

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT
of the State of Oregon, in and for the County of Coos

Geo. R. Hancock, Plaintiff, vs Violet Hancock, Defendant.
Summons
To Violet Hancock, the above named defendant:

IN THE NAME OF THE STATE OF OREGON

You are hereby notified that you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled court and cause within six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons, to-wit: within six weeks from the 28th day of December, 1915, and if you fail so to appear and answer on or before the first day of February, 1916, that date being the last day of the time prescribed in the order of publication, the plaintiff, for want thereof will take judgment and decree against you for the relief demanded in this complaint, a succinct statement of which is as follows: That the marriage heretofore existing between you and the plaintiff may be dissolved; that the plaintiff be given the future care and custody of the parties' minor children, namely, Vera Hancock, and Howard Hancock, and the defendant be given the future care and custody of the minor child Wain Hancock.

Service of this summons is made by publication thereof, in pursuance of and order made by Hon. John S. Coke, Circuit Judge of the State of Oregon for Coos County, dated the 20th day of December, 1915, directing that service thereof be made by publication in the Bandon Recorder, a weekly newspaper published in Bandon, Coos County, Oregon, once a week for a period of six weeks, commencing with the issue of December 28th, 1915 and ending with the issue of February 1st, 1916.

Bandon Holds Stage
In the Circuit Court

The December session of the Circuit Court expired quietly last Thursday. It was a special term convened on Monday to close up such cases as were ready, for trial and after trying and convicting two criminals on Monday civil matters were taken up, and only Bandon was on hand with any business. The first case was Leach Brothers of Lexington Oregon against C. E. Langley and wife of Bandon on a promissory note, and the defendants alleged that the note had been paid by the previous execution and delivery of a lease to certain lands in Morrow county. The jury found in favor of the defendants. The action was prosecuted by C. E. Woodson of Hepner, and Geo. P. Topping of Bandon, and was defended by C. R. Wade of Bandon. The plaintiffs have asked for time in which to prepare an appeal. Following the Leach-Langley case, a jury was called to try the case of J. L. Kronenberg v C. W. Ashton to recover on an account stated for approximately $1400, being the balance due after closing an old running account involving several thousand dollars for oil. Plaintiff was represented by Chatburn & Gardner, with C. R. Wade as associate counsel, and Mr. Ashton was defended by G. T. Treadgold, who defended on the ground that the account was not stated, for the reason that Mr. Ashton had always claimed a credit of $962, and not allowed by plaintiff, and therefore, being no agreement between them; the account was not stated. The jury found the account to be stated, and allowed the special rate of 8 per cent claimed by plaintiff and brought in a verdict for $1381., and the defendant has given notice of appeal. Immediately thereafter the case of the Coquille Tug boat Company against the Bandon Construction Co., was brought, Geo. P. Topping appearing for plaintiff and G. T. Treadgold for the defendant. A jury was duly empaneled, evidence submitted and under the direction of the Court a verdict rendered for plaintiff. This case involved the loss of the barge J. L., which was towed by the Tug Klyham to Chetco, and was lost. Thereupon Court adjourned. Judge Coke will go about February 19th to Roseburg to hold Court, and Judge Hamilton of Roseburg, will come to Coquille in April to hold the Coos County term.

All Wrong

The Mistake is Made by Many Bandon Citizens

Look for the cause of backache. To be cured you must know the cause.

If it's weak kidneys You must set the kidneys to working right.

A resident of this vicinity shows you how. Mrs. Bisbey had, Foster-Milburn John McCallister, Route 4, New Hope, Oregon, says: "I had pains in the small of my back and sharp twinges when stooping or lifting. My back ached at night and was lame in the morning. I tired easily and was languid and nervous. I had headaches and dizzy spells. The kidney secretions contained sediment and were too frequent in passage, causing me to get up in the night. I used Doan's Kidney pills and they soon relieved me."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. McCallister had. Foster-Milburn & Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

RECIPE FOR GRAY HAIR.

