WISDOM'S DISGUISE.

ATHENA of the Parthenon.
Too serious is your brow,
Too much it speaks of wisdom,
And grim, scholastic brow.
Athena, all your loveliness
Is wrought in somber mold,
Your measured grace of form and face
Is too severe and cold.

Sublime you are, but history's frown
And all the lore of years
Prove Aphrodite's victories
Pull off have wrung your tress
O queen of wisdom's wide estate,
Let wisdom make you wise!
The mightiest mind rules best behind
A warm and gay disguise.

Athena of the Parthenon,
Hold all your wit and worth,
But balance Aphrodite's store
Of tenderness and mirth;
Unhelm your brow, your tresses
Train,
And half your wisdom hide;
Then will you shame your rival's reign
And many a god's beside.

When Veterans Visit

The following is an account of the visit of Bandon G. A. R. and W. R. G. representatives to Coquille last Tuesday from the Coquille Sentinel.

The Bandon G. A. R. Post and Woman's Relief Corps were the guests of the local corps on Tuesday of this week. The visiting members arrived on the morning boat and were met by a delegation of the Corps and taken to the hall, where the morning was spent in renewing old acquaintances. At noon a chicken dinner was served to something near a hundred and fifty people. In the afternoon, instead of the usual meeting, the following program was given:

Song by Capt. McEwen.
Recitation by Mary Levine.
Solo, "I Want to be a Soldier", Beryl Woodruff.
Vocal Solo, "A Perfect Day", Mrs. Harvey.
Song by Harry and Stanley Warren.
Vocal Solo, "The Old Flag Has Never Touched the Ground", Mrs. Still.
Recitation by Hattie Morrison.
Song by Alice Young.
Recitation by Mrs. Morrison.
Recitation "Kentucky Bell", Maud Toates.

Address of welcome by Mrs. Tozier. In addition to the regular program, several informal talks were given by Lamb, Mrs. Shields, Mrs. Faulds, Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. Zeek, Mr. Sumner, Mr. Young and Rev. Mr. Leggett.

The dining room doors were again thrown open and the guests invited out to lunch before it was time to start on the return trip.

The visitors were escorted to the boat, and after repeated good-byes they departed, wishing their hosts "many happy returns."

The Bandon people came up on the Telegraph and the excursion was composed of 36 members of the Relief Corps, and 8 members of the Post besides several other soldiers.

Of the local post there were present 11 of the fourteen members. The Relief Corps turned out about 40 strong.

The following is the address of welcome, composed by Mrs. L. B. Tozier, and read by her on the occasion of the visit of the Bandon Post and Corps last Tuesday.

Chronicles, Chap. 1.—In the second year of the reign of the Arthur and Morronite, certain women dwelling in the city of Coquille said one to another.

These are perilous times, we hear from afar, even from Bandon by the seashore of the Pacific Ocean a multitude of women are coming to take our city even our stronghold, the strong and mighty Relief Corps.

Let us get ready our armor, our supplies, our children, and flee into the mountains, even to Brewster valley and there build a fortress that we may not be taken by these women from beyond the river Coquille, for they are valiant and strong and will surely devour our substance and our children and carry away our husbands to be in bondage unto them. Then spake Laura the Bandonite, whose husband did get much gain from selling wood to the inhabitants thereof.

Give ear unto me, I pray thee. Let us make a feast and appoint certain women to entertain, and other women to meet this mighty rmy, and show them much kindness. Even let us kill the fatlings of our coops and make a feast, and peradventure these women, even the strong and mighty Relief Corps of Bandon may be subdued and not take our city or our children or even our husbands into captivity.

Then certain mighty women of authority said "So let it be."

Then the queen of the city said "Let us appoint certain of our numbers even Abbie the Kellyite and Belle of the household of Elwood, and Sarah the Wickhamish woman, and Sophish the wife and Clauser the carpenter, these maidens are mighty at the cook stove even to feeding a great multitude, and let us bring our fatlings and provide a feast on the third day of the eighth month."

