Friends of Mrs. Frank Hufford arranged a little party on that lady and succeeded in giving her a complete surprise at her home on Allegheny avenue and 13th street. The event was her birthday and seventeen of her lady friends came in with hearty cheer and many good wishes and passed a happy afternoon to help her in her successful effort in keeping young.

A meeting of the Ladies Guild of St. John's Episcopal church was held at the home of Mrs. O. A. Trowbridge last Friday afternoon as a special farewell of the society to Mrs. Mary Walker. Twenty four ladies were present, consisting of members of the guild and a few friends of the guest of honor. Mrs. Walker has been connected with the church and the society for twenty years and as remembrance and a token of their appreciation of her worth and work she was presented with a handsome leather traveling bag.

For a week the bar has been as smooth as a mill pond and the ocean beyond like a great lake. The breakers that come in keeping up their attack on the sand spit at the light house have been hardly worthy of the name so tame were they. The fishermen who angle from the jetty have found the sport good and a number of red fish were caught today and one or two rock cod. Charles Conrad caught a sun fish off the jetty this afternoon, a queer looking fish, about 16 inches long and 20 inches high. Those who have traveled the deep in this vicinity during the past few days have seen the Pacific at its best.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Faust who left Saturday for the headwaters of the Rogue river where they will try miners luck were agreeably given a royal send off taking the form of a surprise party given them at their home in this city last Tuesday night. Whist and 500 were the recreations which helped them to spend a pleasant evening. Luncheon consisting of cake and coffee was served at midnight. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Rambo, Clipping, Nelson, Pfeifer, Ray Lowe, Biles, Mrs. Kimball and family and Martin Steiner. Mr. Faust was for many years a miner in Nevada and California but has not handled a pick or pan for several years.

Prof. Richards who has been searching for a boy musician to complete a musical trio has found him in the person of Byron Robinson. The two other members of the trio are Milford Westlander of this city and Cecil LaChapelle of Marshfield. None of the trio had ever played with the others until two weeks ago but they are working together nicely. Prof. Richards expects to use them in a tour of Coos county in the near future. They will also appear at the professor's recital to be given in this city at about the time of the Moose county convention.

The many friends of A. McNair are glad to see him on the street again. He was down town Monday for the first time in over two weeks. He suffered a slight stroke at that time but has been improving steadily. His brother David McNair was here to see him last week from Myrtle Point and his brothers Wm. McNair and Nathaniel McNair of Loyalton, Cal. are here and another brother, Alex McNair of Tillamook is expected today. Mr. McNair's trouble was forgotten by a doctor of Seattle on his recent visit to that city. He had his blood pressure tested and the physician told Mrs. McNair that he was in for a stroke and must take a rest.

B. W. Charlesworth who left the cool breezes of Bandon about three years ago for the alluring wealth of Arizona's arid land to be placed under irrigation and who lived near Casa Grande, has returned to Bandon, with Mrs. Charlesworth, intending to remain. Mr. Charlesworth states that he has purchased the insurance business of Mr. A. G. Thrift, and that for the time being he will have office room with E. E. Oakes. Mr. Charlesworth says that financial conditions in Bandon appear as good as any place he has seen since living here and in addition to living in Arizona he has been over a considerable portion of Texas, New Mexico and California.