To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the desired shade. Any draught can put this up if you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Barbo Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded, gray hair and restore darkness. It is a great aid for falling hair and will make hair grow soft and pliant. It will not only keep the hair from falling out, but also keep it from becoming thin.

Recorder
Ruminations

When it comes to dealing with the income tax the article from a recent Oregonian on another page reads like the populist utterances of Sockless Jerry Simpson used to read which may be taken as another proof of the oft repeated assertion that the world is gradually drifting toward socialism. The European war will help in the collection of the income tax for the millionaire patriot can no longer escape taxation by going to Europe. Europe will not allow anybody to escape taxation for some years to come.

There is one consolation in losing a county debating contest—it is less expensive to lose than to win.

"What is in it?" queries the Coquille Herald relative to hard cider found on sale in some of the refreshment parlors of that place. Chemist J. Lee Brown answered the question and announced after an examination that the stuff contained from three to four per cent alcohol. One half of one per cent is the legal amount allowed. The sheriff was communicated with in regard to the matter and told to arrest the dealers; including Albert Johnson of the Coquille Soda Works, C. A. Machon, Hark Dunham, and Mr. Shores.

The announcement of Engineer Hoey appears in some measure to justify the suspicions that a gentleman named Tichenor has been known to voice in the past.

Some of the people who live on the hill back of the old school house appear to have the notion that when Oregon avenue is cut through the only way they will have of getting to sea level is by descending a ladder or by learning to jump.

Encountering a snow storm in Bandon is like entertaining one of that variety of friends who make you twice glad—when they come and when they go.

The snow created a diversion among our amateur photographers and gave them something else to snap besides the beach.

Allow us to introduce this week to Recorder readers, Mr. Artichoke Hesselgrave who has taken due notice of the activities of Mr. Henry Podgewalter relative to the diminishing of Bandon's stock of roving cats and has determined to throw a stick in the spokes of said scheme. Mr. Podgewalter had interested J. Alex Kennedy in the manufacture of his machine and now through Attorney Gardner Mr. Hesselgrave will ask of the circuit court, an injunction preventing Mr. Kennedy from undertaking the work.

Mr. Hesselgrave rests his determined opposition to the scheme on three essential points: First—humanitarian second—economic; third—civic.

Firstly the idea of violence is repulsive. While Mr. Podgewalter's scheme of a cast iron cat as an annihilator may prove effective. Mr. Hesselgrave shudders to think of the unnecessary torture and suffering it would cause.

Secondly; from the standpoint of economics the thing is absurd. While some debased and thoughtless people might be induced to pay admission fees to see the cast iron cat in action, this revenue would be smothered in the sum that could be obtained were the hides and fiddle strings preserved for marketable purposes, instead of torn to bits in the process of destruction.

Thirdly; Mr. Hesselgrave advances the rather astonishing assertion that its roving cats are a civic asset to Bandon. He has become so used to dropping to sleep with the wailing of a dyspeptic gentleman cat ringing in his ears that he knows he would miss the absence of the music very much.

The attorney is at present working up a brief on the subject and it is expected to be an unusual document.

Two Chatburn Names On School Orator Cup

Miss Belle Chatburn Wins Honors For 1916 in the Contest Last Wednesday

One of the former classes of the Bandon high school by some twist of circumstances found itself in possession to a small sum of money and decided to devote it to encouraging oratorical talent among the students of the school who were to follow. A cup was purchased and presented and the rule laid down was that the winner of each year was to have his name engraved thereon. Perhaps we should have said her name because of the four names which have qualified for this honor three of them are young ladies. Another curious thing is that two of the four are Chatburns.

Miss Kate Chatburn was the first to win the honor and Miss Belle Chatburn the last. The other two names on the cup are Jack Kronenberg and Fern DeLong.

