

Chas Shepherd was in from Brewster Valley yesterday. He informs us that during the snow storms this winter quite a number of deer were found dead out in the valley. He thinks that a great number of them must have died back further in the hills. Those that were found were near the road and one was found in Mr. Shepherd's pasture near his house. The deer were very thin and the supposition is that they starved to death as there was several inches of snow and feed was very scarce at that time. This is not very encouraging news to W. C. Rose as Mr. Shepherd is living on Rose's game preserve and he fears that many big bucks on the place died.—Coquille Herald.

If the parties who have recently entered the editor's residence a couple of times during the absence of the family, without doing any harm will kindly let us know when they are coming again, we will leave a door unlocked for their convenience.—Coquille Herald.

State Senator I. S. Smith has announced his candidacy on the Republican ticket to succeed himself. One of his planks will be "to enact a law protecting vessels and cargo from piracy" having direct reference to the condition existing on Coos Bay when the steamship Santa Clara went ashore and the cargo was looted by pirates.

Coming Moving Picture Attractions

Big Fox Feature "The Little Gypsy"

The Little Gypsy is a drama of heart appeal and moving human interest. Starred in it is the most delightful and dainty of all dramatic stars, Dorothy Bernard, already a beloved favorite of patrons of the William Fox photodramatic features. "The Little Gypsy" tells the love story of a girl of Romany blood, but gentle breeding, for a man whose being appeals to her even to the sacrifice of her highest hopes and ambitions. Screened with the lavishness that marks all the William Fox productions The Little Gypsy contains scenes that transcend anything hitherto beheld in the realms of motion picture drama. Among the rugged heather grown hills of old Scotland, The Little Gypsy lives out her romance and ultimately attains the happiness for which she has long striven. She defies convention but in so doing satisfies the longing of her heart. Altogether, a masterpiece of photodramatic craftsmanship.

See it at the Grand Theater next Friday, March 24.

Neal of the Navy "The Gun Runners"

Having been deprived of her inheritance—the riches of Lost Isle—by the smuggler Hernandez, Annette Ilington determines to proceed to Santa Maria, lower California, in search of the original grant. She sends a letter to Fathers of the Santa Maria Mission, explaining her claim, and enclosing her photograph. Inez Castro gets hold of the letter, and substitutes her own photograph for Annette's rewriting the letter. The Hardin party start for the south, but stop off at Dolores, where Hernandez, Ponto and their strange brute man servant are consummating a deal to provide the revolutionists with arms. Neal Hardin, now a gunner, sent with his mates to protect American interests in Dolores, does not know either Annette's or Hernandez' whereabouts. When Hernandez learns from Inez that the Hardin party is in Dolores he incites the revolutionists to pillage their home, and kidnap the American women. An attack is made, and while it rages a faithful black is sent to the U. S. Sailors, for succor. The sailors led by gunner Hardin rout the revolutionists, but not in time to save Annette and Mrs. Hardin, who, with Neal are captured and thrown into prison. The next episode will deal startlingly with their escape, and is called "The Sun Worshippers."

This picture will be shown at the Grand, Wednesday, March 22nd.

John McKenzie has been seriously sick for the past week with pneumonia. Dr. Mann was called from Bandon, and his sister Ena, who is matron of the Emergency hospital at Bandon, also came down to nurse her brother. Mr. McKenzie is resting quite easy at this time although the turning point in the disease has not been passed.—Port Orford Tribune.

S. J. Spoerl spent a couple of days in town last week, shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Spoerl for the past several years has been employed by the government as a Forest Ranger but has now decided to give up this position and reside in the future at the E. J. Baker home near Corbin. "Steve" who is an ardent baseball fan and one of the best all round men that ever played in this county, says that he will help the Port Orford boys out this summer which means a team that should be able to make a good showing against some of the teams from the larger Coos county towns.—Port Orford Tribune.

The boys of this vicinity are now organizing a ball team with the full determination of not only bringing home to Gold Beach but Curry county before the season is over, after cleaning up Agness, Langlois, Port Orford

J. Rufus Wallingford in "The Bang Sun Engine"

Dana T. Morley is the next man selected to be "rooked" of his hard earned cash. He was a member of the clique of unscrupulous financiers who ruined old man Warden, and J. Rufus and Blackie have promised the Warden girls that they will help in getting it back.

