SLIPPED FROM ROOF FELL TWENTY FEET

And the Fall Only Jarred Euchre Creek Carpenter

(From Port Orford Tribune.)

Geo. Dunn went off from the roof of the barn that he is building on his Euchre creek farm, one day last week in a manner that would recommend him so highly as an aerial performer that he doubtless could catch on with any circus should he care to follow such a vocation. He was shingling on the roof that has seven eighths pitch and was about 20 feet from the eaves when his footing gave way. He shot down to where the roof flares out at the eaves in a gentle slope, 22 feet from the ground, which shot him like a catapult out into the air. And here was where George showed his acrobatic ability for he landed square on both feet. Other than a few scratches and being somewhat used up and unable to stand for a while from the shock, he was uninjured. It was a close call and George has since been receiving congratulations on his lucky escape.

The steamer Acme called at Port Orford again Monday and loaded some 2500 ties, having taken the rest of her cargo from Bandon.

Coos county buyers bought some 150 head sheep at Port Orford the first of the week, 100 head coming from W. T. White, and drove them north yesterday. The price paid was close to $5 a head.

N. F. Woodcock and son returned several days ago from a week's hunting trip at Salal Springs. They report lots of small deer in that section but not many big bucks. They found a bee tree on the trip from which they got over three gallons of excellent honey.

H. D. Lynn, who recently came to Port Orford with his family from Wyoming and purchased the J. D. Loucks home, sold the property last week to W. T. White Sr., and has started on his return to the cowboy state. He said that the country here was all right but that he missed the coyote and sage brush, and was going back to where they grew.

Contractor Pearce has had a crew of several men at work during the past week on the new residence for W. B. Hurst on Oregon street. The house is 32x36 feet, and is now nearly enclosed. The J. B. Curl home, which Mr. Pearce is also building about a block away, has been enclosed, and the contractor now figures that he can go ahead with his work unimpeded by the weather. The inside finishing work on the two buildings will take about two weeks.

W. Deary is collecting the necessary material to commence fishing in the river as soon as the first rains start the fall run of salmon. The fish will be salted in tierces and hauled to Port Orford for shipment. The Macleay Estate company has the fishing privileges this stream and the work is being done for them.

Geo. Mayer, of Gold Beach, who has lately been helping Geo. Dunn build his big dairy barn at Euchre creek, was in town over Saturday night while on his way to Bandon to meet Mrs. Mayer and two children, who had been away on a visit. He was traveling with W. J. Whitworth in the latter's Ford, and Sunday they ran up to Bandon and home the same day.

School will start at Port Orford one week from next Monday, Oct. 4th, with Prof. A. S. Johnston as principal and Mrs. Mary Keefer as assistant. Both of these teachers have had considerable experience with marked success, and if the parents of the district will do their part by starting their children the first day and keeping them going, the coming school term is sure to be a successful and profitable one.

Will White passed down the coast the first of the week with a band of sheep purchased in Northern Curry and being driven to Eureka of Isham Walker, the veteran stockman. The band will be increased as it goes south until it will number over 2000 when it crosses into California. It is understood that $1000 was offered for a steamer to stop at Port Orford and take the sheep to Eureka by water, but the offer was not accepted.

Several "tie hacks" have bought some cedar timber from the government on Middle Elk, and have established a camp there and started into tie making business. They purpose to run their ties down the river to the bridge and then haul them by a team to town. To do this they will have to drive the stream for about 8 miles and as a part of it is very rough, some of it being through a deep canon, considerable speculation is rife as to whether or not it can be successfully done.

A. H. Boine has been taking a rest from tie hauling since Monday nursing several sore spots as the result of a bad fall from his wagon. He was on top of a load binding it fast when the chain he was pulling on gave way and he fell backwards to the ground. A small log struck him near the small of his back which left him pretty sore, but he feels that he was fortunate in escaping without more serious injury.

51 lb Salmon Hooked

Probably the largest salmon ever caught in the Siuslaw with a rod and line was hooked by Mrs. E. J. Emmons last Sunday a short distance below Acme.

It was Chinook measuring 47 inches in length and weighing 51½ pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Emmons reside in Atlantic City, New Jersey, but are on a pleasure trip through the western part of the country. They came to Florence nearly two months ago, intending to remain three or four days but found fishing and hunting so good that they are still here enjoying the sport.

They were out in a boat last Sunday, accompanied by L. A. Smith, and hooked the big fish in the river near the old Hurd creamery. The big Chinook made a game fight for its life and the boat drifted up stream nearly to Acme before the fish could be gaffed and pulled aboard.—The West

GOLD BEACH GOSSIP

(From the Gold Beach Globe)

The run of fall fish so far has been rather limited. Altho the seine has been running regularly the catches have been light. The price paid for silver sides is 15 cts. for those caught in gill nets and five cents for those caught in the seine Chinooks twenty-five cents.

A portion of the building material for the new store has been received and the balance is expected on the next arrival of the Roamer when the construction of the building will be commenced at once.

Charley Doyle in his auto started Sunday morning for Roseburg with a load of local people consisting of Mrs. A. S. Millre and daughter Gladys, Mrs. Blake and Fred Caughell. Miss Gladys will attend school at Roseburg this winter. Mrs. Blake is on her road to Portland to spend the winter with her son Fred and Fred Caughell is going to Portland for medical treatment.

A. G. Walker arrived on schedule time last evening with the mail in his new auto-bus. Mr. Walker is well satisfied with his car and thinks he can run it a good part of the winter.

Mrs. E. B. Thrift and two daughters of Langlois have been visiting with old time friends and relatives in this locality. This was Mrs. Thrift's first visit to her girlhood home in many years.

S. P. Merrill the Euchre Creek cheese maker was doing business at the county seat yesterday. He says the dry weather has caused the cows in that neighborhood to shrink so in their milk that it is likely the factory will close down before long.

The Wedderburn Trading Company have completed plans for a wharf and warehouse on this side of the river. The old cement hatchery tank just below the Mill rock will be made the foundation for the new improvement. At this place there is deep water at any stage of the tide and is about the only place where a wharf could be made to stand. This is a needed improvement and will fill a long felt want.

A marriage license was issued last week to Raymond Capps and Miss Ada Bailey of Denmark and Langlois respectively. We learn that the young people will go to Marshfield and just prior to a boat sailing for San Francisco have the ceremony performed and take in the fair on their honeymoon journey. The young people are highly esteemed by all that know them.

Coos Bay is to have a big Bridge Co. val at N. C. Bend Oct. 5th and 6th to celebrate the building of the $1,000,000 railroad bridge across the bay. The bridge will be an auto racing one among the amusements offered and it is also planned to hold off the return wrestling match between M. G. Lacey and Geo. Lacey at that time. It is understood that the road will be completed and auto racing from Eugene to Bandon held by May 1, 1915.

Supt. Miller of the S. P. office at Marshfield denies that the Breakwater has been sold.
