He Can Mend That Leaking Roof

The winter rains will be here before long and the opportunity presents itself now to have it looked after and made ready for further service. Corthell the roofer is here looking after his contracts on the bakery and B. B. buildings and while he has his tools handy can just as well do your job. He does Number one work. A card in the general delivery will reach him or phone him at the Hotel Bandon.

The passengers on the Elizabeth, those who did not choose to come in the power life boat, spent Sunday just outside the harbor. The Brooklyn which came up also in the early morning thought it best to come but the Lizzie waited for the higher night tide.

At a meeting of the session of the Bandon First Presbyterian church held September 1st, a formal call was extended to the Rev. W. S. Smith and the presbytery is to be asked to make Mr. Smith the regular pastor of the church. He has been here one year as a supply. The members of the church like his work very much and want to make him their regular pastor.

Those members of the Eastern Star from Bandon, attending the Natal Day celebration at Coquille report an unusually fine time. There were about 300 present, a striking contrast to the fifty who attended the first Natal Day observance held at the same place fourteen years ago, in Collier's grove. J. Ira Sidwell was on the program for response to a toast on "the Mason's Goat" but the young men's quartette who were on for a song did not appear.

Mrs. Eva Z. Griffith and John P. Tupper, both old citizens of Bandon have leased the Cooper building and the Donald Charleton building on Second street and will conduct a rooming house. Mr. Tupper is the man for whom Tupper rock was named. A second large rock on the south side of Humbug mountain was named after him during the past week. Mrs. Griffith and Mr. Tupper have recently returned from the Rogue river country.

S. E. Hines had the sight of one eye threatened when that member of his anatomy came in full contact with a flood of water from the nozzle of the hose playing in the building at the fire Wednesday night. He was in the front end of the building rescuing property when a partition fell and he made a rush for the doorway and safety. Mr. Hines, going out met the water coming in. It was several days before he recovered from the effects of the collision.

Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Smith and daughter Lois, who returned from their month's vacation at Ocean View and Bob Creek report a very enjoyable time. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hopkins and Miss Bertha Wilkins and Miss Coryell and a few other friends of the Hopkins' spent their vacation at the same place. They made numerous fine catches of salmon trout but did not shoot any deer. Much of the enjoyment of the outing for the Smiths was the hike, Mr. Smith and Lois covering 160 miles and Mrs. Smith 60 miles.

The Corths formerly lived here and are of the family of Captain Coth who formerly was skipper of a sailing boat that made this port. Captain Corth is now in charge of a boat in the trade with Australia and is now on a voyage to that continent. They own the house in which Geo. Lafaw has been living and will occupy it during the coming winter.

City Recorder E. E. Kausrud returned last week from his month's vacation in San Francisco. He visited with his brother-in-law in Oakland during the interval, saw the sights and had a fine time in general. He did not go back to Wisconsin for a visit as he planned to do as he found that between excursion dates, the time of journey and sight seeing did not compress themselves within the time allowed by the city council in their leave of absence. The news of his intention to visit Wisconsin, as printed in the Recorder found its way back to his relatives and from them came word the effect that they had killed the fattest calf and a few pullets and were preparing a royal welcome, all of which made it the harder to give up the proposed trip.

Elder A. B. Reese has returned from Marshfield where he attended the Baptist convention and rally.

C. H. Neal has moved his family to the Ellis ranch near Lampa.

Mrs. Wm. Griffith is visiting relatives near Coquille.

Mrs. Ness of Portland is visiting her mother, Mrs. John Welbers.

John Linn has rented C. H. Neal's house and will occupy it this winter.

FIR MOUNT FACTS

Melville Hack is building a large porch on his house.

The Fir Mount Study Club met at Mrs. Lee Neele's last Wednesday, week and last Wednesday at Mrs. Pullen's to finish the study of South America, as the books had to be returned to the state library at Salem. The next country to be taken up as study will be China. Next Wednesday will be a review of the whole country and each member writes a long paper on each state. The meeting is at Mrs. Forest Strong's at 2 P. M.

Melville Hack is gathering sweet corn. It grows fairly well but gardens are all more or less suffering from drought.

R. A. Felter has lots of strawberries. He is the only one to irrigate it, this section and so has the best garden although Frank Harding comes a close second. His tomatoes are a sight and without irrigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson gave a dance in the new hall they have made of their barn on night this week. Archie Gibson put in a good floor and they kindly offer their new floor to the people of Fir Mount for their little social gatherings. The dance was a huge success and report says, the "best yet" A dainty supper at midnight was enjoyed by thirty or forty guests.

Ray Hall and Forest Strong have been exploring Bear Creek in the hope of finding some work. F. Strong was also looking for apples to pack.
