Several families with numerous children belonging to each, living above Moore's mill and within the city limits, have created a state of war among themselves. The attacks and counter attacks consists of throwing rocks, dead chickens, antiquated eggs or whatever a fanciful imagination can conjure up as most likely to incur the displeasure of the recipient. A pan of paste flour or dishwater applied to a window is reported to be a common and favorite pastime and vulgar and obscene epithets are reported to be frequently indulged in. Inasmuch as the respective belligerents live in houses only a few feet apart the interest in the warfare is intensified and is practically continuous day and night, very closely resembling trench warfare in Europe. The landlords are threatened with reduced rent and have taken an interest in the matter—peace officers have been occasionally interviewed or called on to quell a riot and the whole thing threatens to be aired in court in the near future.

COOS COUNTY TRACK MEET

Shown in Moving Pictures at the Grand Sunday Night

Some excellent moving pictures were secured of the recent track meet held in Marshfield by K. B. Westleder, expert camera man from Portland.

The Bandon track team shows up to splendid advantage. Rayner Geisendorfer who made the hundred yard dash in 11 seconds, flat, (that's going some) is picked up and carried on the shoulders of enthusiastic admirers and brought right up before the camera. These moving pictures are the first ever taken of any local event in Coos county and will prove of exceptional interest to all Bandonians. Come to the Grand next Sunday night and see our high school boys give a good account of themselves on the track and in the pictures.

Owing to the heavy cost of producing this event in moving pictures, the admission price will be 20 cts for adults and 10 cts for children.