And it was so.
And it came to pass when the day was come that the hosts from Bandon were expected, the people of Coquille arrayed themselves in their fine raiment and buried all their munitions of war, even their swords and their bayonets, and took no weapon but their banners and went forth even to the banks of the river to meet this mighty army whose captain was Sadie of the tribe of Shields; and many stalwart women and mighty for their valor were there and spake they to our host "who are these coming to meet us arrayed in these gay trappings?"

Then spake Sarah, the keeper of the inn "Welcome to our city, our comrades and our friends" and Mary the Zeekite said "Was there not a league made by our fathers, even in the reign of Abraham the son of Lincoln that we should spoil no more in war and do you come in battle array?"

Then spake the women of Coquille.

"We bring no weapons, we have beaten our swords into plowshares and our spears into pruning hooks. Neither shall we learn war any more, but come into our fortress and partake of our feast and be at home with our people, for we desire peace and pleasantness more than the taking of a mighty city."

And all the women of Bandon and all the women of Coquille were moved with one accord and shouted with a loud voice "All hail! Peace be within thy walls and prosperity within thy palaces"; and they led the daughters of Bandon to the palace called the Woodmen Hall and ate and drank and made merry and rejoiced one with another even until the great ship Telegraph returned them to their own city even the city of Bandon by the Sea.

ELAINE OF ASTOLAT.

ELAINE, the fair and lovable;
Elaine of Astolat—
The gentle, rare and beautiful,
Who died for Lancelot.
A half forgotten chapter left,
Her native downs among,
As and as any heartbreak song
The poets yet have sung.

For when the dumb old servitor
Steered forth to Camelot
To bear the death cold lily maid
In search of Lancelot,
There paced the moaning river's bank
A sorrow burdened youth,
Who long and patient years had been
Her squire of proved truth.

Elaine had died a wasting death
For him that loved her not;
Young Jared lived a living death
For her that scorned his lot;
He lived to muse despairingly
On slight to manhood rare,
While all the world was paying court
To pomp and trumpet blare.

A thousand loves like theirs have been,
Ten thousand more will be;
The hungry heart too often seeks
An empty gratuity.
Appoint your head to guide your heart,
Sweet present day Elaine;
Invest young Jared with romance,
And thus your knight obtain.

The county court has given a contract for the construction of an experimental mile of hard surface road in the neighborhood of Bunker Hill at a cost of $1.02 a square yard. The hard surface will be nine feet wide with a shoulder of macadam on each side of three and a half feet. The work is expected to be done by the first of September.

The Rogue River Cannery fight that came up before Judge Coke at Coquille Wednesday had its hearing postponed to Gold Beach August 24th. The men were up on a charge of contempt for violating an injunction restraining them from trespassing on the property of the Wedderburn Trading Company. The court action is final culmination of a fishing war that has been in progress between rival canneries on the Rogue; the Macleay company and the Wedderburn company over the rights to certain fishing grounds.

The war has led to the destruction of property and night raids on one another and now the court will take a hand in a settlement of the difficulties.

I WONDER.

I WONDER if ever a song was sung
But the singer's heart sang sweeter
I wonder if ever a rhyme was sung,
But the thought surpassed the meter
I wonder if ever a sculptor wrought
Till the cold stone echoed his ardent thought!

Or if ever a painter, with light and shade,
The dream of his inmost heart portrayed!

I WONDER if ever a rose was found
And there might not be a fairer!
Or if ever a glittering gem was ground
And we dreamed not of a rarer!
Ah, never on earth shall we find the best!
But it waits for us in the land of rest;
And a perfect thing we shall never behold
Till we pass the portal of shining gold.

All Wrong

The Mistake is Made by Many Bandon Citizens

Look for the cause of backache. To be cured you must know the cause.
If it's weak kidneys
You must set the kidneys to working right.
A resident of this vicinity shows you how.
Mrs. Bisbey had Foster-Milburn John McCallister, Route 4, New Hope, Oregon, says: "I had pains in the small of my back and sharp twinges when stooping or lifting. My back ached at night and was lame in the morning. I tried easily and was languid and nervous. I had headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney symptoms contained sediment and were frequent in passage, causing me to get up in the night. I used Foster-Milburn's kidney pills and they soon relieved me."
