best of anything to be found, and had the finest and most elaborate exhibits. Second only to the California building was the Canadian building and its exhibits. He said the Japanese not only have a building of their own, but have as far as he was able to ascertain an exhibit in every building on the fair grounds, excepting only the Canadian, which contains no exhibits other than from its own country. The mineral exhibits from the Canadian building were especially good. The California building, in addition to having excellent mineral displays was most attractive for its fruits and agricultural display. Pat did not say a great deal about the Oregon building except that it was very similar to the Oregon building at the Portland fair, but added that in the Oregon building was a large room, filled with leather chairs and in front of a big fireplace, which he regarded as its chief attraction. The fair is not yet complete and he says will not be at its best until summer. He says you can go to the fair grounds from the Ferry building in a jitney for ten cents and from the same place in a street car for five cts., and other prices in proportion, and says if there is any hold up there he did not find it.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanrahan were gone about ten days and returned on the last Speedwell.

Bicycle riding on the sidewalks of the city came up for a little side discussion at the last meeting of the council Wednesday evening. It was brought out that an ordinance was in existence by which the use of sidewalks by bicycles was prohibited and now it is a matter of enforcing the law.

Fifty dollars a month in the amount the city levies against itself for the use of water. Sixty dollars is the sum formerly paid under the private ownership of the water system. When the city can afford it the fifty dollar rate is likely to be reduced.
