

Gas Stove Convenience with Kerosene

Cooks the Cooking Not the Cook

A good oil stove concentrates all its heat at the cooking point. That avoids an overheated kitchen and that means comfort for the cook even on hot, sweltering summer days.

New Perfection Oil Cook-Stove

For Best Results Use Pearl Oil

PORT ORFORD REPORT.

(From Port Orford Tribune.)

Of those who took the eighth grade examination at Port Orford recently Fred Marsh, Guy Woodcock, Ray Rickman and Cassie McLellan were successful in receiving diplomas.

Two gasoline fishing boats from Seattle anchored in our harbor one day last week seeking shelter from a heavy northwester. These boats had been following the hallibut bank south with some degree of success, having caught 18,000 lbs of Yaquina, which was as far south as they were supposed to go on their fishing expedition. They anchored one day in a howling gale off Cape Blanco and when they found the shelter of our bay did not know where they were until they came ashore and inquired. Then they were not much better off for they had never heard of Port Orford or of its harbor before. The sting of this lamented ignorance regarding Port Orford's greatest asset was relieved however, when someone mentioned Coos Bay as a good port for the wayfarers to put into. This, too, was new to them and they inquired concerning it. Their lack of knowledge was made up for by an oversupply of perseverance as shown by the following incident. When kill of time in two tow of the crew started after lunch on the main road running south and agreed to walk until they came to the first farm house. For about ten miles they held on their course and presumably they would have been going yet had not the object of their hike shown up and as it was, evening was drawing near when they reached the From residence on Brush Creek where they hired a man at $4. per to drive them back to town. The boats have gone, taking with them it is hoped a better knowledge of the Oregon coast.

B. W. Dean received an appointment last week as fire warden and entered Monday into the duty of his position. The first thing the government will do will be to open trails through the mountains and one of these that work will start on immediately is the trail running up Elk river to the settlement at Middle Elk.

The government tender, Manzanita dropped into the bay one day last week and landed supplies for the Cape Blanco light house on the beach by Battle Rock. Geo. Quigley and Herbert Unican hauled the freight to the Cape with teams. Every year a new coat of paint is given to the light house not even the board fence being overlooked and paint was one of the articles received in this shipment.

R. J. Long who came to Curry county some two months ago and took up an option on W. H. Elwood's Elk Horn mine, is reported as wanted in Coos county for some bad checks and debts that he has left behind up there shortly after arriving in Port Orford. Mr. Long, leaving several men in charge of the mining property on the Middle Elk, went to Coos Bay with the avowed purpose of getting some gold saving machinery to be shipped from California. He was expected back six weeks ago but wrote saying he could come only when he could arrange his business satisfactorily and in the meantime, those he left in the mine were living at his credit. Earl Epling, a young man from near Los Angeles who came here with Mr. Long entrusted that gentleman with something like $750 to invest in the mining enterprise. Mr. Epling has lost an arm and the money represents the saving accumulations of years. In addition to this Mr. Long owed a bill of $100 to one of the local stores.

Under the new mail schedule that went into effect yesterday, the mail leaves Bandon at one o'clock in the afternoon for Curry county points. The Langlois mail leaves at the same hour for Port Orford and thus the mail arriving at Langlois at about 2:30 one day must lie there until 10 o'clock the following day. During the summer months when the mail can be carried by auto there is no reason why it can not come through from Bandon to Port Orford in the afternoon which would make it arrive at all points in Curry county south of Langlois 24 hours earlier than it is now doing.

EXPERIENCE.

I HAVE known sorrow, therefore I know I know The worth of laughter. I have been betrayed, Tried in the crucible, utterly dismissed, Henceforth with truth forever let me go. I have known men who pointed on me their hate. Has, thirty now I share with one friend, I have heard counsel, therefore I defend The absent who but visitors denigrate. I have seen blind to guidance; but I see The story of her name, all hearts above, I see those whose hearts treasure give me love. One hour and I will find security. -Lillian Hanson Young.

GOLD BEACH GOSSIP.

The run of salmon is slack

W. A. Bishell returned Saturday evening from a trip to Bandon where he took Dr. and Mrs. Gray in his car. He was accompanied back by J. P. Tuppe, who is visiting at the home of Tom Smith.

Henry Colvin went to Port Orford recently to pilot a new boat for the cannery to Gold Beach.

Ex-County Judge E. A. Bailey and family returned and are visiting relatives and old time friends. The judge is as yet undecided as to whether he will remain permanently or not. He is feeling well now but his health is by no means perfect.

THREE TIMES THREE IS FS.

If you can wear your fannies when your neighbors Are shedding theirs and poking fun at you. If you can take precautions, though your labors Are watched and criticized by quite a few. If you can swallow sulphur and molasses, And finally wear red flannel round your throat. And like but doses from alternate glasses Until you feel your very heart's shaft. If you can catch a cold and keep your temper, While all your friends suggest a dozen cures. If you have influenza and distemper, Yet sympathize with cases worse than yours. If you hear, "How is your cold?" and answer sweetly, Or hear, "I told you so!" and not get cross. If suddenly you lose your voice completely And never breathe a word about your loss. If you can stick to rubbers and umbrellas When all the world is wearing summer suits, And smile benignly at the other fellow When he makes fun of you with tears and boots. If you can grapple with that tired feeling And force yourself to work that must be done, Then summer time your six will soon be feeling. And probably you'll live till fall, my son. -Town Topics.

Panther Line Gets Big Damages

The case of the Myrtle Point Transportation Company against the Port of the Coquille river which was on trial here from Monday to Friday of last week in the Circuit court ended in a verdict of $1750 and costs for the plaintiff.

The Panther line boat was suing the port for damages to the Dora and Myrtle caused by the slashing; the port has been cutting on the east fork of the north fork coming down and carrying away the boom to which the boats were moored on the night of October 7, 1913.

Both of the boats were put adrift and stranded on jetties below so that the injuries they received were claimed to be $1,000 while the loss due to putting them out of business was placed at $700 more.

Forty one witnesses were examined and the issue was hardly in doubt from the start as the Myrtle Point Milling company had before secured judgement against the Port for $2,400 damages on the same statement of facts.

Judge E. D. Sperry and C. R. Peck appeared for the plaintiff and J. D. Goss for the defendants—Coquille Sentinel.

JOHN BARLEYCORN AND TWENTIETH CENTURY TRANSPORTATION

They had a transportation Parade the other day at the San Francisco Exposition. It showed the development of transportation to the present from the earlier days of traveling. In the railroad section a "water wagon" evoked continued demonstrations of approval from the spectators. Quoted upon it was "Rule G" and the invitation "Climb On."

"Because two fingers of red liquor can turn a ten million dollar waste of money, Rule G was framed," said Rufus Steele in "Keeping John Barleycorn off the train." This rule, worded by the American Railroad Association and in force in every railroad in the country reads as follows: "The use of intoxicants by employes while on duty is prohibited. Their use, or the frequenting of places where they are sold, is sufficient cause for dismissal"