Miss Belle Chatburn was given the honor for the present year on a close but decisive verdict at the high school building last Wednesday morning. She had her address well in hand and delivered it in an manner to hold the close attention of all. Harold Johnson gave her a close race, having his portion of the argument well built up and delivered forcibly. Miss Helen Thornton also had a good argument and delivered it very effectively. Dick Crain the remaining speaker, brought out many strong points in his talk, although being a late entry into the contest he had not acquired the familiarity with his discourse that he might otherwise have done.

The judges were Miss Amelia Henry Dr. S. C. Endicott and R. B. Swenson. The topic of the debate was the same as that presented Friday night the even being in the nature of a dress rehearsal. On the merits of the debate the decision was for the negative.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for County Commissioner of Coos County on the Republican ticket in the May Primaries.

News of Earlier Days

From the Recorder twenty years ago

Dame rumor says there is to be a wedding in the near future.

Fred Thomas is breaking Col. Rosas team of mules to the single line.

It was reported a new hardware store would soon be opened in Bandon

The lighthouse was about completed, the trial of the fog horn took place last Monday.

The life saving boys deserve credit for faithful work in trying to save the Lila & Mattie.

John Gross was surgeon of the Bandon G. A. R. post.

Captain J. Parker was called by business to San Francisco during the week.

The debate on the lyceum on the question "Resolved: that woman can not keep a secret" was unusually interesting. Despite the fact that everybody knows she can not keep a secret the judges solemnly decided that she could. The debaters were Miss Sumner, Miss Long, John Baldwin and Ralph Hunt. The girls handled the subject without gloves, going back to the time of Adam and Eve and kept the audience laughing the whole time.

Several Bandon young people have been reading of Alaska and had the gold fever bad but the editor thought that the gold cure was what they were in need of.

Bob Bedillion was expecting a visit from a lady friend from California and the reporter was suspecting several things.

The voters of the school district made a levy of six mills on the dollar which was expected to clear the district of debt except the $3,000 bonds for the building of the new school house.

Review

"Little Pal" provides Mary Pickford, the unrivaled favorite of the screen, with one of the most unique roles in which she has ever been presented. The photoplay is one of primitive emotions and primal passions, and evidences a hitherto unsuspected aspect of Mary Pickford's astounding versatility. Unfamiliar with the customs of modernity and remote from all the influences which have fashioned our present civilization, "Little Pal" recognizes no other force than the dominant love which develops within her for the one man who has practiced justice toward her. Through a series of thrilling sacrifices she proves her loyalty and devotion to him and when she has at last secured his happiness requests no other reward from him or fate.

Mary Pickford invests this extraordinary characterization with all the power and charm for which she is universally celebrated.

Dr. Rameau's Realism

"Dr. Rameau" Frederick Perry's Expensive Realism

Director Will S. Davis, who produced "Dr. Rameau" the recent William Fox photodramatic success, found to his cost that the highly emotional actor is sometimes an expensive asset.

When Mr. Davis was discussing the cast for "Dr. Rameau" with Mr. Fox before the work on the production had commenced, Mr. Fox told him to procure the best emotional male actor in the country. Mr. Frederick Perry, then starring in the famous Broadway success "On Trial" was obtained for the part and Mr. Davis congratulated himself upon the acquisition.

In one of the dramatic scenes of this production, when Dr. Rameau (Mr. Perry) discovers that the child whom he had thought was his own was really the daughter of another, he becomes unbalanced. He drives the daughter from the house into a blinding rain-storm. The girl becomes seriously ill and his friends persuade him to treat her. During all this time the thought of the wife's unfaithfulness has been preying on his mind and the further mention of the child makes him a veritable madman. He stalks up and down the set, and finally in a rage picks up a chair and commenced breaking the expensive furniture in the set.

Director Davis, in estimating the cost of this production had not reckoned on an expense of approximately $5000 for breakage of furniture but he felt well repaid by the thrillingly realistic action of Mr. Perry.

See this superb Fox Feature at the Grand Theater next Friday, February 4th.