One Edward Bang, inventor of a sun engine, is deep in debt to Morley, and it is through him that the confidence men get at their quarry and lead him to slaughter. Everything is worked in unison and harmony and friend Morley falls hard. He is led to believe that the confidence men contemplate building a large factory to produce these sun engines and that there is no limit to the money that is to be made. Wallingford and his henchmen have a "row" and the Warden girls say they will sell their option on the whole "shooting-match" for several hundred thousand dollars Morley snaps it up, figuring on selling it to Wallingford, knowing that J. Rufus wants it.

They give him the options, all right but when he goes after the genial Wallingford, that worthy offers exactly thirty cents for the whole thing. "Stung," says Morley. "Who's next on the list?" says the "con" men.

He is landed in the next episode. Don't miss this picture at the Grand Theater, Wednesday, March 22nd.

Sam Bernard, Laugh Producer at the Grand, next Thursday... Celebrated Comedian Makes Screen Debut in a Typical Characterization, "Poor Schmaltz."

Sam Bernard the impressive king of comedy, whom the Famous Players Film Co. induced to present his unequalled mirth-provoking talents on the screen, makes his first appearance before the motion picture public, in a four-part film travesty, entitled "Poor Schmaltz."

This great comedian in his first film impersonation, introduces a new type of comedy to the screen. As "Poor Schmaltz" he renders one of the most laughable characterizations of his brilliant career as the foremost exponent of eccentric comedy on the American stage. As the persecuted and persistent wooer of an American heiress, he presents one of the most humorous spectacles ever seen on the screen, and "Poor Schmaltz" may truly be termed Sam Bernard in Dutch.

It requires four hilarious reels to complete Poor Schmaltz's distressing but execrably funny adventures on the screen and the humor grows until one is well-nigh exhausted with laughter.

The Famous Players Film Company has selected "Poor Schmaltz" as the title of Mr. Bernard's first screen impersonation because that was the character-name borne by the illustrious comedian in his greatest stage successes.

"Poor Schmaltz" was designed for laughing purposes only, and in this direction it succeeds howlingly. This great comedy attraction may be termed the most pretentious humorous feature ever presented on the screen, and will be seen at the Grand Theater Thursday, March 23rd.

and Brookings, it will invade Coos county and if the season is long enough it will go through Douglas county, down through the Willamette Valley and add the scalp of Multnomah county to its belt. So if you (our surrounding neighbors) don't want such honors to fall to Gold Beach, take a tip from the Globe and get ready to play ball.—Gold Beach Globe.

Deputy Sheriff J. G. Russell of Langlois came to the County Seat last evening having in charge Captain C. H. Whitney, who was committed to the county jail for a ninety days sentence by Justice of the Peace A. Adolphsen on a charge of wife beating. Some two months ago this charge was brought against Mr. Whitney by his wife and the above sentence was pronounced but he was paroled by the judge pending good behavior. Another ripple of domestic trouble came to the Whitney home a few days ago which compelled the truant husband to change his boarding house for a time as above stated.—Gold Beach Globe.

P. M. Littler, our genial hard ware merchant met with an accident a few days ago which has since confined him to his bed. His horses took a trip to Jerry's Flat for a vacation, and Mr. Littler borrowed Frank Coughlin's horse to ride after them. In going off the flat into the new road near Sanders creek the horse lost his footing and fell and rolled over Mr. Littler's lower limbs, badly wrenching and bruising one knee. The horse went some distance and stopped, and Mr. Littler with great effort, fir limbs and stimulating language managed to reach his horse and ride home.—Gold Beach Globe.

Tuxedo's Grip by Walt Mason

Tuxedo is the gripping smoke, a boon to every buyer; you take your pipe of English oak, of meerschaum, clay or briar, and fill it with the fragrant weed, the choicest man can gather; and then you have a smoke, indeed; and are you glad? Well, rather. Tuxedo has no kick or bite, suggests no "morning after;" its mission is to bring delight, and fill your heart with laughter.

It caught the sunshine of the south, when it was green and growing, and brings that sunshine to your mouth, when out the smoke you're blowing. "Tuxedo's in a class alone," its smokers are declaring; "it has a fragrance all its own, that baffles all comparing." And thus it grips the men who smoke, and holds their true affection; their trusty briar pipes they stoke, and never know dejection.
